CITY IS TO BUY BIG PUMPING ENGINE FOR FIRE DEPT.

Formal Approval of Mayor Given to Requisition Made Two Months Ago by Chief Saunders—Purchasing Agent Authorized to Buy for Immediate Delivery

Purchasing Agent Edward J. Donnelly today received from the mayor's office an approved requisition for a triple combination pumping engine for the fire department, same to have a pumping capacity of 1000 gallons per minute and to be driven by a 6-cylinder motor with piston pump and booster. The requisition was presented by Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders and is dated Aug. 13, and calls for immediate delivery. The date of approval is Oct. 4. Purchasing Agent Donnelly will probably advertise a call for bids tomorrow. Since the disastrous Associate building fire of several months ago there has been an agitation for the purchase of a 1000-gallon pump. Pumps with this capacity have been

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE STARTS GAME

Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States, throws out the ball for the start of the first game of the world series between the Washington American league team and the New York National league team. This was the first world series game ever played in the national capital. Speaker Gillette is seated in the box and Buck Harris, manager of the Washingtons is there in uniform. The lady in white is Mrs. Coolidge who seems to be enjoying immensely Cal's pitching form.

With Count Even, Scene of World Series Shifts to Polo Grounds, Home of New York Giants

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The Washington Senators invaded the stronghold of the New York Giants here this afternoon intent on smiting the proud champions of the National league, hip and thigh, and making them like it. The brilliant victory of the American leaguers yesterday at the national capital has made them a host of friends in the alien Polo grounds, and today though each club has captured a game in the world's series struggle, New Yorkers have made the Washington club a favorite in the betting.

Some forty-five thousand spectators swarmed into the concrete reaches of the historic ball yard this afternoon to cheer the Senators and the Giants. Another clear and warm day was furnished for the sport and the groundkeepers had the inner and outer gardens of the playing field in fine condition.

Great Crowd at Game
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Early arrivals at the ticket windows of the Polo Grounds today indicated that the 45,000 attendance forecast by the dopsters would be exceeded before the Senators and Giants take the field for the third game of the world series. Threatening clouds seem to be no deterrent to the hundreds of dyed-in-the-wool fans, whose all night vigil had been made passably endurable by the mild temperature.

Pick Washingtons to Win
As the early birds flocked about the turnstiles to be in position to get the choicest of the 20,000 unreserved seats in the upper tier of the grandstand and the 4000 bleacher benches, Washington was favored by odds of 5 to 3 to win today's game and by a margin of 11 to 10 to capture the series. The bleacher line was built around a nucleus of five out-of-town fans at the Eighth avenue entrance, who had taken their seats at 10 o'clock last night. Joseph A. Folby, a school

Junior U. S. Senator Holds Enthusiastic Audience Spellbound, Scoring Coolidge, Gillette, and Republican Party Record—Talks Again Tonight at Liberty Hall

United States Senator David I. Walsh held 5000 men and women voters spellbound for a full half hour in front of city hall this noon, while he exposed the record of the present republican administration in Washington, denounced his opponent as a tool of the interests and champion of predatory wealth, and reviewed in a honest, straightforward manner his own record of accomplishment and performance for his constituency. He was greeted with cheers when introduced by James E. Markham and time and again in the course of his magnificent speech was obliged to halt until the spontaneous and continuous outbursts of wild applause subsided.

"I ask you not to elect me because I'm David I. Walsh. ## Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 18

Suddenly Jack felt himself being lifted upwards. "I guess our rhinoceros has reached shallow water," said the captain. And sure enough, the animal walked right up on the shores of Elephant Island. As soon as Jack and the captain slid off the animal's back, it went back into the water.

"Wonder where he's going now?" said Jack. "And I also wonder how Flip, Flop and the rest of the party are going to get over here." And while he and the captain watched the rhinoceros, they heard a loud noise just back of them. It came from a deep forest.

"What was that?" whispered Jack. "Sounds to me like an elephant—or maybe several of them," replied the captain. Then the old man suggested that they climb a tree for safety's sake until the rest of the party reached the island. Jack thought it a good idea. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

SO THE TWINS JUMPED ON BEHIND SNOOZLE, WHO SAID "GIDDAP!" AND THE WHITE NIGHT-MARE BOUNDED OFF OVER THE MILKY WAY IN THE DIRECTION OF MARS.

Nancy and Nick went around and turned all the town clocks back an hour. And the sand man went to the moon and asked the moon man to hold the moon back an hour. All because they needed a few more minutes till bedtime, Tweeknose having stolen the magic sand again and made off with it. The sand man was quite pleased when Mister Peerbout, the moon man, said quite obligingly, "Certainly, sir! Anything to oblige you, sir, and put his foot on the brake to keep the moon from going quite so fast. Then looking at his speedometer, Mr. Peerbout said, "The moon is now going only five thousand miles an hour. We will be an hour late to-night."

"Thank you kindly," said the sand man. "If the twins come, please tell them that I have been to the dream maker man at the edge of the golden forest on the ice mountain. The dream maker man has broken out anew with the declaration by Professor T. F. Wall of the electrical research department of the University of Sheffield, that he believes he will be able soon to break up the atom and control its energy."

In a work of such importance, Professor Wall explains, one has to proceed with the greatest caution and progress is necessarily slow. The experiments he is now trying result in the release of atomic energy, the question of the possibility of directing such energy in any desired way would become of supreme importance, he added.

Professor A. M. Low, famous scientist, commenting on the attempt to release atomic energy, said: "It is a thing that is not impossible, but it strikes me as being not a little way in advance of human knowledge as it stands at present."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—President Coolidge went to his desk today refreshed by a week-end cruise on the presidential yacht, Mayflower. The trip, on which the President and Mrs. Coolidge were accompanied by a few intimate friends, including Speaker Gillett, of the house, was extended to a run of about twenty miles outside the Virginia Capes yesterday, the yacht heading back into Chesapeake Bay late in the afternoon.

BARNEY OLDFIELD HELD

Arrested for Driving Auto While Drunk—Was Going 87 Miles an Hour

CALEXICO, Calif., Oct. 6.—Barney Oldfield, veteran automobile race driver, was at liberty under $500 bonds today pending arraignment in police court on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. According to the arresting officer, Oldfield was going 87 miles an hour between Calexico and El Centro late last night. Three motorcyclists officers attempted to overtake the racing driver, but only one was successful. The other two caught up with the procession and helped turn Oldfield over to the city health officer, who pronounced him intoxicated and jugged him on to the Calexico police.

FOUND BODY OF MISSING MAN IN CEMETERY

The body of Michael M. Kane, who was missing from his home, 84 South Highland street, for nearly six weeks, was found yesterday afternoon in a secluded spot in the Lowell cemetery by a group of boys. The body was badly decomposed and it is believed that death occurred shortly after his disappearance from home. Death, according to Medical Examiner Marshall A. Alling, was evidently due to natural causes.

Boys playing in the cemetery found the body about 40 feet from the boundary line on the Fort Hill park side. They notified Officer John J. McNamee, who, after viewing the body, notified police headquarters and Medical Examiner Alling.

Partial identification was made from clothing on the body and complete identification was made by relatives. The man's disappearance had been reported, caused no concern as he was in the habit of leaving the city for work and would often remain away for weeks.

Mr. Kane was aged 34 years, and is survived by one brother, Joseph; one sister, Mrs. Bridget Heffernan; and one daughter, Miss Rosalie Kane. The body was removed to the funeral home of M. H. McDonough Sons at 14 Highland street.

LECTURE TOMORROW AT HIGH SCHOOL

The first lecture in the Harvard-Boston university extension course for teachers will be given here tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in room 137 of the high school by Professor Bancroft Bentley of the Harvard Graduate School of Education. The subject of the lecture will be "Principles of Teaching in Junior and Senior High Schools."

The course is given in this city under the auspices of the Lowell Teachers' Organization and is open to teachers of this city and surrounding towns. The course embraces a series of 15 lectures, for which a nominal fee will be charged.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

RIALTO THEATRE

To regular patrons of the moving picture theatres there can be no doubt as to the value of music in the motion picture and the value of the former to the latter. That is just the reason why all Rialto pictures are the success they usually turn out to be. Anyone will tell you that the music score of both "The Birth of a Nation" and "Way Down East" increased the value of the pictures at least 50 per cent. And this is all due to perfect synchronization—that is—that the music is timed to fit the picture right to the second! And no picture can be a decided hit without the proper music! It is a well known fact that good music can make a good picture great and can make a mediocre picture good.

So, in keeping with their custom of giving local theatregoers not only the most of their money, but also giving them anything that may help them in seeking real entertainment, the Rialto management has secured the services of Mr. John Kehoe, a local boy, who is rapidly making a name for himself in musical circles. Mr. Kehoe is a splendid organist and he is already making a big hit on the Rialto Wurlitzer organ. He plays both afternoon and evening.

At the evening performances there are two additional players, Miss Breen, violinist, and Mr. Joseph Ginty, clarinet and saxophone player. Miss Breen is formerly of Fadette's ladies' orchestra of Boston, where she played first violin and she has many friends here, while Mr. Ginty is late of the famous Six Brown Brothers.

The trio have already won the plaudits of local movie goers for the manner in which they interpreted "Judgment of the Storm," which was shown at the Rialto the past week.

"His Forgotten Wife" which opens at Leew's Rialto today is the third big Palmer photoplay, the first two are the n'er to be forgotten pictures, "The White Sin" and "Judgment of the Storm," both of which packed the Rialto to capacity when they were shown. "His Forgotten Wife" is said to be equal to those two big successes.

Two women and a man, and they

ARMISTICE DAY, NOV. 11 DAWES OFF ON LONG SPEAKING TOUR

"Mobilization Day for World Justice and World Peace" To Be Observed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Responses received from church pastors and communities to the call of the federal council of churches for observance of Armistice day, Nov. 11, as "mobilization day for world justice and world peace," indicate wide co-operation in the movement, it was announced today by Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, secretary of the council's commission on international justice and good will. Entire communities will take part in the observance, he said, and city church federations are making extensive plans to give it the significance and meaning sought.

Leaving on a special train early this morning, he began a trip that will take him into Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming, Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio and Illinois and will last about 11 days.

Reports of republican national headquarters here have told of pronounced La Follette sentiment in certain sections of these states and the tour today was planned by republican campaign managers with a view to countering it.

The route crosses and recrosses the trail of Senator Wheeler, Senator La Follette's running mate, and tonight the republican nominee will speak in Duluth, Minn., where his independent opponent spoke about ten days ago.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

Feast of the Holy Rosary Observed Yesterday With Special Services

Yesterday the feast of the Holy Rosary was observed in all the Catholic churches of the city with special services in the evening. Saturday next will be the feast of the Blessed Virgin and in nearly every church masses will be sung at 8 o'clock. Holy Rosary devotions will be held in the churches every evening during the week and will continue through the month.

Last evening at 8 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception church a procession was held in honor of the feast of the Holy Rosary. The Holy Angel and the Holy Rosary societies participated in the procession. The Holy Rosary society received holy communion at the 8 o'clock mass yesterday morning.

On Friday afternoon at St. Patrick's church there will be confessions for the boys of the parish on Saturday morning at 7:45 o'clock a special mass will be celebrated for the communicants. Holy Hour devotions will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Holy Name society and the members of the C.N.M. will receive holy communion at the 8:30 o'clock mass next Sunday. Meetings of the Married Ladies' sodality and the Immaculate Conception sodality will be omitted during the month.

The Blessed Virgin sodality of St. Rita's church received holy communion at the 7 o'clock mass yesterday morning. A meeting of the sodality will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The forty hours devotion will be held, beginning Friday morning at 7:30 o'clock, at which time a high mass will be celebrated. A solemn high mass will be sung at 11 o'clock next Sunday will bring the devotion to its close. The Holy Name society will receive holy communion at the 7 o'clock mass next Sunday.

A meeting of St. Peter's Cadets will be held tomorrow evening at which all companies will report to the Major. The Ladies' sodality will meet Wednesday evening after the rosary devotions. A meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality will be held Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The Holy Name society will receive communion next Sunday. The prize drill of St. Peter's Cadets will be held a week from tomorrow in the Cadet room.

The Holy Rosary society of St. Michael's parish received communion at the 8 o'clock mass yesterday morning. A procession in honor of the feast of the Holy Rosary, which will be also celebrated tomorrow, was held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and was followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. ## Rheumatic Pains Go Swollen Joints Vanish

Twisted, swollen, unsightly joints are rapidly freed from pain and brought back to normal with Rheuma. Lame people walk without aid; sleep comes to those who have been unable to lie in bed; hands that were helpless because of terrible rheumatism are now able to do their share for the support of the family.

Rheuma is a wonderful remedy for rheumatism, gout, neuritis, lumbago and neuralgia.

It is a wonder-worker; it never falters, never gives up until every vestige of poison is expelled from the body. Rheuma acts on stomach, liver, kidneys and bladder. It attacks and quickly brings long prayed for comfort to distressed sufferers. Green's Drug Store and all good druggists sell it with guarantee of money back if it isn't satisfactory.—Adv.

GIRL SCOUTS GIVE RALLY DAY PROGRAM

The Girl Scouts of the First Congregational church gave an entertaining program last evening in observance of Rally Day. The program which was to bring before the members of the church the scope of work being done by the Girl Scouts was most interesting and was attended by a large audience. The entertainment was brought to a close by the sounding of "Taps" by Miss Ruth Burrage of Reading, champion Girl Scout bugler of Massachusetts in 1922 and 1923.

The cast of characters in last evening's program was as follows: "Gwendolyn" Cook as the "Spirit of Chivalry"; the Misses Ruby Cockerline, Ruth Morse and Ruth Ball as the "Knights of Charlemagne"; the Misses Mildred Combs, Ruth Reaser and Pauline Bonnell as the "Knights of King Arthur's Round Table"; the Misses Oreta Russell, Edith Pulester and Edith Gilman as the "Knights of Robin Hood." The exemplification of the Girl Scout principle was given under the direction of Capt. Irene Kershaw and Lie. Dorothy Ell and Hazel Raymond.

Presenting the program to the pastor, Rev. Percy R. Thomas gave an inspiring sermon on "Are You Cynical?" based on the 19th chapter of the first book of Kings, "What Doeth Thou Here, Elijah?"

RALLY DAY CELEBRATION
An excellent program was given at the Lawrence Street Primitive Methodist church yesterday, in celebration of rally day. An appropriate address was delivered at the morning service by the pastor of the church and in the evening a concert was given under direction of Misses Marion Morris, Irene Teal and Elizabeth Richards.

THREE INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

An automobile collision on the Pawtucket boulevard at 9 o'clock last evening, resulted in three persons receiving minor injuries and both machines involved being badly damaged. The accident occurred near the pumping station when Marcel Lafrance of Nashua, driving a light coupe, swung onto the left side of the roadway to pass a parked machine and collided head-on with a roadster driven by Bernard J. Ready, Jr., of 43 Court street, this city.

Ready and his companion sustained minor lacerations and Lafrance suffered a painful bruise on the forehead. The machines were put out of commission by the impact and were towed to garages for repairs.

PUT AWAY THAT PESKY BUZZER

Somewhere within the confines of this city someone is using a buzzer with a radio set that is causing interference to radio broadcasts. Listeners. Every evening last week this buzzer was pounding in all over the broadcast wave-length scale and spoiled broadcast programs for many radio fans. On Friday evening the interference was very bad, and fans in the district in which the "buzzer" is located were unable to enjoy any programs. These fans are up in arms and in a communication to The Sun, one says that if the interference isn't stopped the matter will be taken up with the radio supervisor, at the custom house in Boston.

GAVE ENTERTAINMENT IN COLONIAL HALL

The members of the local Greek community greatly enjoyed a real old-fashioned puppet show in Colonial hall last evening, when Constantine Theodoropoulos of New York, Chicago, Canada and Greece kept his large audience in a state of laughter as he gave numerous sketches and songs. The difference between the show last evening and the performances given in the European countries was that the puppets were behind a screen, strong electric lights showing their profiles against the transparency. Between the acts an orchestra composed of D. Tzanes, L. Ranas and N. Zaltiras rendered numerous Greek selections which were pleasing to the ear. The affair last evening was for the benefit of the Greek church in Jefferson street and was under the direction of the following officers of the Greek community: D. Skelliaros, president; A. Anagnostopoulos, secretary; James Glavis, treasurer; M. Boukouvalas, vice president; board of directors, Harry Moulis, C. Vouragopoulos, N. Kazanas, A. Andronikopoulos, James Lichneris, Theodore Sarantis, Stephen Stephanopoulos and Theodore Gurrill.

OUT OUR WAY

SMOKY COMES UP FOR AN AIRING.

J. R. WILLIAMS
DRAWN BY H. A. SERVICE, INC.IN NEW YORK

BY STEPHEN HANNIGAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Sophisticated New York pauses to be entertained at a medicine show.

Hillited in a vacant store room on Eighth avenue, just a few steps from Times Square, the 5th degree in show places, a traveling band of snake oil and salve vendors, go through their age-old ballyhoo each afternoon and night.

And business is good.

On the walls are advertising posters and pictures. In the front window is the come-on exhibition of wild, vicious rattlesnakes, their poisonous fangs wagging as vigorously as the hawk's tongue and their constant, warning rattling drowned in an interesting speech of welcome.

In the rear of the room is an improvised stage, made of store boxes and soiled bunting. On it are the typical medicine show "props."

There is the ventriloquist's dark-complexioned dummy, from whose mechanically operated mouth flows a book of bromides that bring sure-fire cures; the magician's deck of cards, the glass of water, the moth-eaten rabbit that appears from a dented plug hat.

After the short, snappy show is completed, the "doctor" dives into his lecture on the benefits of his famous compound. Cappers work through the audience selling, selling, selling.

It may be memories of childhood in some small town, where medicine men parked their wagons and in the flickering light of a kerosene lamp extolled in glorified terms the wonders of their preparations, that brings men and women in evening dress into this quaint show in the swirl of New York—and again it may be only curiously.

But until they come.

Speeding New York steps a pace faster in the crisp, fall air. The gray cast of overhanging clouds, quelling shadows of the approaching winter, is evident in the demeanor of the crowd.

The bubbling enthusiasts and care-free antics caused by a warm, friendly summer sun are chilling in the sweeping winds that whistle through canyons of huge buildings.

New York is wistful.

There is much suffering here in the colder months.

"For two years past stomach trouble and other complications were fast wrecking my health. What little I did manage to force down made me miserable for hours and I was in constant pain. I could not rest at night and loss of sleep was simply wearing me out."

"But now I haven't a trouble in the world and feel that Tanlac has given me a new lease on good health. I eat three rousing meals a day, sleep like a child at night, and am feeling as fine as silk."

Rev. Wallace C. Sampson, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, in his sermon yesterday on "Religion and Politics," said in part:

"Religion can better be expressed at the ballot box than in the prayer meeting. The prayer meeting, I admit, is the place to receive spiritual nourishment and power but that power can be best utilized in doing our civic duty as Christian people and in a Christian way. We certainly would not want to see Baptists, or Catholics or Episcopalians or members of any sect dictating what kind of a government we should have, but if all Christian people of whatever kind did their duties as citizens of Christ's Kingdom the corruption that haunts itself in national and municipal politics would soon die. We are prone to let things go, and let the other fellow do our thinking and our voting for us."

MADE PILGRIMAGE TO CEMETERY

The annual pilgrimage to St. Joseph's cemetery by the members of the O.M.A.C. was held yesterday afternoon with about 350 members in line, including about 100 World War veterans in uniform.

The line of march was formed at the clubrooms in Pawtucket street about 1 o'clock and the procession proceeded to St. Joseph's church where, at 1:30 o'clock, a Libera was sung, Rev. Lucien Brassard, O.M.A., of Notre Dame de Lourdes church, officiating.

Following the church services the members went to St. Joseph's cemetery where, upon arrival, prayers were recited by Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.A. A Libera was then sung by members of St. Joseph's choir under the direction of Telephone Malo, after which Rev. J. Brassard, O.M.A., delivered a stirring sermon and paid a beautiful tribute to the O.M.A.C. dead. Fr. Brassard mentioned the ideals upheld by the beloved dead and asked the living to cherish the memory of their departed by banding together and continuing the work begun by the deceased members. He reminded them present that for them also the autumn of life would bring with it a call from the Master, a call which must be answered. "Just as the honored dead had answered, so must every one render account to his Maker and Redeemer," he said.

At the conclusion of the sermon Tape was sounded and the procession wended its way through the cemetery to Gorman street, where cars were boarded for the clubhouse.

The committee in charge of yesterday's pilgrimage was comprised of Louis Bolduc, chairman; Eugene Beaupre, Arthur Blodreau, Reginald Dragon and Tancred Blanchette.

Modesty Is Charming but health is vital

Growing girls should realize elimination is necessary constipation dangerous. Mothers, urge use of Dr. Caldwell's Pepsin Syrup

THE world is broadening and there is less excuse for prudery today than ever before. Parents and school teachers are helping by telling their children the fundamental facts of life.

The growing girl, therefore, who neglects the important function of elimination is living in a past age. She should realize that when days go by and there is no passage the general health is impaired, the monthly function is interfered with and fatal illness may result.

Mothers would do well to watch adolescent daughters for they, more than young boys, are prudish in this regard. Elimination should occur once a day, and if it does not, a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should be given. You will thus prevent intestinal poisoning and constipation and their train of disorders, sallow skin, pimples, lassitude, bad breath, headache and so forth.

Mrs. Jesse Maxey, 106 Third street, Aurora, Ind., and Mrs. Pat McCullough, Tampa, Fla., regularly use Syrup Pepsin in their households, and as a result their families are free from sickness.

It is not without reason that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is today the most widely used liquid laxative in the world.

over 10 million bottles being sold annually. It is mild and gentle in action and free from gripping, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics, a safe laxative from which opiates and narcotics are entirely absent.

After using Syrup Pepsin you will understand why people discard the harsher physics and cathartics, pills, powders and salt waters. Others, too, no longer give children "randy cathartics," as they contain a coal-tar drug called phenolphthalein, which may cause skin eruptions. They prefer a safe laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, made from plants and vegetables, the prescription of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine for forty-seven years. Buy a bottle. A dose costs you on an average of less than a cent.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, fill their name and address to it, and send it to the Pepsin Syrup Co., 516 Washington Street, Monticello, N.Y., and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not include postage. It is free.

All three machines were badly smashed up and the highway was partially blocked for a considerable length of time while repair crews from Garages were removing the wreckage.

DISTRIBUTE SUNDAY SCHOOL CERTIFICATES

Certificates were presented to 18 students of the Sunday school classes of the Highland Congregational church yesterday morning, including the Junior and senior departments. ## DEMOCRATIC VICTORY AHEAD

From out of the west comes the voice of Senator Brookhart against the leaders of the republican party and their pretensions to all that is good and desirable in administration of the nation's business. Brookhart has spoken in stentorian tones that have resounded throughout the nation. As a result he has been ruled out of the party by the republican state committee of Iowa. He openly asserted that he belongs to the Farmer bloc. His arraignment of the republican administration of the past four years is the most severe yet heard in this campaign, and it merely echoed the sentiment of the farmers in the northwest in reference to the republican administration, its candidates and its record.

What is the result? The republican prospects in the west and northwest are smashed to smithereens. The leaders are simply dumbfounded and all they can hope for now is a reasonable showing in the eastern states. They will centre their efforts on New York state and there their candidate for governor has made a poor beginning. Indeed it seems that the campaign managers have not quite approved of his line of talk. Hence he has been lectured by the leaders who evidently wanted him to follow their plans rather than his own. Thus far Young Roosevelt has not made much of an impression and unless sentiment changes in New York, and Governor Smith will see that it will not be swayed against him, the state will assuredly go democratic.

The Brookhart break brings strength to La Follette and adds greatly to the prospect of giving the democrats a big majority in congress. Therefore, the situation indicates the election of Davis and Bryan by the electoral college or else by a democratic congress, which now seems to be practically assured. The republican campaign is going to pieces while the democratic under the leadership of John W. Davis is gathering strength from day to day.

Those who have set Brookhart down as a misfit, a radical, an oddity and a dangerous man to be elected to the United States senate, will have to revise their views. He has certainly jumped into national prominence by his assault upon the republican machine and he has left it a wreck on the road, fit only to be towed away for repairs but without hope of its proper functioning again in this campaign.

HEAR SENATOR WALSH

Voters of Lowell, citizens of all parties, should hear and if possible meet United States Senator Walsh who makes two addresses here today and holds a public reception at the American House. The senator is desirous of meeting as many of his constituents as possible, and it is but natural that they should desire to know what manner of man represents them in the highest of our law making bodies.

The junior senator has given faithful and efficient service in the senate, and he, therefore, deserves re-election. He has distinguished himself particularly as the friend of the service men, the foe of special privilege and every form of corruption. His work for the disabled veterans has been recognized throughout the nation as humane, patriotic and disinterested, and in these respects it stood in striking contrast to that of the paid officials of the Disabled Veterans' Bureau. He is now giving an account of his stewardship to the electorate.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This is Fire Prevention week, a time when all citizens are directed to do their utmost for the prevention of fires, not only at present but in the future. It is needless to say that a great proportion of the fire losses in every city and every state results from carelessness on the part of somebody. Children playing with matches is a frequent cause of fires; and the children in many of our parishes in the flames of their own setting. It is the worst kind of carelessness to leave matches within reach of young children who do not understand the danger of setting fires. Older people are equally guilty when they allow rubbish to accumulate so that a match or cigar butt accidentally thrown into it may start a conflagration. Many destructive fires have been started in this way. It is also well known that hunters in the woods are often guilty of gross or even criminal carelessness in starting fires that spread and sweep away whole forests of valuable timber or else destroy buildings within reach of the flames. Gov. Cox in his proclamation for Fire Prevention week shows that the total fire loss in Massachusetts in 1923 exceeded $19,000,000, an increase of nearly $5,000,000 over the total for the previous year. The per capita loss computed from these figures was $4.91. It is estimated by the insurance authorities who investigate all fires that fully $17,000,000 of the total loss resulted from fires that were clearly preventable or in other words, due to carelessness.

The governor also states that the total fire loss of the country for the past year was $500,000,000. Of that sum, Lowell contributed more than her usual share. We have had some very costly fires during the last year, including those of the Associate Building, the Fluke block, the Opera House. In observance of Fire Prevention week, citizens generally should make a survey of the premises with a view to eliminating all movable fire hazards, such as piles of rubbish and other accumulations of combustible material which would furnish ready food for the flames. As for old and dilapidated buildings, we cannot get rid of them in a week; but the real estate and property owners and building associations can be relied upon to see the opportunity of profitable investment in putting down antiquated structures and erecting new and up-to-date buildings in their place.

The firemen are also expected to make a survey of the city during the present week and notify proprietors wherever they find anything that constitutes a fire menace. If everybody looks for some fire menace with a view to its removal and at the same time resolves to exercise due care for the prevention of fire during the coming year, we may see a very material reduction in the fire losses of our city.

HEAVY ACCIDENT LOSSES

The statistical department of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company has made a very illuminating survey of the accident mortality of the United States. It is shown in the recent bulletin that there occurred 54,000 deaths from fatal accidents in the United States during 1923 and of this number 1560 in excess of the total for the previous year.

That the fatal accident rate in the United States is unwarrantably high, is shown by comparison with the rate of similar accidents in England and Wales. In those countries in 1922 the fatal accident rate was 221 per million of population and in the United States 695 or more than twice the number per million. As a result of this high accident rate, we lose from 35,000 to 40,000 citizens annually in excess of the number which would occur if the British rate prevailed here. The total death toll from accidents amounts to 1462 per week or 209 per day. As might be expected, the greatest fatalities result from automobile accidents which head the list with 362 per week and 52 per day throughout the United States. Falls of various kinds come next with 254 deaths per week or 36 per day, while railroad accidents caused 128 deaths per week or 18 per day. One of the greatest problems before the American people at the present time, therefore, is to reduce the number of fatal accidents from these various causes. To be sure there will always be accidents from a variety of causes other than those mentioned that in the aggregate will reach alarming totals. Thus the number attributed to burns last year was 1204; 2231; street car accidents, 1171. It is also noted that fatalities from accidents due to the operation of motor vehicles are steadily increasing in spite of all efforts to enforce greater safety on the highways. It appears that more stringent laws must be adopted, greater vigilance exercised by the police, and the courts must impose heavier penalties for the motorists who are found guilty of carelessness or willful violation of the motor laws on public highways.

LABOR MINISTRY MENACED

Clouds seem to be gathering thick and fast around the labor ministry in the British parliament. On the Irish boundary question the conservatives were placed in opposition to the government, although not of their own volition. They urged Premier Craig of Ulster to appoint a representative on the boundary commission, but that gentleman, believing that Ulster could again set the British government at defiance, bluntly refused. As a result the boundary bill has passed and now goes to the upper house, where it may meet more vigorous opposition. The lords can defeat it if they see fit; but it is hardly expected that they will trifle much with MacDonald as he might create new peers enough to carry the measure and have it passed very soon. In a somewhat modified form. Otherwise a general election would probably result in which none of the three parties could look for a majority. The liberals might displace the laborites, but only on tolerance and could not do business without the co-operation of the other elements.

The other issue that has caused opposition to the government is the treaty which the government has negotiated with Russia for the resumption of commercial relations with the soviet government. The Irish boundary dispute is a minor matter compared to this, although it stirs up prejudice on the Tory side. Meanwhile a vote of censure against the government is coming up Wednesday, and if carried, may force the government to resign. As nobody wants the expense of an election at this time, it is likely that the king would ask the leader of one of the other two parties to form a ministry—probably ex-Premier Asquith.

When football players engage in a fist fight in their Sunday games, they should be cleared from the field. Football, if cleanly played, is permissible on Sunday, but playing matches are, or should be, prohibited.

SEEN AND HEARD

An optimist is a man who keeps his thermometer in the ice box in summer and in the stove in winter.

A pessimist is a man who keeps his thermometer in the stove in summer and in the ice box in winter.

An opportunist is an old maid who keeps all pajamas near to slip on in case of fire.

A thought: Plow deep while blizzards sleep.—Benjamin Franklin.

Wonderful idea: "Too many delegations are bothering the president," Mr. Coolidge said. "We must stop all that. We must not break down the health of our president." My friend, I am glad to see you realize the matter as serious. "O, I do. We'll form an organization, once and you and I will call on the president as a notification committee."

Re-Loved Cannaries: Neighbors noticed bread and milk on the steps of a house in Philadelphia and notified the police. The officers found Michael Czeschick, an aged recluse, dead in bed. More than 500 canaries were in the house and were turned over to the S.P.C.A. until some relative of the aged man can be found.

The Vermontite Dialect: When Dwight Cushman of Hebron, Me., finds time hanging heavy on his hands he drops out behind the barn and raises a few stalks of broom corn, cuts off the tops and makes whisk brooms and brushes for his family and neighbors. For another side line he raises a little tobacco now and then and makes his own cigars.

Treasured Relic: A plug of tobacco found in Libby prison when Gen. Sewell and his forces entered Richmond is now owned by William J. Wells of West Chester, Penn. It is about two inches long, by three in size and formed of Virginia tobacco mixed with licorice and molasses. It is as fresh as the day it was pressed into form. No one has sampled it as yet, nor are they going to, if Mr. Wells has his way.

Ananias Club Members: A group of neighbors, who were keen rose growers, were vying with one another in their stories of the greenfly's ravages. "The pest ate all the leaves off my roses," said one. "They ate mine in two days," said another, "and then they roosted on the branches to wait for more." Determined not to be outdone in impressiveness, a third enthusiast said: "All that is very remarkable, but in So-and-So's, the forlorn glances, the other day I saw a couple of greenflies examining the book to see the addresses of the principal customers."

Keeping Tabs on Eddie: A book containing 5,110 newspaper clippings on the activities of the Prince of Wales during his visit to Long Island has been compiled by a Long Island bureau and sent to London. The volume weighs 32 pounds. To classify the mass of clippings 22 clerks worked night and day for two weeks on a job which under ordinary circumstances would have taken three months. The bureau says that no president of the United States ever received so much publicity in so short a time.

Legal Precedent: A lawyer, who had previously obtained four postponements, was asking for another. "I'll give you a good one this time," said the judge, somewhat nettled. "I'll set this case for the second Tuesday in October." The attorney was all smiles at this, but when they examined the calendar. It was seen that the second Tuesday in October fell on the 13th. "Can't you make it the 14th, Your Honor?" was the next plea. "Yes, I'll do that," "I did not think a smart lawyer like him would be so superstitious," remarked a bystander to the judge. "He just saw a chance to get another day."

Well-Matched He-Yell: Shrieks and yells of the most appalling kind were issuing from the cottage and before long a large crowd had collected, attracted by the terrible noise. Presently, slowly but inevitably, the law represented by a policeman, put in an appearance. "Now, then, what's all this?" he asked brusquely. "What's it all about?" "Please sir," said a small boy who was standing close by, "that's only my brother. He's crying because mother's eyesight isn't very good and she's deaf, too." A ghastly series of shrieks interrupted the explanation. "He must be a very feeling fellow," remarked the officer. "Yes, sir; he is," was the answer. "You see, mother's mending his trousers, and he's got them on."

A Morbidity Mistake: I studied my tables over and over, and backward and forward, too; But I couldn't six times nine, and I didn't know what to do, Till sister told me to play with my doll, and not to bother my head. "If you call her 'Fifty-four' for awhile, you'll learn it by heart," she said.

So I took my favorite, Mary Ann (I thought I thought 'twas a dreadful shame) To give such a perfectly lovely child such a perfectly horrid name. And I called her my dear little "Fifty-four," a hundred times, till I knew the answer of six times nine as well as the answer of two times two. Next day Elizabeth Wigglesworth who always acts so proud, Said, "Six times nine is fifty-two," and I nearly laughed out aloud. But I wished I hadn't when teacher said, "Now, Dorothy, tell if you can." For I thought of my doll and—sakes alive!—answered, "Mary Ann!" —ANNA M. PRATT.

ADMITS PART IN MURDER

Hallie Mowbray, 18-Year-Old Employee of Burlington
Garage Man Confesses

Charges Two Others With Actual Murder — Crime
Followed Drinking Bout

BURLINGTON, Mass., Oct. 6.—Hallie Mowbray, a youth of 18, confessed early yesterday, according to local and state police, to complicity in the murder of Frederick A. Clements, Burlington garage proprietor, whose body was found in the Shawheen river at Bedford last Thursday, weighted down with automobile parts. Mowbray implicated two other men for whom the authorities are searching.

According to Chief of Police Pollock of Burlington, Mowbray, who has been employed for several months in Clements' garage here, said that after a drinking bout at the place, his two drinking companions, whose names he did not know, went to a loft over the garage where Clements slept and killed him. Their motive, the youth said, was to obtain money with which to purchase more liquor. The murder, he said, occurred on the early morning of September 29.

Mowbray, who gave himself up early yesterday and told his story voluntarily, declared that he knew nothing about the death of Clements until after it was an accomplished fact. "The two strangers, after a visit to the loft, returned and told him Clements had been killed. They forced him to assist in wrapping up the body and in disposing of it in the river. Later, he said, he was compelled also to aid in repainting and whitewashing the interior of the loft, to remove the stains. "If I refused to help them, they said they would wrap me up."

Mowbray told Chief Pollock, "They would have done it."

Clements, battered to death as he slept, was wrapped in a quilt from his bed. The body was then weighted with two automobile cylinder heads and a lifting jack, which were lashed on with ropes. The three transported it by a circuitous route to Bedford, and threw their bundle from a bridge into the Shawheen river.

Mowbray came to Burlington a year ago from Brunswick, Me. His sister is the wife of David Graham, whose brother, Edward Graham, was Clements' partner in the garage enterprise. Edward Graham went to Chief Pollock with the boy, when he decided to tell his story. Acting on clues given by Mowbray, two state officers went to Everett in search of the two men implicated by the confession. Mowbray is held in jail at Auburn, on a charge of murder.

Clements' body was found by boys fishing in the river. It was identified by Graham, who had been looking for his missing partner for weeks, and later by Clements' wife. Clements was a native of Prince Edward Island and had formerly been a clergyman in Newfoundland.

Held Without Bail: WOBURN, Mass., Oct. 6.—Hallie Mowbray, 18-year-old boy, who yesterday, according to state and local police, confessed to complicity in the murder of Frederick A. Clements, Burlington garage proprietor, Sept. 17, was arraigned in district court here today and held without bail for the Middlesex county grand jury.

Promptings of conscience, Mowbray said, impelled him to tell Edward Graham, Clements' partner and his own brother-in-law, that he knew something about the crime. Graham took the youth at once to the Burlington chief of police, who was at the moment listening to a prediction by a spiritualistic medium that an arrest would be made before morning. Mowbray's deposition was taken in writing by Mrs. Pollock, wife of the police head, whose father, Duboy Foster, was murdered and robbed in the same vicinity thirty years ago.

Acting on information given by Mowbray, state police officers searched in Woburn and nearby cities last night and today for the two men described

DOUBLE GUARD AT ZAYAS' PALACE

Action Follows Battle in Streets of Camaguey, Cuba
—Several Killed

Police and Followers of Ex-Pres. Monocal Clash—Soldiers Occupy City

HAVANA, Oct. 6. (By the Associated Press.)—The guard at President Zayas' palace here was doubled today as a precaution following a battle last night in the streets of Camaguey, between city police and followers of former President Monocal in which several persons were reported killed and about 50, including several women, were wounded.

Both telephone and telegraph service was suspended early today between Havana and Camaguey, but prior to that, newspaper despatches said soldiers had occupied the city, which is the capital of Camaguey province, and had restored order.

The clash was started during a parade in honor of Gen. Monocal, who arrived there yesterday with some 200 followers on the political tour in his campaign as the conservative candidate against Gen. Machado, liberal. Each side accused the other of precipitating trouble and Gov. Zayas Izazola of Camaguey province was said to have urged President Zayas to have all members of the Monocal party detained. Political feeling between adherents of Monocal has been running high.

The fighting in Camaguey, which lasted some two hours, followed the firing upon Monocal's train some fifty miles out of Camaguey and later the derailment of several coaches of the train. The two railroad employees suffered wounds when unidentified men fired from the underbrush at the train, but it was said no one was hurt in the derailment.

by Mowbray. It was said that further arrests were pending. Mowbray is a native of Boston, N. B., and had been in this country only six months.

Another Murder Mystery

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 6.—The body of a man found Saturday in a North Beverly mill pond, weighted down with automobile cylinder blocks and a heavy chain, was buried today unidentified. Beverly police were unable to trace a connection between this murder and that of Frederick A. Clements, Burlington, garage proprietor, whose body was found, similarly weighted, in the Shawheen river at Bedford on Thursday.

The body was found 300 feet out from shore in the pond. A piece of insulated wire had been bound about the neck. The police continued to search for a collar, and other clothing which was missing from the body in the hope that it might lead to identification.

Goloshes Hot Cochran's DAILY POEM

Have you heard that tramp of rubber feet that winter's brought about? Have you heard the sloshing down the street? It's here, without a doubt!

From early in the morning till the wee hours of night, the march and snuff approaches and then marches out of sight. The sweet and sixteen lassies are the ones upon parade. You can hear a funny flapping as a flapper's foot is laid.

'Tis the sloshing of goloshes that the chill days always bring, or the slush upon the sidewalks that is due to winter's sting. All the mud and water puddles that now are, or will be here, can be walked through with goloshes on without the slightest fear.

Yep, I'm for the old goloshes, if the wearer wears them right. As a favor, fair young ladies, keep the darn things fastened tight, cause the sound of your goloshes sends the looks of them kerplop, when you leave the buckles flapping from the bottom to the top.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO RED CROSS

Pres. Coolidge Thanks Organization for Its Charity in Address in Washington

Pleads for Civilized World Where Cost of Armament, Etc. Are Not Required

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Thanking the American Red Cross for its accomplishments for "practical and inspired charity," President Coolidge, in an address opening the annual meeting of the society here today, pleaded for a "truly civilized world where the cost of armament, of pensions, of fortifications, were not required to be borne."

"Where resources could be used," the president said, "to promote, not to destroy happiness in such a world what mighty works could be accomplished under the leadership of the Red Cross spirit. Poverty, ignorance, prejudice and all uncharitableness might be completely relieved, and remedied."

Toward such an ideal, Mr. Coolidge declared, the race is making progress. It will achieve, he asserted, "not by some magic formula in some inspired moment," but because men and women were more and more demanding it. In the Red Cross, the president said, the nation has its opportunity to capitalize and direct the finest, the most uplifting attribute of our human nature—charity. It is a strong support, he said, of the government and a reliable guarantee of the progress of civilization, showing the way "to a more complete realization of truth and justice through mercy."

Emphasizing its "practical idealism," Mr. Coolidge recalled the accomplishments of the Red Cross in relieving the distress resulting a year ago from the earthquake in Japan. "The Red Cross," he continued, "had the organization capable of turning this great overflowing of the sympathy of the nation to the best account. It insured a maximum of relief at the minimum of outlay. The gratitude of a great nation, disclosed in manifold form, more than repaid the splendid response of our people directed through this organization. Philosophers and historians may record this as making a new era in the relationship between nations."

Describing the Red Cross as the only organization he knew which accomplished any good "by looking for trouble," the president declared it had a definite, comprehensive and practical program for helping those who need help, when they need it and where they need it.

"It knows," he said, "no creed, no party, no politics, no classes or groups. It is proof that materialism is not the dominant motive of the people of the United States. The Red Cross idea will develop as mankind develops. The ideals underlying civilization are the ideals of brotherly love, of tolerance, of kindness, of charity. The beauty of life lies in meeting whatever destiny awaits us, trusting one another, helping one another."

Mr. Coolidge welcomed the convention as the meeting of an organization "able to translate into results our deep regard for the interests of humanity."

MATRIMONIAL

Hanson—Chenevert

Mr. John Hanson and Miss Dorothy Chenevert, two popular local residents, were united in marriage Saturday evening at the home of Mr. Selver, 143 Princeton street. Mr. Arthur Hardy and Miss Doris Wakefield attended the couple. The bride was attired in Canton crepe. She wore a veil held in place with orange blossoms and carried a shower of bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore yellow crepe de chine and carried carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will make their home at 22 Barker street this city after an extended wedding trip. Present at the reception which followed the ceremony were guests from Plymouth, Dorchester, Haverhill and this city.

Rouse—Hall

Mr. Royal W. Rouse and Miss Grace M. Hall, two popular local residents, were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hall in Burr street, by Rev. Appleton Grannis, pastor of St. Anne's church. The bride wore a gown of white tulle, trimmed with silver lace and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bride's gift to the matron of honor was a white gold bracelet, while the best man received a gold penknife from the bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Rouse will make their home at 17 Burr street.

Bills—Adams

Mr. Warren G. Bills of Warren and Miss Edith H. Adams of Chelmsford were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the parsonage of the Unitarian church by Rev. L. L. Greene. Miss Dorothy P. Hall and Mr. Adair B. Adams, brother of the bridegroom, attended the bridal party. The bride was attired in dark blue satin and carried a shower bouquet. The bridesmaid wore brown silk crepe and carried pink roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Lowell road. Mr. and Mrs. Bills who were the recipients of numerous gifts left on an extended wedding trip through the western part of the state and upon their return they will make their home in Warren.

Secrets of Beauty

BY MARIAN HALE

Pictures Posed by Ruth Malcomson, (Miss America)

The exercises we do for grace and symmetry should be a part of our daily beauty program, but we should also know of the exercises that promote health and banish minor ailments.

Whenever you feel a cold fastening itself upon you, practice deep breathing and get as much fresh air into your lungs as possible. If you feel that you have abused your stomach or that your liver is "laying down" on the job, try this several times; place your hand over your diaphragm and breathe very forced breaths, as deep as you can, realising the swelling of your diaphragm with your hand.

The sort of a headache that steals on you from being in a close, smoky room or from severe nerve strain may often be cured by deep breathing combined with a walk in the fresh air.

Another way to banish a headache is to relax completely and allow the neck to become as limp as possible.

Then describe slow circles with the head trying to relieve the tension from the back of the neck.

An exercise that is excellent for the liver and the internal organs is to lie on your back with your hands behind your head, then bend the knees alternately, bringing them over your chest as far as possible.

Don't neglect your beauty sleep. Plenty of sleep is absolutely essential to the woman who wishes to look young and fresh.

A nap in the afternoon, if you have been out very late the night before, will freshen you immeasurably, even though you sleep but half an hour.

A hot bath when you are very tired is as restful as sleep and will do much to calm nerves that have been ruffled and to bring on the relaxation that smooths out your lines and banishes the strained look.

By keeping fit you not only keep yourself younger and more beautiful but you get the habit of being healthy so that you think twice before you overeat or overexert yourself in any way.

FIRE IN SPRINGFIELD

Firemen Fought $100,000

Blaze Under Bombardment of Shotgun Ammunition

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 5.—Firemen wearily today fought a $100,000 blaze in the six-story warehouse of the Carlisle Hardware company under bombardment of salvoes of exploding shotgun ammunition ignited by the fire. The fire, of unknown origin, gutted the upper three stories. On the top story were 60 cases of shotgun shells and the greater part of these were set off. Many of them popped through the windows into the adjoining alleys but without doing damage. Strenuous work was necessary to confine the fire to the building. Water damage was heavy in the lower three stories.

AMERICAN MURDERED AT TOMO, MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The murder of William B. Massey, an American citizen at Tomo, Mexico, was reported to the state department today by James B. Stewart, American consul at Tampico.

Massey's home is in Muskogee, Okla., and he is survived by a widow and two children. He was terminal superintendent of the Metropolitan Oil company.

The report said the Mexican local authorities had arrested Joaquin Saenz, a Mexican, for the murder.

SCARF COLLAR The scarf collar is liked on all types of frocks this season from fragile chiffons to the heaviest of wools.

Branch St. Elizabeth

Chief ranger, Ellen A. Howard; sub chief ranger, Theresa Reilly; treasurer, Elizabeth McGuinness; financial secretary, Mary A. Dillon; recording secretary, Mary Pelletier; senior woodward, Annie Shaughnessy; junior woodward, Mary McGovern; senior beadle, Katherine Mullin; board of trustees, Maria J. Markham, Elizabeth Maloney, Alice O'Connell.

High Chief Ranger Byrne congratulated the officers of the two branches and urged the members to co-operate and assist them in every undertaking. He also discussed the progress of the organization, stating that in all parts of New England, it is enjoying great prosperity.

Each of the new officers was called upon. All promised to do everything possible to continue the splendid work accomplished by past officers of the branches. A fine entertainment was carried out and a buffet luncheon served.

During an intermission in the program Joseph L. Handley arose and in

WOMAN BADLY BEATEN

Costas Doullis Taken to Worcester State Hospital For Observation

Was Released From That Institution Six Weeks Ago—Wife in Hospital

Costas Doullis of Flood's alley, who was arrested yesterday morning after he had kicked and beaten his wife so brutally as to cause her removal to the Lowell Corporation hospital, was taken to Worcester State hospital this morning to be examined as to his mentality. At 3.30 o'clock yesterday morning, the police received a call that an assault was taking place in Flood's alley. Capt. Alexander Duncan, detailed Officers William Linton, John Leahy and Sergt. Philip Dwyer to investigate. They found Mrs. Doullis was suffering intense pain as the result of a beating administered by her husband. The officers summoned the ambulance and the woman was removed to the hospital. Her condition is not regarded as serious.

Looking up Doullis' record, it was discovered that he was released from Worcester in July, 1922, being discharged about six weeks ago.

OPEN THIRD NATIONAL RADIO CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Representatives of all branches of the industry were gathered here today for the opening session tonight of the third national radio conference, called by Secretary Hoover to consider the numerous problems of radio development in the United States.

Arrangements have been made for radio-casting the opening address of Secretary Hoover and others to follow on the program tonight through a system of sixteen stations that will give the widest air-space for any program since that of defense day. In addition to the secretary's address, beginning at 3.15 p. m., others will be delivered by C. P. Edwards, of the Canadian department of marine and fisheries, and Pedro P. Torres, of the Cuban Radio Service.

General sessions of the conference Tuesday will be open to the public to give opportunity for presentation of suggestions and proposals to the conference committee which later will be divided into sub-committees charged with detailed study of problems discussed in the various fields.

A neat speech presented on behalf of Branch St. Elizabeth, a handsome wrist watch to Margaret Melnis, retiring chief ranger. Miss Melnis, though greatly surprised at the presentation, was equal to the occasion, and expressed her thanks to the members for the beautiful gift, one she said, that would always be treasured as a pleasant reminder of the occasion. She thanked all for their assistance during her term as head of the branch and said that what over success was enjoyed was due to the co-operation and efforts of the rank and file of the organization.

The following entertained with songs: James J. McCready, John McInerney, Annie Shaughnessy and Anna McGovern.

They Won Pennant for Washington Back in 1885

Washington once idolized these men as it does "Back" Harris and his boys today. They, too, won a pennant for it—the capital's first, and its only one until the Senators came home from Boston this year with the American league flag. But that was back in 1885 when the great national pastime was still in its infancy. They called the team the "National Base Ball Club" in those days. From left to right, in the front row are: Hoover, cf; Gladmon, 3b; Scanlon, manager; Barr, p; Burch, lf; and O'Day, p. Back row, left to right, are: Cook, c; Egan, 1b; Powell, rf; Baker, 1b; Knowles, 2b and White, ss.

VISITORS DEFEAT TEXTILE SCHOOL

It was an uninteresting game from the start. Textile, heavier than the visitors, seemed to lack the necessary punch to put the ball across. Repeated fumbling marred several chances. Bill Brogan, a Lowell boy, played a brilliant game. Jimmy Corbett, another local boy weighing about 115 pounds, got into the game at quarterback and performed creditably. The lineup: ST. ## REFERENCE TO WILSON CHEERED IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Prolonged cheering interrupted a reference by Paul Loebe, former president of the Reichstag, to the late President Wilson as "the father of the League of Nations" at a memorial meeting for the war dead held in the Reichstag building yesterday under the auspices of the world peace congress. Loebe, termed President Wilson an idealist, a far-sighted statesman and the initiator of a new era.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen of Norway, just arrived from the Geneva meeting, declared that the dawn of Europe is beginning as the outgrowth of the work accomplished by the League of Nations meeting.

The German audience also was unusually generous in its applause of the Belgian senator, Henri la Fontaine, who pleaded for the removal of the tariff barriers to supplement the League of Nations' disarmament plans, and the French senator, Ferdinand Buisson, who paid tribute to the war dead of all nations as dying in the belief that their country was right.

The German contributions to the Geneva peace prize contest have failed to measure up to the expectations of the German judges, who announce a division of the first prize money and a distribution of the winning amount in small allotments. The winners will be announced during the present week. The prize committee meanwhile is publishing excerpts from the prize winning plan.

There were 4100 contributions in the German contest.

JOHN W. DAVIS BEGINS TOUR OF N. Y. STATE

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—In harness again and somewhat rested by the Sunday holiday spent at his home in Locust Valley, John W. Davis started out today to carry the campaign issues to the voters of New York state and appeal for their support of both the national and state democratic tickets, headed respectively by himself and Governor Alfred E. Smith.

A strenuous three-day speaking program faced the presidential nominee. He was first listed to address a gathering of workers in Schenectady, industrial establishment late today, going from there to Albany for an evening address and remaining overnight as a guest at the executive mansion of Governor and Mrs. Smith, in response to an invitation extended by them. Tuesday and Wednesday were given over to a series of four speeches in Utica, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo.

BATTLED TO A SCORELESS TIE

ENDORSE CAMPAIGN

Dear Sir:

I cannot too heartily commend your effort to have all eligible voters exercise their prerogative of citizenship.

A campaign to impress this upon every American citizen will have the unwavering cooperation of the Democratic Party of the United States.

Yours sincerely,

John W. Davis

The N. E. A. Service.

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

I understand from your representative that you are to undertake a campaign to impress upon the voters, without regard to party, their obligation to go to the polls at the coming election. I am in sympathy with every effort which tends to emphasize the fact that the right to vote is a duty as well as a privilege, and I am glad that you intend to bring this forcibly to the attention of your readers.

Very truly yours,

John W. Davis

The right to vote be conferred upon every citizen. It is a precious right. Its exercise is a sacred duty. Every citizen should vote upon Election day. The mere casting of a ballot, however, does not fully discharge this duty. Voters should scrutinize the records of candidates, study the issues, and vote in the light of their knowledge. Through intelligent voting, the American people can win peace, liberty and economic freedom for themselves and their children. Progressives wish every citizen to vote, because it is the cardinal principle of their faith that this Government belongs to the people.

Sincerely yours,

AMERICAN RED CROSS CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—With President Coolidge presiding and delivering the open address, hundreds of chapter delegates from all parts of the country were here today for the first sessions at Memorial Continental hall of the fourth annual convention of the American Red Cross. The convention will continue through Thursday.

Red Cross service problems in the general field as well as its work relating particularly to disabled war veterans form the subject of addresses at the morning session by John Barton Payne, president of the society; Director Hines of the Veterans' Bureau, and Colonel D. H. Pond, chairman of the Home Service section of the Cleveland (Ohio) chapter.

The afternoon program was devoted to round table discussion under the subjects of public health nursing, first aid, war service, home hygiene and care of the sick.

Christian Science gives assurance of salvation from any and all erroneous concepts of God, man, and the universe. In other words, Christian Science has given us again the true idea of God, has revealed God again, the same God of whom Jesus spoke when He said: "But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him."

"As Christians, we acknowledge Jesus as the wayshower. If, however, we take out of the vast variety of interpretations placed upon his teachings by the many different sects and churches, all claiming to be his followers, we find the few of them are in complete accord, and still fewer maintain the all-important part of his teaching, namely, the healing of the sick as well as the reformation of the sinner."

"Christian Science teaches that the healing of sickness and the destruction of sin are both brought about in the same way, and are as necessarily proof of the Master's teaching of the Father in spirit and in truth as they were admitted to be during the early part of the first century A. D. at the dawn of the Christian era. 'Whether is easier,' the Master said, 'to say, the sinner be forgiven thee; or to say, arise, and walk?'"

"The Christian Science movement is what it is today because it has healed permanently, and because it also destroys the desire or ability to sin."

GAVE LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

A lecture on Christian Science was given at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, yesterday by Algermon Harvey-Bathurst, C. S. B., of London, England, who also is a member of the board of lecturership of the Mother church at Boston.

The lecturer spoke in part as follows:

"Let me say at the outset that as its name indicates, Christian Science is pre-eminently Christian and scientific, and it is most interesting to note that the best informed thinkers and students of today are admitting that, after all, Christianity must be scientific, and that science and Christianity are not words quite incompatible, as so many have been in the habit of affirming."

"That which is scientific must be capable of proof or demonstration, and I feel confident that we shall see how we can each commence, without further delay, to avail ourselves of the peace, the health, the freedom, joy and satisfaction which await every honest student of this great subject; how we can demonstrate the truth regarding man, and, therefore, regarding ourselves."

Christian Science gives assurance of salvation from any and all erroneous concepts of God, man, and the universe. In other words, Christian Science has given us again the true idea of God, has revealed God again, the same God of whom Jesus spoke when He said: "But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him."

"As Christians, we acknowledge Jesus as the wayshower. If, however, we take out of the vast variety of interpretations placed upon his teachings by the many different sects and churches, all claiming to be his followers, we find the few of them are in complete accord, and still fewer maintain the all-important part of his teaching, namely, the healing of the sick as well as the reformation of the sinner."

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, rolled omelet with thin cream, broiled tripe, potatoes hashed in cream, buttered toast, jelly, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Surprise baked potatoes, creamed carrots, toasted muffins, plain cake, milk, tea.

Dinner—Boiled fish, egg sauce, boiled potatoes in parsley butter, lima beans, jelly, cabbage salad, peach dessert, rye bread and butter, milk, tea.

A child under school age should not be given the tripe for his breakfast, but he may have some of the potatoes and, of course, the prunes, cereal, toast and milk.

A child under 10 years who does not go home for his luncheon, should be given a poached or soft-boiled egg for his breakfast.

BOILED TRIPE

The variety known as "honey-combed" is usually chosen for broiling.

Wash through three waters. For one pound of tripe put one teaspoon soda in cold water and let stand ten minutes. Rinse well. Put in saucepan, cover with boiling water and simmer one hour or until tender. Drain overnight. In the morning cut in pieces convenient for serving. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and broil in frying pan. Butter or "drippings" can be used to oil the pan. When the pan is very hot put in the tripe and cook turning frequently until a golden brown on both sides. Serve on a hot platter. Dot with bits of butter and sprinkle with lemon juice.

SURPRISE BAKED POTATOES

Four large smooth Irish potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons hot milk, 1 tablespoon grated cheese, 4 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, dash paprika. Wash potatoes through several waters and scrub well with a small brush. Rub the skins well with a bacon rind or bacon fat if you haven't the rind. Put in a hot oven and bake one hour, turning often. After the potatoes are hot, rub them again with bacon fat. Remove from oven and cut a slice from the side of each potato.

Scrap out potato, scraping as close to the skin as possible but taking care not to break the shell. Mash potato with butter and salt and beat well. Add milk and cheese and beat until light. Break an egg into each potato shell. Cover with mashed potato, sprinkle with paprika and return to oven for 10 minutes to cook the egg and brown the top of the potato. Serve as soon as taken from the oven.

SAUCE FOR BOILED FISH

Five tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup hot water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 hard-boiled eggs.

Melt 2 tablespoons butter, stir in flour and when smooth, slowly add water, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper and cook five minutes. Add remaining butter, a little at a time, and eggs cut in thick slices. (Copyright, 1924, N.E.A. Service, Inc.)

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN HOLD RALLY IN MEMORIAL HALL

Attitude of President Coolidge Towards Industrial Workers Attacked by Chairman of Democratic State Committee—Policies of Democratic Party Are Upheld

At a stirring rally of the democratic women's organization of this city in Memorial hall yesterday, the attitude of President Coolidge toward industrial workers was attacked by Charles H. McGlue, chairman of the Democratic state committee, democratic policies were upheld by this speaker and also by Mrs. Collin W. Macdonald of Boston, vice-chairman of the democratic state committee; Humphrey O'Sullivan, democratic nominee for congressman in the fifth district; Cornelius Cronin, chairman of the democratic city committee and Miss Katherine P. McCarthy, chairman of the local democratic women's organization here.

Max McCarthy presided at the meeting. Following the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the audience, the democratic women urged the democratic women to register for the state election November 4. She also remarked that at the present time there is only one woman precinct officer and said this would not be the case if the women came forth and carried on in politics as they should. She said in part as follows:

"We are the people and it is for us to take interest in the people. As those women were pioneers in bringing about women's rights, you are today the pioneer women in voting. There will come a time when the women will regard voting as a duty, for such it is. Now I urge you women to register and see that other women register, then see that they vote; and not only do I urge you to vote, but to vote right."

"There are many reasons why women should vote; acts of legislation that women should take a stand in. There is the child labor amendment to the Constitution coming up. This bill has its good points and it has its bad points. As it is now written, it would be harmful to a great many of our children. It would be a new bill should then be presented in which the bad features of the present bill are eliminated. As the bill now stands a man would not be able to take his own son into the garden to work under a certain age. Of course there are cases where the father would be unreasonably, and the bill would operate for their good. But here in Massachusetts, we have sufficient legislation covering child labor, and do not need any more."

A majority of 150,000 for Senator David I. Walsh and Mrs. Curley of Boston was prophesied by Mr. McGlue in his address, and a sweeping victory for other democratic candidates would follow. In the national election, he said, from the present indications it seems that Calvin Coolidge is going to be re-elected. The solid south, he continued, is for Davis and the republican west, which would ordinarily give the republican nominee a large vote, is split up in many blocs.

"Every act of Calvin Coolidge," he said, "has been against the masses and the gerrymandering system carried on by the republican party to secure the election of their candidates is being criticized throughout the length of the land."

Mrs. C. W. Macdonald
Mrs. Macdonald followed Mr. McGlue to the podium. She has been a prominent figure in state politics for many years, was a member of the national defense board during Gov. McCall's administration, and was first president of the League of Catholic Women. She spoke of the necessity of women registering for the election and to live up to their duties as citizens by voting. She said in part:

"Today we have seen pictures of President Coolidge in the guise of a farmer, but he is not a farmer. In 25 years he has held 11 different political offices. If he had been with the people this would not have been possible."

"Speaking about our democratic candidate for president, do you realize that he has been said by judges of the supreme court to be one of the greatest lawyers in the country?"

"We are the common people up here, and we should take a great deal more pride in ourselves. I do not think that we should take second place. We ought to back up the men of a party like ours with every vote we can give. The republicans are going to lose on their past record."

"It is not the thing to put your faith in a man, or you will be disappointed; but it is far better to place your faith in the principles of the party and particularly the principles which the democratic party stands."

Humphrey O'Sullivan
Humphrey O'Sullivan was the final speaker of the meeting and, after adding his approval to the statements of the preceding speakers, said:

"The thing about which I would like to say a word to you today is rotation in office. The office of representative in congress from this district has now been held for 12 years by the same gentleman, and as far as any

CHINESE ATTACK MRS. DECKER

American Woman Subjected to Rough Handling and Detained in Cell

Two Chinese Policemen Drag American Woman From Auto at Gun Point

HONG KONG, Oct. 6 (By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Harvey Decker, an American and wife of the manager of the Canton City Transportation company Saturday was subjected to rough handling, jostling and jarring and finally to detention in a police station cell by 20 Chinese policemen, according to word received here today.

Mrs. Decker, who is in delicate health, had gone to the police station in connection with a demand for payment of a police tax alleged to be due from her husband on the ground that he is engaged in business in Canton. Mrs. Decker was arguing that she and her husband should be exempt from the police tax because the Canton City Transportation company is a foreign company when she had been arrested, dragged her out of her motor car and carried her into a barred cell.

Mrs. Decker endeavored to communicate with the American consul-general, but was prevented by police officials until, after nearly two hours of delay, her husband was informed of her predicament and invoked the assistance of the American consul who went to the police station and obtained her release.

JOSEPH TOSTA FRATUS DIES SUDDENLY

Joseph Tosta Fratus, 58, an employee of the picker room of the Hamilton mill for the past two years, was overcome suddenly while at work this morning and died in the first aid room before medical assistance could be rendered.

Decker made his home at 712 Gorham street, and was apparently in good health when he left home this morning. It is believed that he was overcome with heart trouble while at work.

Besides his wife, Emilie, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Fratus; four sons, Charles, John, Joseph and Frank; three brothers, Frank, Manuel and Antonio, and one sister, Mrs. Frank B. Avila. He was a prominent member of the Portuguese Fraternal society. The body was removed to the funeral home of J. H. McDonough, Sons and will be taken to his home in Gorham street this evening.

MICHAEL COLLINS DEAD

Father of Dr. William M. Collins of This City Passed Away Yesterday

Deceased Was Head of Lawrence Water Works and Well Known Here

Michael F. Collins, one of the best known residents of Lawrence and father of Dr. William M. Collins of this city, died at his home, 253 South Broadway, Lawrence, yesterday at the age of 74 years.

He was born in London, England, of Irish parents, on Sept. 34, 1850. When a child he came to this country with his family and settled in Dover, N. H. After a few years' residence in the New Hampshire city, the family moved to Lowell, and it was in this city that he received his education.

In 1876 he moved to Lawrence and took an active part in the political life of ward 6, in which section he lived until his death. During his many years' residence in the down-river city he held office in the common council, as chief of the fire department, assistant chief of the same department, foreman of the Spicket river improvements, superintendent of streets, chairman of the Lawrence cyclone relief committee in 1890, and in 1899 was named foreman of the city fire department. A year later he was made superintendent of the water works and up to the time of his death was prominently identified with water works activities.

In 1874 he married Ellen Newman of South Lawrence, who died in 1916. His survivors are four sons, Dr. John T. of Whitman; Dr. William M. of Lowell; Fred N. and Thomas A. of Lawrence; two daughters, Julia N. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Hannon of Andover; six grandchildren and two brothers, Cornelius E. and Thomas W. of Lowell.

Deceased was a member of the American Water Works association, New England Water Works Ass'n, New England Federated Societies, Massachusetts Fire Chiefs club, the Bricklayers union, Lawrence lodge of Elks and Fourth degree assembly of Lawrence council, Knights of Columbus.

Funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's church, Lawrence, Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

Endeavor union have been preparing a program of speaking and conferences that will mean new inspiration to all who have the privilege of attending.

The meetings themselves will be held in the Memorial Auditorium; banquets will be furnished each evening in the High School annex giving the delegates room food, entertainment and live speaking. Homes of many Lowell people are to be opened for the purpose of housing the visitors during their three days of convention. The program offers an unusual opportunity to hear widely known speakers on the subject of "Religion as Friendship." The speaker for Saturday evening will be Dr. Daniel A. Poling, pastor of the Marble Collegiate church, New York city, and associate president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor. Dr. Poling has long been famous in Christian Endeavor circles, and is now closely associated with the founder of the movement, Dr. Francis E. Clark. At the closing meeting on Sunday afternoon Bishop William F. Anderson will give an address on "Life's Great Adventure." Dr. Anderson has recently succeeded Bishop Hughes as bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, New England area.

Each morning there will be a period of worship under the leadership of Rev. Stanley H. Addison, pastor of the First Congregational church, Marlboro. On Sunday morning, this service will be out-of-doors, on the summit of Fort Hill. Later, the delegates will attend the various church services of the city with their hosts. Friday and Saturday forenoons will be given over largely to conferences. There will be one general session in charge of Rev. Frank P. Getty, and then the big audience will divide into smaller groups, giving each person an opportunity to discuss, under the guidance of an ex-

DEATH OF JAMES BAYLES

Was Well Known Lowell Newspaper Man For Period of Fifty Years

Death Came Last Night at Home in Tyngsboro as Result of Operation

James Bayles, contributing editor of the Lowell Courier-Citizen and one of its stockholders, died last night at his home, Dunstable road, Tyngsboro. Forced to undergo a serious operation about two weeks ago, he failed to rally and although moved from the hospital to his home last week in the hope that such a transfer would aid his recovery, his strength was not equal to the task imposed upon it.

For more than 50 years Mr. Bayles was a resident of Lowell and its vicinity. He was born in Scotland, where he received his earlier education in the public schools of Aberdeen and in St. Andrew's Episcopal academy. He came to America in 1872 and worked his way to Lowell. He worked in mill offices for three years and entered the newspaper field in 1875 as a reporter on the staff of the Morning Times. He became Lowell correspondent of the Boston Globe in 1877 and three years later accepted the position of night editor of the Lowell Morning Mail, where he remained for two years. In 1882 he was made city editor of the Lowell Citizen, then an afternoon paper. When, in 1895, the Citizen and Courier were combined he became night editor and for six years had complete charge of the editorial department. Ill health beset him at that time and compelled a prolonged absence from routine work. It was then that he became associated with the paper in a contributory capacity and continued in that sphere until the time of his death. His weekly weather comment review in the Saturday Chat columns of the Citizen was widely read.

Several years ago Mr. Bayles purchased an historic house in Tyngsboro and found great pleasure in rural life. He was a close nature student and wrote with great facility of bird and animal life as he observed it near his home.

In May, 1918, Mr. Bayles was married to Miss Annie F. Cox of Wilm, cheerer, who survives him. He also leaves a sister in Scotland.

Despite the handicaps of bodily infirmity which steadily increased in the latter years of his life, Mr. Bayles bore them with amazing fortitude and never lost the love of life and never allowed his courage and unflinching cheerfulness to waver. During the earlier years of his life Mr. Bayles served as a member of the board of health and was actively identified with a number of musical, dramatic and literary organizations. He also served as a director of the Lowell Humane society.

part, the specific line of Christian Endeavor work in which he is interested. The local committee in charge of the convention is headed by Mr. A. Edwin Wells, chairman. Since Wells started preparations for the big event many months ago, but last May he became seriously ill, and as a result, Miss Helen Mansfield was appointed acting chairman of the committee. Miss Mansfield still holds this position, and under her capable leadership, the final plans for the convention are going forward apace. She has the support of a loyal and efficient committee, consisting of the following members: Mr. Milton C. Fleming, Mr. Nathaniel W. Trull, Mr. Frank J. Spomer, Miss Elsie B. Herron and Miss Louise G. Drew. A very active sub-committee, the registration committee, is headed by Miss Dorothy Morris. This committee has charge of the registration of delegates, and of caring for the food which each guest pays when he registers.

LOWELL'S FIRE LOSS FOR 1924 WILL REACH $1,000,000 MARK

Total Loss of the Associate Building Fire in April Was Approximately $518,000—Figures Taken From Statistics Furnished by Insurance Companies

Lowell's fire loss for 1924 will in all probability be a million dollars, or an increase of nearly 40 per cent over last year's loss of $642,261.44. This opinion is based on the fact that the building fire in April of this year was nearly $400,000 greater than the most severe fire of the preceding year, which was the Pike block fire, with a loss of $118,000. The total loss incurred by the Associate Building fire, according to figures in possession of Fire Chief Edward P. Saunders, is slightly less than $518,000. These figures are compiled from statistics furnished the fire department by insurance companies which carried insurance on the damaged buildings and their contents. With the exception of the Associate fire, the losses for this year are about the same as last year's without about the loss incurred by the Pike block fire. The totals for 1923, with only the latter way $524,261.44 and if this year's loss is approximately the same with the exception of the Associate fire, it will reach a total of over a million dollars with the latter fire loss included. A comparison of fire losses from 1912 to 1923 shows that there was an increase of approximately $440,000 in the decade. The lowest loss for a year during this ten-year loss for a year when the total was only $141,571.52. The number of alarms during the same period shows an increase of nearly 600, there being 882 recorded in 1912 and 1407 in 1923.

PLAN TO PROVIDE MORE HUNTING AND FISHING

A plan that will positively supply more hunting and fishing for Lowell as well as for all other parts of the state will be explained by Arthur L. Clark, secretary of the Massachusetts Fish and Game Protective association at the meeting of the local club tomorrow (Tuesday), Oct. 7, in Odd Fellows building, at 8 p. m.

Mr. Clark stated that this is an entirely new plan which will be put into operation on Oct. 20 and thereafter by the 72 clubs affiliated with that organization, representing more than 10,000. His reports that the plan is being received with the greatest enthusiasm and that it is sweeping through the state. Mr. Clark is making a flying tour through the state, meeting all the sportsmen's clubs and explaining this new plan. Never before has any unit by the entire body of sportsmen. His reason is that it affects the fisherman and hunter alike—the fox hunter is just as strong for it as the duck, grouse or rabbit hunter and the fisherman, too, are united in the plan. The Lowell club will be one of the first to hear Mr. Clark and because he has been up for practically every night during the past six weeks, the club is exceedingly fortunate in having him at this meeting on Oct. 7. Mr. Clark is one of the greatest interest to every hunter and fisherman, and the club extends an invitation to attend this meeting to all who are interested in having more hunting and fishing.

M'ADOO TO UNDERGO AN OPERATION

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 6.—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of treasury, came to Johns Hopkins hospital yesterday to undergo an operation for the removal of gravel from the bladder. It was planned to put him on the operating table today.

Dr. Hugh H. Young, clinical professor of urology at the Hopkins medical school, said that Mr. McAdoo's physical condition was good and that the operation was not dangerous. Mr. McAdoo probably will be laid up a week, Dr. Young said.

Before coming to Baltimore, Mr. McAdoo advised John F. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, of his plans and arranged with Mr. Davis and his campaign managers to make several campaign speeches as soon after leaving the hospital as attending physicians thought proper.

ZBYSZKO ABUSED BY 100-POUND WIFE GRANTED DIVORCE

ALFRED, Me., Oct. 6.—Waldet Zbyszko, the wrestler, has been granted a divorce from his wife, Amelia Zbyszko, on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

Action for divorce was entered at the supreme court over a year ago, but was put off from term to term, finally being given a hearing in Chambers at the present time. Mrs. Zbyszko did not contest the charges.

Zbyszko is a resident of Old Orchard. Zbyszko in his libel alleged cruel and abusive treatment. He is a giant in size and one of the greatest wrestlers in the country, while his wife is under five feet and weighs a little over 100 pounds.

The maiden name of Mrs. Zbyszko is Amelia Diaz. She is now only 22 years of age. She was married to Zbyszko in Havana, Aug. 26, 1921.

TWO WOMEN, FIVE MEN MURDERED

Killed by Bandits Who Derailed and Attacked a Passenger Train

Overturned Engine and Sacked Train—Three Young Women Carried Off

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 6.—Five soldiers and two women, one the mother of four children, were killed by bandits who yesterday derailed and attacked a passenger train on the Isthmus line between Joachim and Piedras Negras. Commanded by Jose Lagunas, Pedro Gonzalez and Cayetano Acar, the last named a Turk, the bandits overturned the engine and sacked the train after killing the soldiers and taking prisoner the remaining escort of 18 men. The passengers were forced to strip to their underclothing. The bandits carried off 16,000 pesos from the express and also took with them three young women from among the passengers.

Colonel Zuniga with troops started in pursuit four hours later, when the passengers reached Piedras Negras and told their story.

CITY IS TO BUY BIG PUMPING ENGINE FOR FIRE DEPT.

Formal Approval of Mayor Given to Requisition Made Two Months Ago by Chief Saunders—Purchasing Agent Authorized to Buy for Immediate Delivery

Purchasing Agent Edward J. Donnelly today received from the mayor's office an approved requisition for a triple combination pumping engine for the fire department, same to have a pumping capacity of 1000 gallons per minute and to be driven by a 6-cylinder motor with piston pump and booster. The requisition was presented by Fire Chief Edward P. Saunders and is dated Aug. 12, and calls for immediate delivery. The date of approval is Oct. 4. Purchasing Agent Donnelly will probably advertise a call for bids tomorrow. Since the disastrous Associate building fire of several months ago there has been an agitation for the purchase of a 1000-gallon pump. Pumps with this capacity have been

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE STARTS GAME

Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States, throws out the ball for the start of the first game of the world series between the Washington American league team and the New York National league team. This was the first world series game ever played in the national capital. Speaker Gillette is seated in the box and Buck Harris, manager of the Washingtons, is there in uniform. The lady in white is Mrs. Coolidge who seems to be enjoying immensely Cal's pitching form.

With Count Even, Scene of World Series Shifts to Polo Grounds, Home of New York Giants

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The Washington Senators invaded the stronghold of the New York Giants here this afternoon intent on smiting the proud champions of the National league, hip and thigh, and making them like it. The brilliant victory of the American leaguers yesterday at the national capital has made them a host of friends in the alien Polo grounds, and today though each club has captured a game in the world's apocalyptic struggle, New Yorkers have made the Washington club a favorite in the betting.

Some forty-five thousand spectators swarmed into the concrete reaches of the historic ball yard this afternoon to cheer the Senators and the Giants. Another clear and warm day was furnished for the sport and the groundkeepers had the inner and outer gardens of the playing field in fine condition.

The Giants took the diamond for their batting practice shortly after 1 o'clock with Virgil Barnes pitching them up to the batters and Nick Altrock, Washington baseball comedian, on first base. Al Schacht was busy leading the band which had been blowing itself since 11:30 o'clock.

The Washington team went in for its batting practice with Zahniser, a right hander, pitching them over. Harris figuring that McGraw has exhausted his supply of effective left handers, and will throw a right hander in the person of Hugh McQuillan at them today.

Walter Johnson was late in coming on the field, but the bleacherites and the slowly filling stands recognized him and gave him a big hand.

Great Crowd at Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Early arrivals at the ticket windows of the Polo Grounds today indicated that the 45,000 attendance forecast by the dopsters would be exceeded before the Senators and Giants take the field for the third game of the world series.

Threatening clouds seem to be no deterrent to the hundreds of dyed-in-the-wool fans, whose all night vigil had been made passably endurable by the mild temperature.

Pick Washington to Win

As the early birds flocked about the turnstiles to be in position to get the choicest of the 20,000 unreserved seats in the upper tier of the grandstand and the 4000 bleacher benches, Washington was favored by odds of 6 to 5 to win today's game and by a margin of 11 to 10 to capture the series.

The bleacher line was built around a nucleus of five out-of-town fans at the Eighth avenue entrance, who had taken their seats at 10 o'clock last night. Joseph A. Folby, a school teacher of Springfield, Ill., who said he had motored all the way from his home, headed the queue.

Players Reach New York
Two special trains, one carrying Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball's high commissioner, and the other the New York and Washington teams, rolled into Grand Central station at 10 o'clock last night. An hour later, another special discharged hundreds of Washington fans at the terminal. Many other Senator followers arrived on regular trains between 5 and 7 this morning.

Fair Weather for Game
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Warm weather with the atmosphere blurred by an autumn haze, prevailed today, indicating that the first game of the world's series to be contested in the camp of the Giants might be played under fair skies.

Today's conditions were better than had been promised in earlier forecasts, in which cloudy conditions had been predicted. Fair and cooler weather has been promised for tomorrow.

The Sun gave exclusive world series service in the Square Sunday afternoon and a great crowd assembled on both sides of Merrimack street in front of The Sun building to hear and enjoy the returns.

5000 VOTERS HEAR WALSH FLAY G. O. P. FROM CITY HALL STEPS

Junior U. S. Senator Holds Enthusiastic Audience Spellbound, Scoring Coolidge, Gillett, and Republican Party Record—Talks Again Tonight at Liberty Hall

United States Senator David I. Walsh held 5000 men and women voters spellbound for a full half hour in front of city hall this noon, while he exposed the record of the present republican administration in Washington, denounced his opponent as a tool of the interests and champion of predatory wealth, and reviewed in a honest, straightforward manner his own record of accomplishment and performance for his constituency. He was greeted with cheers when introduced by James E. Markham and time and again in the course of his magnificent speech was obliged to halt until the spontaneous and continuous outbursts of wild applause subsided.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 18

Suddenly Jack felt himself being lifted upwards. "I guess our rhinoceros has reached shallow water," said the captain. And sure enough, the animal walked right up on the shores of Elephant Island. As soon as Jack and the captain slid off the animal's back, it went back into the water.

"Wonder where he's going now?" said Jack. "And I also wonder how Flip, Flop and the rest of the party are going to get over here." And while he and the captain watched the rhinoceros, they heard a loud noise just back of them. It came from a deep forest.

"What was that?" whispered Jack. "Sounds to me like an elephant—or maybe several of them," replied the captain. Then the old man suggested that they climb a tree for safety's sake until the rest of the party reached the island. Jack thought it a good idea. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

SO THE TWINS JUMPED ON BEHIND SNOODLE, WHO SAID "GIDDAP!" AND THE WHITE NIGHT-MARE BOUNDED OFF OVER THE MILKY WAY IN THE DIRECTION OF MARS.

Nancy and Nick went around and turned all the town clocks back an hour.

And the sand man went to the moon and asked the moon man to hold the moon back an hour.

All because they needed a few more minutes till bedtime, Tweekanose having stolen the magic sand again and made off with it.

The Sand Man was quite pleased when Mister Peerbout, the moon man, said quite obligingly, "Certainly, sir! Anything to oblige you, sir," and put his foot on the brake to keep the moon from going quite so fast.

Then looking at his speedometer, Mr. Peerbout said, "The moon is now going only five thousand miles an hour. We will be an hour late to-night."

"Thank you kindly," said the sand man. "If the twins come, please tell them that I have been to the dream maker man's at the edge of the golden forest on the ice mountain."

So away he went to the dream maker man's where he lived with his three sons, Snoodle and Snuggler and Snore.

The dream maker man and his three sons were just waking after a long day's sleep, for they did most of their work at night.

"Hey hum!" said the dream maker man stretching. "I hope none of the children were allowed to eat candy to-day, except one piece after dinner. When they get stomach ache they never sleep soundly enough for me to get near with my nice dreams of birds and summer and pretty things. Wake up, Snoodle! Up Snuggler! Shame on you, Snore!"

"I hope I'm not intruding," said the sand man just then, stepping in at the door. "But there's no time to lose. And he told me all about the race, Tweekanose, stealing his sand."

"Well, that's news!" cried the dream maker man. "Boys, come here. We'll have to help the sand man and the twins to get the sleepy sand back. Snoodle, jump on the white night-mare and go to Mars. Snuggler, jump on the black night-mare and go to Venus, and Snore, jump on the black and white night-mare and go to Jupiter. Get the sand back at any cost. Mr. Sand Man, do you know any magic words?"

"Just say 'Jinny Jinny,'" said the sand man. "If you say that the magic will jump right to you."

"May we go along?" asked the twins arriving just then.

"Certainly," said the dream maker man. "But you cannot be three places at once. Get on behind Snoodle on the white night-mare. He's going to Mars first."

So the twins jumped on behind Snoodle, who said "Giddap!" and the white night-mare bounded off over the Milky Way in the direction of Mars.

The sand man and the dream maker man continued their search for the mischievous gnomes on the moon, while Snuggle and Snore put new shoes on their marcs.

There was small hope of Tweekanose escaping.

And all the time the town clocks were catching up again. And for all the moon man kept his foot on the brake, the moon was catching up, too!

It was very exciting.

PROF. WALL DISCUSSES THE "DEATH RAY"

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Discussion of the subject of the "death ray" has broken out anew with the declaration by Professor T. F. Wall of the electrical research department of the University of Sheffield, that he believes he will be able soon to break up the atom and control its energy.

In a work of such importance, Professor Wall explains, one has to proceed with the greatest caution and progress is necessarily slow.

The experiments he is now trying result in the release of atomic energy, the question of the possibility of directing such energy in any desired way would become of supreme importance, he added.

Professor Wall has been employed in his researches for the past four months. They originated out of an investigation into the death ray and his possibilities, which he carried out earlier in the year. His work has been exciting, exciting and dangerous.

Professor A. M. Low, famous scientist, commenting on the attempt to release atomic energy, said: "It is a thing that is not impossible, but it strikes me as being not a little way in advance of human knowledge as it stands at present."

PRESIDENT BACK AT HIS DESK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—President Coolidge went to his desk today after a week-end cruise on the presidential yacht, Mayflower.

The trip, on which the President and Mrs. Coolidge were accompanied by a few intimate friends, including Speaker Gillett, of the house, was extended to a run of about twenty miles outside the Virginia Capes yesterday, the yacht heading back into Chesapeake Bay late in the afternoon.

BARNEY OLDFIELD HELD

Arrested for Driving Auto While Drunk—Was Going 87 Miles an Hour

CALENICO, Calif., Oct. 6.—Barney Oldfield, veteran automobile race driver, was at liberty under $500 bonds to-day pending arraignment in police court on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. According to the arresting officer, Oldfield was going 87 miles an hour between Calexico and El Centro late last night. Three state motorcycle officers attempted to overtake the racing driver, but only one was successful. The other two caught up with the procession and helped turn Oldfield over to the city health officers, who pronounced him intoxicated, and passed him on to the Calexico police.

FOUND BODY OF MISSING MAN IN CEMETERY

The body of Michael M. Kane, who was missing from his home, 81 South Highland street, for nearly six weeks, was found yesterday afternoon in a secluded spot in the Lowell cemetery by a group of boys. The body was badly decomposed and it is believed that death occurred shortly after his disappearance from home. Death, according to Medical Examiner Marshall A. Ailing, was evidently due to natural causes.

Boys playing in the cemetery found the body about 40 feet from the boundary line on the Fort Hill park side. They notified Officer John J. McNamee, who, after viewing the body, notified police headquarters and Medical Examiner Ailing.

Partial identification was made from clothing on the body and complete identification was made by relatives. The man's disappearance, it was reported, caused no concern as he was in the habit of leaving the city for work and would often remain away for weeks.

Mr. Kane was aged 54 years, and is survived by one brother, Joseph; one sister, Mrs. Bridget Heffernan; and one daughter, Miss Rosalie Kane. The body was removed to the funeral home of M. H. McDonough Sons at 14 Highland street.

LECTURE TOMORROW AT HIGH SCHOOL

The first lecture in the Harvard-Boston university extension course for teachers will be given here tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in room 137 of the high school by Professor Bancroft Beasley of the Harvard Graduate School of Education. The subject of the lecture will be "Principles of Teaching in Junior and Senior High Schools."

The course is given in this city under the auspices of the Lowell Teachers' Organization and is open to teachers of this city and surrounding towns. The course embraces a series of 15 lectures, for which a nominal fee will be charged.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents
RIALTO THEATRE

To regular patrons of the moving picture theatres there can be no doubt as to the relation of music to the motion picture and the value of the former to the latter. That is just the reason why all Griffith pictures and the success they usually turn out to be. Anyone will tell you that the music scores of both "The Birth of a Nation" and "Way Down East" increased the value of the pictures at least 50 per cent. And this is all due to perfect synchronization—that is—that the music is timed to fit the picture right to the second! And no picture can be a decided hit without the proper music! It is a well known fact that good music can make a good picture great and can make a mediocre picture good.

So, in keeping with their custom of giving local theatregoers not only the most of their money, but also giving them anything that may help them in seeking real entertainment, the Rialto management has secured the services of Mr. John Kehoe, a local boy, who is rapidly making a name for himself in musical circles. Mr. Kehoe is a splendid organist and he is already making a big hit on the Rialto Wurlitzer organ. He plays both afternoon and evening.

At the evening performances there are two additional players, Miss May Green, violinist, and Mr. Joseph Giny, clarinet and saxophone player. Miss Green is formerly of Edwidge's ladies orchestra of Boston, where she played first violin and she has many friends here, while Mr. Giny is one of the famous Six Brown Brothers.

The trio have already won the plaudits of local movie goers for the manner in which they interpreted "Judgment of the Storm," which was shown at the Rialto the past week.

"His Forgotten Wife" which opens at Laeue's Rialto today is the third big Palmer photoplay, the first two are the newer to be forgotten picture, "The White Sin" and "Judgment of the Storm," both of which packed the Rialto to capacity when they were shown. "His Forgotten Wife" is said to be equal to those two big successes.

"Mobilization Day for World Justice and World Peace" To Be Observed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Responses received from church pastors and communities to the call of the federal council of churches for observance of Armistice Day, Nov. 11, as "mobilization day for world justice and world peace," indicate wide co-operation in the movement, it was announced today by Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, secretary of the council's commission on international justice and good will. Entire communities will take part in the observance, he said, and city church federations are making extensive plans to give it the significance and meaning sought.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (by the Associated Press).—Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential nominee, set forth today on his longest and most strenuous speaking tour.

Leaving on a special train early this morning, he began a trip that will take him into Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming, Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio and Illinois and will last about 21 days.

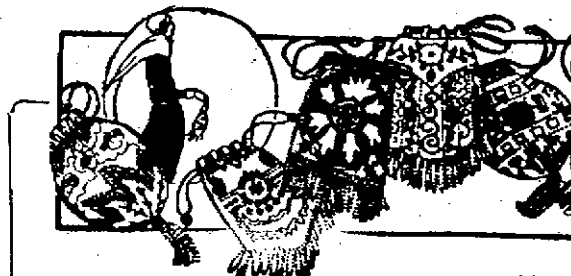

Reports of republican national headquarters here have told of pronounced La Follette sentiment in certain sections of those states and the tour begun today was planned by republican campaign managers with a view to countering it.

The route crosses and recrosses the trail of Senator Wheeler, Senator La Follette's running mate, and tonight the republican nominee will speak in Duluth, Minn., where his independent opponent spoke about ten days ago.

ACCEPTS CALL TO LOCAL PASTORATE

WILL ADDRESS POST AND AUXILIARY

From the pulpit of the First Baptist church yesterday, Rev. G. D. Feagan, who has been acting as pastor for some time past, announced his definite decision to accept the call to the pastorate, made a fortnight ago. Rev. Mr. Feagan preached two splendid sermons yesterday, in the morning taking for his subject, "The New Testament Church," and in the evening concluding his remarks under the theme, "The Culmination of Ages."

James P. McCready, returned delegate from the national convention of the American Legion, will tonight address a joint meeting of Lowell post, No. 37 and its auxiliary, telling of his experiences and explaining new legislation passed by the body at Minneapolis. Mr. McCready will also report on the session of the Middlesex county council held last Saturday and at which he represented Lowell post. The post hall committee is to report tonight and other matters of importance are scheduled to be taken up.

The services were well attended, the members of the church showing in this manner their readiness to support the new pastor in his new home. Mr. Feagan expressed himself as highly pleased at the reception and many well wishes extended to him.

Feast of the Holy Rosary Observed Yesterday With Special Services

Yesterday the feast of the Holy Rosary was observed in all the Catholic churches of the city with special services in the evening. Saturday night will be the feast of the Blessed Virgin and in nearly every church masses will be sung at 8 o'clock. Holy Rosary devotions will be held in the churches every evening during the week and will continue through the month.

Last evening at 8 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception church a procession was held in honor of the feast of the Holy Rosary. The Holy Angel and the Holy Rosary societies participated in the procession. The Holy Rosary society received holy communion at the 8 o'clock mass yesterday morning.

On Friday afternoon at St. Patrick's church there will be confessions for the boys of the parish. On Saturday morning at 7:45 o'clock a special mass will be celebrated for the communists. Holy Hour devotions will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Holy Name society and the members of the C.Y.M.L. will receive holy communion at the 8:30 o'clock mass next Sunday. Meetings of the Married Ladies' sodality and the Immaculate Conception sodality will be omitted during the month.

The Blessed Virgin sodality of St. Rita's church received holy communion at the 7 o'clock mass yesterday morning. A meeting of the sodality will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The forty hours devotion will be held, beginning Friday morning at 7:30 o'clock at which time a high mass will be celebrated. A solemn high mass to be sung at 11 o'clock next Sunday will bring the devotion to a close. The Holy Name society will receive holy communion at the 1 o'clock mass next Sunday.

A meeting of St. Peter's Cadets will be held tomorrow evening at which all companies will report. The Married Ladies' sodality will meet Wednesday evening after the rosary devotions. A meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality will be held Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The Holy Name society will receive communion next Sunday. The prize drill of St. Peter's Cadets will be held a week from tomorrow in the Cadet room.

The Holy Rosary society of St. Michael's parish received communion at the 5 o'clock mass yesterday morning. A procession in honor of the feast of the Holy Rosary, which will be also celebrated tomorrow, was held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and was followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. There will be a meeting of the guild tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Bishop Delany General Assembly Fourth degree, K. of C., will receive holy communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass next Sunday.

The members of the Immaculate Conception sodality of St. Joseph's parish received holy communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass at St. Joseph's church yesterday morning. Following the vesper services held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a meeting of the sodality was held.

Yesterday was the regular communion Sunday for the members of the

Rheumatic Pains Go Swollen Joints Vanish

Twisted, swollen, unsightly joints are rapidly freed from pain and brought back to normal with Rheuma. Lame people walk without aid; sleep comes to those who have been unable to lie in bed; hands that were helpless because of terrible rheumatism are now able to do their share for the support of the family.

Rheuma is wonderful remedy for rheumatism, gout, neuritis, lumbago and neuralgia. It is a wonder-worker; it never fails, never gives up until every vestige of poison is expelled from the body.

Rheuma acts on stomach, liver, kidneys and bladder. It at once and quickly brings long protracted discomfort to distressed sufferers. Green's Drug Store and all good druggists sell it with guarantee of money back if it is not satisfactory.—Adv.

is one reason for the rapidly growing popularity of the Hotel Martinique.

Another is the consistent economy of the entire establishment. Here you may enjoy a Club Breakfast at 45c, consisting of Fruit or Cereal, Bacon and Egg, and Rolls and Coffee—Special Luncheon and Dinners of superior quality are also served at the most moderate possible prices.

No location can be possibly more convenient than that of the Martinique. ## GIRL SCOUTS GIVE RALLY DAY PROGRAM

The Girl Scouts of the First Congregational church gave an entertaining program last evening in observance of Rally Day. The program which was being before the members of the church the scene of work being done by the Girl Scouts was most interesting and was attended by a large audience. The entertainment was brought to a close by the sounding of "Taps" by Miss Ruth Burrage of Reading, champion Girl Scout leader of Massachusetts in 1922 and 1923.

The cast of characters in last evening's program was as follows: Gwendolyn Cash as the "Spirit of Chivalry," the Misses Ruby Cookerline, Ruth Morse and Ruth Ball as the "Knights of Charlemagne," the Misses Mildred Combs, Ruth Besser and Pauline Bonnevill as the "Knights of King Arthur's Round Table," and the Misses Grete Russell, Edith Pulsifer and Edith Gilmann as the "Knights of Robin Hood." The exemplification of the Girl Scout principle was given under the direction of Capt. Irene Kershaw and Lts. Dorothy Ellis and Hazel Raymond.

Proceeding the program the pastor, Rev. Percy R. Thomas gave an inspiring sermon on "Are You Christian?" based on the 12th chapter of the first book of Kings, "What Doeth Thou Here, Elijah?"

An excellent program was given at the Lawrence Street Primitive Methodist church yesterday, in celebration of rally day. An appropriate address was delivered at the morning service by the pastor of the church and in the evening a concert was given under direction of Misses Marion Morris, Irene Teal and Elizabeth Richards.

THREE INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

An automobile collision on the Pawtucket boulevard at 9 o'clock last evening, resulted in three persons receiving minor injuries and both machines involved being badly damaged.

The accident occurred near the pumping station when Marco Lafranco of Nashua, driving a light coupe, swung onto the left side of the roadway to pass a parked machine and collided head-on with a roadster driven by Bernard J. Ready, Jr., of 13 Court street, this city.

Ready and his companion sustained minor lacerations and Lafranco suffered a painful bruise on the forehead. The machines were put out of commission by the impact and were towed to garages for repairs.

PUT AWAY THAT PESKY BUZZER

Somewhere within the confines of this city someone is using a buzzer with a radio set that is causing interference to radio broadcast listeners. Every evening last week this buzzer was buzzing in all over the broadcast wave-length scale and spoiled broadcast programs for many radio fans.

On Friday evening the interference was very bad, and fans in the district in which the "buzzer" is located were unable to enjoy any programs. These fans are up in arms and a communication to the Sun, one says that if the interference isn't stopped the matter will be taken up with the radio supervisor at the custom house in Boston.

GAVE ENTERTAINMENT IN COLONIAL HALL

The members of the local Greek community greatly enjoyed a real old-fashioned puppet show in Colonial hall last evening, when Constantine Theodoropoulos of New York, Chicago, Canada and Greece kept his large audience in spasms of laughter, as he gave numerous sketches and songs. The difference between this show last evening and the performances given in the European countries was that the puppets were behind a screen, strong electric lights showing their profile against the transparency.

Between the acts an orchestra composed of D. Triant, L. Triant and N. Zahara rendered numerous Greek selections which were pleasing to the ear. The affair last evening was for the benefit of the Greek church in Jefferson street and was under the direction of the following officers of the Greek community:

President: A. Asimakopoulou, secretary: James Glavin, treasurer: M. Boukouroulou, vice president: board of directors, Harry Houplis, C. Vourgozopoulou, N. Kazanas, A. Androuzopoulou, James Lianoris, Theodore Sarantis, Stephen Stephanopoulos and Theodore Gavriel.

SMOKY COMES UP FOR AN AIRING.

JOHN WILLIAMS

IN NEW YORK

BY STEPHEN HANNIGAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Sophisticated New York pauses to be entertained at a medicine show.

Hillited in a vacant store room on Eighth avenue, just a few steps from in Times Square, the 5th degree in show places, a travelling band of snake oil and salve vendors, go through their age-old ballyhoo each afternoon and night.

And business is good.

On the walls are advertising posters and pictures. In the front window is the come-on exhibition of wild, vicious rattlesnakes, their poisonous fangs wagging as vigorously as the hawk's tongue and their constant, warning rattling drowned in an interlocking speech of welcome.

In the rear of the room is an improvised stage, made of store boxes and soiled bunting. On it are the typical medicine show "props."

There is the ventriloquist's dark-complexioned dummy, from whose mechanically operated mouth flows joke book bromides that bring sure-fire snickers; the magician's deck of cards, the glass of water, the moth-eaten rabbit that appears from a dented plug hat.

After the short, snappy show is completed, the "doctor" dives into his lecture on the benefits of his famous compound. Cappers work through the audience selling, selling, selling.

It may be memories of childhood in some small town, where medicine men parked their wagons and in the flickering light of a kerosene lamp extolled in glorified terms the wonders of their preparations, that brings men and women in evening dress into this quaint show in the swirl of New York—and again it may be only curiosity.

But still they come.

Speeding New York steps a pace faster in the crisp, fall air. The gray east of overhanging clouds, casting shadows of its campy, wintry, is evident in the demeanor of the crowds.

The bubbling enthusiasms and care-free antics caused by a warm, friendly summer sun are chilling in the sweeping winds that whistle through canyons of huge buildings.

New York is wistful. There is much suffering here in the colder months.

BROADWAY CLUB

The annual election of officers of the Broadway club, was held yesterday with the following results: President, William A. Walsh; vice president, Daniel Conkley; financial secretary, Richard O'Brien; recording secretary, Joseph Sheehy; treasurer, Peter Brady; trustees, Timothy P. O'Sullivan, William Molloy, William Furey and James Neeson.

Mr. Walsh has been president of the club for the past three years and is recognized as an able and conscientious worker. His first announcement after the election yesterday was that the annual banquet of the organization will be held on Nov. 11.

AT THE CALVARY
BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Wallace C. Sampson, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, in his sermon yesterday on "Religion and Politics," said in part:

"Religion can better be expressed at the ballot box than in the prayer meeting. The prayer meeting, I admit, is the place to receive spiritual nourishment and power, but that power can be best utilized in doing our civic duties as 'Christian people and in a Christian way. We certainly would not want to see Baptists, or Catholics or Episcopalians or members of any sect dictating what kind of a government we should have, but if all Christian people of whatever kind did their duties as citizens of Christ's kingdom the corruption that haunts itself in national and municipal politics would soon die. We are prone to let things go, and let the other fellow do our thinking and our voting for us."

MADE PILGRIMAGE TO CEMETERY

The annual pilgrimage to St. Joseph's cemetery by the members of the C.M.A.C. was held yesterday afternoon with about 350 members in line, including about 100 World War veterans in uniform.

The line of march was formed at the clubrooms in Pawtucket street about 1 o'clock and the procession proceeded to St. Joseph's church where, at 1:30 o'clock, a Libera was sung, Rev. Lucien Brassard, O.M.I., of Notre Dame de Lourdes church, officiating.

Following the church services, the members went to St. Joseph's cemetery where, upon arrival, prayers were recited by Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I. A Libera was then sung by members of St. Joseph's choir under the direction of Telephone Auto, after which Rev. J. Brassard, O.M.I., delivered a stirring sermon and paid a beautiful tribute to the C.M.A.C. dead. Fr. Drapeau mentioned the ideals upheld by the beloved dead and asked the living to cherish the memory of their departed by banding together and continuing the work begun by the deceased members. He reminded those present that for them also the autumn of life would bring with it a call from the Master, a call which must be answered. Just as the honored dead had answered, so must every one render account to his Maker and Redeemer," he said.

At the conclusion of the sermon Taps was sounded and the procession wended its way through the cemetery to Gorham street, where cars were boarded for the clubrooms.

The committee in charge of yesterday's pilgrimage was comprised of Louis Bolduc, chairman; Eugene Beausoleil, Arthur Bilodeau, Reginald Dragon and Tancredi Blanchette.

Modesty Is Charming but health is vital

Growing girls should realize elimination is necessary; constipation dangerous. Mothers, urge use of Dr. Caldwell's Pepsin Syrup

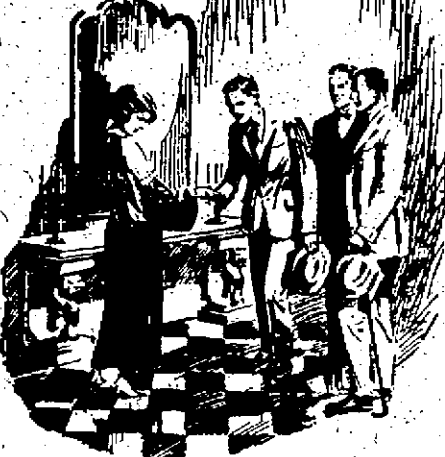

THE world is broadening and there is less excuse for prudery today than ever before. Parents and school teachers are helping by telling their children the fundamental facts of life.

The growing girl, therefore, who neglects the important function of elimination is living in a past age. She should realize that when days go by and there is no passage the general health is impaired, the monthly function is interfered with and fatal illness may result.

Mothers would do well to watch adolescent daughters for they, more than young boys, are prudish in this regard. Elimination should occur once a day, and if it does not, a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should be given. You will thus prevent intestinal poisoning and constipation and their train of disorders, sallow skin, pimples, lassitude, bad breath, headache and so forth.

Mrs. Jesse Maxey, 106 Third street, Aurora, Ind., and Mrs. Pat McCullough, Tampa, Fla., regularly use Syrup Pepsin in their households, and as a result their families are free from sickness.

It is not without reason that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is today the most widely used liquid laxative in the world.

over 10 million bottles being sold annually. It is mild and gentle in action and free from griping, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics, a safe laxative from which opiates and narcotics are entirely absent.

After using Syrup Pepsin you will understand why people discard the harsher physics and cathartics, pills, powders and salt waters. Others, too, no longer give children "candy cathartics," as they contain a coal-tar drug called phenolphthalein, which may cause skin eruptions. They prefer a safe laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, made from plants and vegetables, the prescription of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine for forty-seven years. Buy a bottle. A dose costs you on an average of less than a cent.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, fill their name and address to it, and send it to the Pepsin Syrup Co., 516 Washington Street, Monticello, N.Y., and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not inclose postage. It is free.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN The Family Laxative

Penacook, N. H., which was coming towards this city, and forced it into a ditch by the side of the road. A machine operated by Henry J. Constantineau of this city, which was following the "Horse" machine, plowed into the wreckage before it could be stopped. Huette and Edward W. Merrill of pinehurst, who was riding with him, received cuts and bruises about the head and Constantineau and his sister also received slight injuries. They were treated by Drs. M. A. Buck, E. A. Alley and O. S. Marshall and later went to their homes.

All three machines were badly smashed up and the highway was partially blocked for a considerable length

DISTRIBUTE SUNDAY SCHOOL CERTIFICATES

Certificates were presented to 18 students of the Sunday school classes of the Highland Congregational church yesterday morning, including the junior and senior departments. A program was given by the beginners' department under the supervision of Mrs. Lillian Caswell. The graduates are as follows: Beginners' department: Fay Young, Elizabeth Ealy, Margaret Gould, Robert Stronach, Beaulo Stronach; primary department: Helen Cushing, Barbara Preston, Walker French, Barbara Brownell, Everett Reed, Charles Mill-gato, Janet Moody, Arthur Davis, Junior department: Florence E. Chippendale, Florence I. Rawlings, Thomas Davenport, George P. Silva, Harold A. Sut-cliff.

Rev. Richard Peters, pastor, preached on "The Religion in Co-operation," while the choir rendered an excellent musical program.

There will be a church supper Thursday evening at which time the members of Woman's guild will be the hostesses.

CITIES CAN'T LIMIT RADIO, IS OPINION

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Attempts of various cities to regulate the use of radio within their limits have been construed as unconstitutional by government officials in the capital.

This opinion, which was anticipated by Secretary of Commerce Hoover at the radio conference in this city in March of 1923, when he stated specifically that "the government owns the ether," is the outcome of a peculiar legal entanglement that threatened at one time to set local city and state authorities at variance with the federal government. It was finally made clear to those interested that no lower regulatory body can govern any subject already regulated by congress.

Last year, when the radio season was in full swing, one state was on the point of creating the office of "state radio inspector" and a number of cities were giving serious consideration to the matter of prescribing how and when the ether should be used. Their only authority for so doing was the so-called "police power," which state charters confer on them for the abatement of nuisances that endanger the health, morals or prosperity of a community.

That this special authority should be interpreted as covering the subject of radio communication was regarded by the legally informed as being little short of humorous, and practically all cities where such agitation had developed out hastily pulled in their horns and ruled out proposed ordinances of this nature.

Probably no city in the country outside of Atchison, Kas., actually passed an ordinance of the kind. This was worded so indirectly that it was not regarded as encroaching in a literal sense upon the recognized and undisputed federal powers. It applied more particularly to indefinite "electrical disturbances."

UNDERWEAR FOR LOUD SPEAKERS

By N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Underwear manufacturers are going into the radio business.

They're manufacturing loud speakers. With the same material they have been using to make winter underwear.

According to one manufacturer whose mill, one of several in the same game, has been turned over almost completely to this new business, orders are on his books for 1,500,000 pairs. These alone could keep his plant busy up to July of next year.

One distributor of such horns has sold 300,000 since last October. The horns are made of the same material as, piece-lined underwear. The fabric is cut and sewed at the mill in the shape of the desired loud speaker. A special seam is used to prevent its being unduly prominent in the finished product.

The shape of the fabric is then pulled over an aluminum form, a filler is applied, the form hardened and baked, then painted and finished. The horns are finished in a wide variety of colors, to suit various tastes.

Advantages claimed for this form of loud speaker are its mellowness of tone, elimination of vibration and relative flexibility.

"UNCLE DAVE" CORY COMING TO WBZ

David Cory, the little Jack Rabbit Man, and his exciting stories of the battles of wit with the defenceless little Jack Rabbit has with his arch enemies, Danny Fox, Mr. Wicked Wolf, Old Man Weasel and Hungry Hawk, are coming to Westinghouse station at Springfield, Mass., on Thursday night. Cory's efforts are now devoted to sharing again that spirit of camaraderie with children, has consented to come to the Hotel Kimball studio of the Westinghouse station Thursday night, October 9, and relate to the thousands of kiddies in WBZ's large audience the fantastic little tales which have made him famous.

The "Little Jack Rabbit Man," as he is known, will bring with him from New York all his characters of the animal kingdom. Even his own scenery will be carried to the Springfield radio studio in the Hotel Kimball. The Sunny Meadow, the Old Bramble Patch, Jack Rabbit himself, the Rabbit Mother, Danny Fox, the Wicked Wolf, Old Man Weasel and the Hungry Hawk—all will be with Mr. Cory and all will be introduced for the first time to the kiddies of WBZ Thursday night. Cory will be presented at 7:30 o'clock and immediately following he, in person, will relate the stories which send the little ones off to bed smiling and happy.

Mr. Cory's life story is novel-like in its course. He was once a Wall street broker. He cast aside the affairs of counting house and Wall street, however, to share with all the children the magic that was in him, and he adopted for his own all the little ones of America. He began life at the start again and wrote the first of his "Jack Rabbit" stories. Today there are more than a score of his books in print and thousands of children everywhere wait each day for Uncle Dave and his story.

Uncle Dave is brimming with personality. Content and happiness beams from his eye and he knows how to communicate that cheer to all who meet him or hear him. Throngs of kiddies who but read his delightful stories will Thursday night have the privilege of hearing Uncle Dave and all but seeing and talking to him.

RADIO CONFERENCE OPENS TONIGHT

The third National Radio conference opens in Washington, D. C., this evening. The sessions will be held in the Department of Commerce building. The proceedings will be public and all persons who have suggestions regarding radio betterment will be heard. It is expected the conference will last about three weeks.

Poland soon will issue broadcasting licenses to scientific, educational and manufacturing organizations.

RADIO ENDS DREARINESS OF ARCTIC

By N.E.A. Service
WISCONSIN, Oct. 6.—Radio has added another scalp to its belt. It has conquered the monotony of a winter on an iceberg.

During the long winter months when their 83-ton schooner, the Rowdoin, lay trapped in frozen waters, the crew of Donald R. MacMillan, expedition leader, had plenty of time to reflect over their lives. The Rowdoin has just put back into this port after 14 months in the north regions.

"I can tell you this, that the faces and talk of six other men, closely quartered, get mighty monotonous," MacMillan says.

"But we had plenty to think about this time. The radio gave us that."

"We heard concerts from Chicago, from Omaha, Los Angeles, Catalina, San Francisco and Prince Rupert. Every day our radio operator, Donald Mize, posted a news bulletin, for he was able to hear reports from stations in England and Germany, particularly POZ in Germany."

Coast Interference
"It is interesting to note that we were never able to get stations along the Atlantic, probably because their broadcasting would have to come to us along a seaboard. Scientists say radio doesn't travel along a coast line."

"I can tell you," MacMillan adds, "it was a real thrill for us, isolated in the seemingly endless ice regions, to hear our relatives' voices when they broadcast from Chicago."

During the summer months, when there is darkness of night, MacMillan explained that there was little or no satisfaction in the radio.

"Just as it is here at home, the radio is more effective at night than during the sunny days," he says.

"But during the winter we depended on the radio to divert us and give us something to talk about."

FOOTBALL GAMES TO GO ON AIR

Broadcasting stations throughout the country are laying plans to broadcast important football games direct from the fields.

The important eastern games will be broadcast from station WEAF, New York. Marshall played away from the city will have direct line running from the field to the transmitting room.

Graham McNamee, who made himself famous with his announcements from the political conventions, will describe each game.

RADIO NOTES

The first aerial was constructed by Marconi in 1895.

The WD-12 tube should not be lighted above a dull red color.

Keep the antenna lead-in well away from the walls of the building.

Transformer ratios are low to avoid distortion from high voltages.

Three thousand radio patents have already been granted in this country.

France is offering prizes for the best non-technical essays describing the principle of radio.

Station WGV, Schenectady, transmits simultaneously on 350, 107 and 15.35 meters.

All radio users in Montclair, N. J., must get official approval of their installation before it can be used.

Election results will be announced from the National Radio Exposition in New York, November 3 to 5.

A condenser in series with the antenna or ground reduces the natural frequency or wavelength.

The Times of India, an Anglo-Indian daily at Bombay, has started broadcasting.

Fifty-six per cent. of the music dealers in this country are handling radio also.

RADIO AROUND THE WORLD

Possibility for relaying a single broadcast program almost around the world is seen in a chain of stations stretching from Hastings, Neb., to Berlin, Germany.

Stations KDKA and KFKX have been known to rebroadcast regular programs, picking up the original on a low wave-length and sending it off on a regular broadcast wavelength.

KDKA also has been endeavoring to reach London with its broadcast, a feat which is expected soon to become a daily event.

In such case, with Berlin picking up London broadcasts, we may hear of Station KFKX, or even KGO in Oakland, Calif., being heard in eastern Europe.

NO-TUBE BLOWOUTS

MORE RANGE FROM LOW WAVELENGTHS

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Successful experiments with transmitting on the lower band of wavelengths may point the way to a solution of the broadcasting problem.

Engineers in the U. S. Bureau of Standards here, together with commercial engineers throughout the country, have been working on just this phase of the radio problem. In less than a year they have been able to transmit long distances on low wavelengths, and now they are almost ready to turn the results of their experiments over for actual practice.

Stations WGY in Schenectady and KDKA in East Pittsburgh have been known to be working on short wave transmission. They have been broadcasting across the continent and the Atlantic, and have been relaying to other stations on wavelengths below 100 meters.

Now comes the word from government engineers that the extremely low wavelengths may be a boon to broadcasters. For by this means, they believe, hundreds of broadcasters may be allotted wavelengths all of different length—although varying by only fractions of an inch. Thus, no matter how many stations on the air, they could not interfere with one another.

This depends on further perfection of the transmitting and receiving apparatus, so that the finest tuning might prevail. This may be expected within reasonable time.

The way short waves would be allotted under such conditions would be by frequencies rather than wavelengths. One meter of the very low wavelengths is equal to several thousand kilocycles, which could be apportioned among several hundred broadcasters.

For instance, 4 meters equal 75,000 kilocycles and 6 meters are equivalent to 50,000 kilocycles, showing a difference of 15,000 kilocycles (or one meter). With stations differing in frequencies by about 20 or 30 kilocycles we may have from 500 to 750 broadcasters allotted frequencies covering only a small difference of one meter in wavelength.

This is quite possible, engineers say.

INTERNATIONAL WEEK

More than 100 broadcasters will participate in the trans-Atlantic tests to be conducted during International Radio Week, November 14 to 20. European broadcasters also are ready to co-operate.

PIGEONS AFFECTED

Pigeons flying over a radio station at Paterna, Spain, were found to have been affected by the wave transmitted from that station. When they flew over the aerial they were seen to hesitate in their course.

RADIO CONCERT HALL

A large hall has been opened in Geneva, Switzerland, for the public reception of European radio concerts. The admission fee is 50 centimes a person, about 10 cents.

RALLY DAY OBSERVED AT ST. ANNE'S CHURCH

Rally day was auspiciously observed at St. Anne's Episcopal church yesterday, both at the morning and the evening services, the latter being the first of the season. The pastor, Rev. Appleton Grantham, delivered an inspiring sermon at the evening service and urged the members to "carry on" in the coming year as in the past.

An excellent musical program was the feature of the service. W. C. Heller, organist; Alessandro Niccoli, violinist, and Mrs. Bertha Chapman Hulse, pianist, gave the following program: "Kameral Overture," by Rubenstein, piano and organ; aria by Tenaglia, 1840 A.D., violin solo; "Andante," by Widon, organ and piano; aria, by Schumann, violin solo; "Toccata," by Du-hols, organ solo; "Largo," from the "New World Symphony," by Dvorak, violin solo.

The church choir, composed of 60 voices, rendered several vocal numbers and added much to the excellency of the program.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO RED CROSS

Pleads for Civilized World Where Cost of Armament, Etc. Are Not Required

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Thanking the American Red Cross for its accomplishments for "practical and inspired charity," President Coolidge, in an address opening the annual meeting of the society here today, pleaded for a "truly civilized world where the cost of armament, of pensions, of fortifications, were not required to be borne."

"Where resources could be used," the president said, "to promote, not to destroy happiness—in such a world what mighty works could be accomplished under the leadership of the Red Cross spirit! Poverty, ignorance, prejudice and all uncharitableness might be completely relieved and remedied."

Toward such an ideal, Mr. Coolidge declared, the race is making progress. It will achieve, he asserted, "not by some magic formula in some inspired moment," but because men and women were more and more demanding it. In the Red Cross, the president said, the nation has its opportunity "to capitalize and direct the finest, the most appealing attribute of our human nature—charity." It is a strong support, he said, of the government and a reliable guarantee of the progress of civilization, showing the way "to a more complete realization of truth and justice through mercy."

Emphasizing its "practical idealism," Mr. Coolidge recalled the accomplishments of the Red Cross in relieving the distress resulting a year ago from the earthquake in Japan. "The Red Cross," he continued, "had the organization capable of turning this great overflowing of the sympathy of the nation to the best account. It insured a maximum of relief at the minimum of outlay. The gratitude of a great nation, disclosed in manifold form, more than repaid the splendid response of our people directed through this organization. Philosophers and historians may record this as marking a new era in the relationship between nations."

Describing the Red Cross as the only organization he knew which accomplished any good "by looking for trouble," the president declared it had a definite, comprehensive and practical program for helping those who need help "when they need it and where they need it."

"It knows," he said, "no creed, no party, no politics, no classes or groups. It is proof that materialism is not the dominant motive of the people of the United States. The Red Cross idea will develop as mankind develops. The ideal underlying civilization are the ideals of brotherly love, of tolerance, of kindness, of charity. The beauty of life lies in meeting whatever destiny awaits us, trusting one another, helping one another."

Mr. Coolidge welcomed the convention as the meeting of an organization "able to translate into results our deep regard for the interests of humanity."

MATRIMONIAL

Hanson—Chenevert

Mr. John Hanson and Miss Dorothy Chenevert, two popular local residents, were united in marriage Saturday evening at the home of Rev. Mr. Sailer, 142 Princeton street. Mr. Arthur Hardy and Miss Doris Wakefield attended the couple. The bride was attired in Canton crepe. She wore a veil held in place with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid wore yellow crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will make their home at 22 Barker street this city after an extended wedding tour. Present at the reception which followed the ceremony were guests from Plymouth, Dorchester, Haverhill and this city.

Rousse-Hall

Mr. Royal W. Rousse and Miss Grace M. Hall, two popular local residents, were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hall, in Burr street, by Rev. Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Anne's church. The bride wore a gown of white tulle trimmed with silver lace and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. Mrs. William R. MacVicker, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore peach colored georgette and carried tea roses. Mr. Thomas W. Hall, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride's gift to the matron of honor was a white gold bracelet, while the best man received a gold penknife from the bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Rousse will make their home at 27 Burr street.

Bliss-Adams

Mr. Warren G. Bliss of Warren and Miss Edith H. Adams of Chalmers, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the parsonage of the Unitarian church by Rev. L. J. Grannis. Miss Dorothy T. Hall and Mr. Adahert R. Adams, brother of the bridegroom, attended the bridal party. The bride was attired in dark blue satin and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid wore brown silk crepe and carried pink roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Lowell road. Mr. Bliss, who were the recipients of numerous gifts left on an extended wedding trip through the western part of the state and upon their return they will make their home in Warren.

Secrets of Beauty

BY MARIAN HALE,

Pictures Posed by Ruth Malmcomson, (Miss America)

The exercises we do for grace and symmetry should be a part of our daily beauty program, but we should also know of the exercises that promote health and banish minor ailments.

Whenever you feel a cold fastening itself upon you, practice deep breathing and get as much fresh air into your lungs as possible.

If you feel that you have abused your stomach or that your liver is "laying down" on the job, try this several times; place your hand over your diaphragm and breathe very forced breaths, as deep as you can, resisting the swelling of your diaphragm with your hand.

The sort of a headache that steals on you from being in a "close" smoky room or from severe nerve strain may often be cured by deep breathing combined with a walk in the fresh air.

Another way to banish a headache is to relax completely and allow the neck to become as limp as possible.

Then describe slow circles with the head trying to relieve the tension from the back of the neck.

An exercise that is excellent for the liver and the internal organs is to lie on your back with your hands behind your head, then bend the knees alternately, bringing them over your chest as far as possible.

Don't neglect your beauty sleep. Plenty of sleep is absolutely essential to the woman who wishes to look young and fresh.

A nap in the afternoon, if you have been out very late the night before, will freshen you immeasurably, even though you sleep but half an hour.

A hot bath when you are very tired is as restful as sleep and will do much to calm nerves that have been ruffled and to bring on the relaxation that smooths out your lines and banishes the strained look.

By keeping fit you not only keep yourself younger and more beautiful but you get the habit of being healthy so that you think twice before you overeat or overexert yourself in any way.

FIRE IN SPRINGFIELD

Firemen Fought $100,000 Blaze Under Bombardment of Shotgun Ammunition

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 5.—Firemen warily today fought a $100,000 blaze in the six-story warehouse of the Carliet Hardware company under bombardment of salvos of exploding shotgun ammunition ignited by the fire. The fire, of unknown origin, gutted the upper three stories. On the top story were 40 cases of shotgun shells and the greater part of these were set off. Many of them popped through the windows into the adjoining alleys but without doing damage. Strenuous work was necessary to confine the fire to the building. Water damage was heavy in the lower three stories.

SQUARE CROWNS

The square crown is replacing the round one in hats and height is being implied by trimming as well as by actual inches.

AMERICAN MURDERED AT TOMO, MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The murder of William B. Massey, an American citizen at Tomo, Mexico, was reported to the state department today by James B. Stewart, American consul at Tampico.

Massey's home is in Muskogee, Okla., and he is survived by a widow and two children. He was terminal superintendent of the Metropolitan Oil company.

The report said the Mexican local authorities had arrested, Joaquin Saenz, a Mexican, for the murder.

SCARF COLLAR

The scarf collar is liked on all types of frocks this season from fragile chiffons to the heaviest of wools.

DECORATIVES SLEEVES

Very wide sleeves gathered into a tight, narrow cuff are very decorative, particularly when they are embroidered or trimmed lavishly.

REPLACING SCARF

Pure tied about the throat like cravats are very awagger and are taking the place of the silk scarf.

"BABY" PLANE RACE ENTRY

A baby airplane, which weighs but 228 pounds, has been entered in the race for light planes to be held during the International Air Races at Dayton, O. It has a wing spread of 12 feet and is propelled by a 61 cubic inch displacement motorcycle engine. Bort Mix, an airplane mechanic of Dayton, built the machine, which can make about 75 miles an hour.

afternoon. A full membership of both branches attended.

James J. Byrne of Dorchester, sub-chief ranger, John J. Carney, treasurer, Joseph E. Sullivan, financial secretary, Hugh A. McQuade, senior woodward, John Lenox, junior woodward, James McGreevy, senior headie, Michael Nugent, junior headie, Patrick Sheridan, board of trustees, Patrick W. Moran, Thomas Costello, Michael Sullivan, branch physician, Dr. T. B. Delaney.

Branch St. Elizabeth

Chief ranger, Ellen A. Howard; sub-chief ranger, Theresa Rilly; treasurer, Elizabeth McGuinness; financial secretary, Mary A. Dillon; recording secretary, Mary Pelletier; senior woodward, Annie Shaughnessy; junior woodward, Mary McGovern; senior headie, Margaret O'Grady; junior headie, Katherine Mullin; board of trustees, Maria J. Markham, Elizabeth Maloney, Alice O'Connell.

High Chief Ranger Byrne congratulated the officers of the two branches and urged the members to co-operate and assist them in every undertaking. He also discussed the progress of the organization, stating that in all parts of New England, it is enjoying great prosperity.

Each of the new officers was called upon. All promised to do everything possible to continue the splendid work accomplished by past officers of the branches. A fine entertainment was carried out and a buffet luncheon served.

During an intermission in the program Joseph L. Handley arose and in

WOMAN BADLY BEATEN

Costas Doulis Taken to Worcester State Hospital For Observation

Was Released From That Institution Six Weeks Ago—Wife in Hospital

Costas Doulis of Flood's alley, who was arrested yesterday morning after he had kicked and beaten his wife so brutally as to cause her removal to the Lowell Corporation hospital, was taken to Worcester State hospital this morning to be examined as to his mentality. At 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning the police received a call that an assault was taking place in Flood's alley. Officer Alexander Duncan, detailed Officers William Linton, John Leahy and Sgt. Philip Dwyer to investigate and they found Mrs. Doulis was suffering intense pain as the result of a beating administered by her husband. The officers summoned the ambulance and the woman was removed to the hospital. Her condition is not regarded as serious. It was discovered that she was released from Worcester in July, 1923, being discharged about six weeks ago.

OPEN THIRD NATIONAL RADIO CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Representatives of all branches of the industry were gathered here today for the opening session tonight of the third national radio conference, called by Secretary Hoover to consider the numerous problems of radio development in the United States.

Arrangements have been made for radio-casting the opening address of Secretary Hoover and others to follow on the program tonight through a system of sixteen stations that will give the widest air-spread for any program since that of defense day. In addition to the secretary's address, beginning at 8:15 p. m., others will be delivered by C. P. Edwards, of the Canadian department of marine and fisheries, and Pedro P. Torres, of the Cuban Radio Service.

General sessions of the conference Tuesday will be open to the public to give opportunity for presentation of suggestions and proposals to the conference committee which later will be divided into sub-committees charged with detailed study of problems discussed in the various fields.

A neat speech presented on behalf of Branch St. Elizabeth, a handsome wrist watch to Margaret McInnis, retiring chief ranger. Miss McInnis, though greatly surprised at the presentation, was equal to the occasion, and expressed her thanks to the members for the beautiful gift, one she said, that would always be treasured as a pleasant reminder of the occasion. She thanked all for their assistance during her term as head of the branch and said that what ever success was enjoyed was due to the co-operation and efforts of the rank and file of the organization.

The following entertained with solos: James J. McGreevy, John McInerney, Annie Shaughnessy and Anna McGovern.

THE FIRST BALL

Walter Johnson, after 18 years of wonderful pitching for the Washington team, pitches his first ball in a world series while the thousands packed inside the ball park and outside roar their applause. The man at bat is Fred Lindstrom who wasn't even one year old when Johnson started to pitch for Washington. With two balls and one strike pitched, Lindstrom, the Giant third baseman, fled to McNeely, Washington centerfielder, for an easy out. Thus ended the big moment for the veteran and the novice. Muddy Ruel is seen catching for Washington, with Umpire Connolly behind the plate to call balls and strikes.

EMERALDS DEFEATED BY PAWTUCKET BLUES

In a contest chock full of thrills, the Emeralds lost to the Pawtucket Bluebirds yesterday afternoon on the Woodward avenue grounds by a score of 10-6. This contest was the last game of the regular Junior Twilight league schedule. The game was witnessed by the largest crowd seen at any of the league contests this season. The mayor pitched the first ball of the game. Vergaturo, who started the game for the Emeralds, was not in his usual form and he lost the crown, for his bag, from the were in the first two innings. Normandin who succeeded him was much more effective, but the damage done in the first two innings was too great for him and the Emeralds lost. Sullivan, who was twirled for the Pawtucket Blues, was replaced by Vergados. Vergados' performance in the opening frames really gave the Blues the victory. Vergados pitched a gem and gave up only three men to face him. Normandin was given sensational support. Several players were turned in by the outfielders, Edmunds, and McGee. Normandin started the game being the hot, but when J. Curry, the pitcher for the Pawtucket Blues, came to the grounds, he took up the receiving duties and Normandin took up the duties of pitcher. Vergados was already lost. Edmunds, star colored slugger of the Emeralds, turned in by himself. In the fourth game, when he batted out a lump three times in deep centre. This hit could easily have been put into a home run by any other player in the league, but Edmunds, for all though being known as the slugger of the team has a mischievous streak in him, and he hit on the bases. Greg of the Emeralds being the leading man in the league in base stealing by stealing four more bases during the game.' This game is the last of the season for the Emeralds.

FOOTBALL NOTES

All Riverside A. A. players are asked to report for practice on the Textile campus Wednesday night, at 6.30. They will play Young Cadets next Sunday. The team is composed of Ross, Brunelle, Molsan, Allard, Rault, Cote, Brunelle, Tyrell, Trudel, Dissonnette, Precept, Couture, Fadden and Martel.

The Tigers and the Wanderers battled to a scoreless tie on the North common yesterday afternoon. Red Burke of the Wanderers and Walker, now go after the O.M.L. Cadets.

"Dick" Harrington has been elected captain of the Cardinal team and Bevins, manager.

The Franklin A. C. has reorganized and are prepared to meet any 135-140 pound team in the city. For games call 5656-W and ask for Waller.

The Acro Athletics defeated the Bowlers R. X. on the North common Saturday, by a score of 12 to 0. It was the season's first game for the Acros and they are now anxious to develop a championship team in the 110 pound division. All challenges will be accepted through this paper or by sending the manager, at Cross and Fletcher, a note any night between 6.30 and 7.30 o'clock.

LOWELL SOCCER TEAM VICTORIOUS

The hard-fought golf by Ailing on the 35th hole, again failed to match and it went into extra holes. The story of the first extra and Ailing's win already has been told. The match played good golf in the first round and turned out to be a 77. It was the best round of his golfing career and it is to his everlasting credit that he got it when the championship was the toughest and the need was great. The match will go down into club history as one of the hardest fought and the most dramatic and a man would make a worthy champion.

They Won Pennant for Washington Back in 1885

Washington once idolized these men as it does "Buck" Harris and his boys today. They, too, won a pennant for it—the capital's first, and its only one, until the Senators came home from Boston this year with the American league flag. But that was back in 1885 when the great national pastime was still in its infancy. They called the team the "National Base Ball Club" in those days. From left to right, in the front row are: Hoover, cf; Gladmon, 3b; Scanlon, manager; Barr, p; Burell, lf; and O'Day, p. ## VISITORS DEFEAT

TEXTILE SCHOOL

Fumbling at critical moments defeated Lowell Textile in a game with St. Michael's college of Winooski, Vt. on the local campus Saturday afternoon. In an attempt to receive a pass from his center behind Textile's goal line, Walker allowed the pigskin to get away from him and Burns fell on it for a score. Mangan then scored the point after touchdown on an end run.

The second score went to St. Michael's on a forward pass to O'Hara, while Textile's lone tally was made by Bentley on a plunge through the opposing line after a series of dashes by the local backs down the field.

It was an uninteresting game from the start. Textile, heavier than the visitors, seemed to lack the necessary punch to put the ball across. Repeated fumbling marred several changes. Bill Brozman, a Lowell boy, played a brilliant game. Jimmy Corbett, another local boy weighing about 115 pounds, got into the game at quarterback and performed creditably.

REFERENCE TO WILSON
CHEERED IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Prolonged cheering interrupted a reference by Paul Loebe, former president of the Reichstag, to the late President Wilson as "the father of the League of Nations" at a memorial meeting for the war dead held in the Reichstag building yesterday under the auspices of the world peace congress. Loebe termed President Wilson an idealist, a far-sighted statesman and the initiator of a new era.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen of Norway, just arrived from the Geneva meeting, declared that the dawn of Europe is beginning as the outgrowth of the work accomplished by the League of Nations meeting.

The German audience also was unusually generous in its applause of the Belgian senator, Henri la Fontaine, who pleaded for the removal of the tariff barriers to supplement the League of Nations disarmament plans, and the French senator, Ferdinand Buisson, who paid tribute to the war dead of all nations as dying in the belief that their country was right.

The German contributions to the peace prize contest have failed to measure up to the expectations of the German judges, who announced a division of the first prize money and a distribution of the winning amount in small allotments. The winners will be announced during the present week. The prize committee meanwhile is publishing excerpts from the prize winning plan.

There were 4100 contributions in the German contest.

JOHN W. DAVIS BEGINS
TOUR OF N. Y. STATE

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—In harness again, and somewhat rested by the Sunday holiday spent at his home in Locust Valley, John W. Davis, started out today to carry the campaign issues to the voters of New York state and appeal for their support of both the national and state democratic tickets, headed respectively by himself and Governor Alfred E. Smith.

A strenuous three-day speaking program faced the presidential nominee. He was first listed to address a gathering of workers in Schenectady industrial establishments late today, going from there to Albany for an evening address and remaining overnight as a guest at the executive mansion of Governor and Mrs. Smith. In response to an invitation extended by them Tuesday and Wednesday were given over to a series of four speeches in Utica, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo.

ENDORSE CAMPAIGN

JOHN W. DAVIS

Dear Sirs:

I cannot too heartily commend your effort to have all eligible voters exercise their prerogative of citizenship.

A campaign to impress this upon every American citizen will have the unwavering cooperation of the Democratic Party of the United States.

Yours sincerely,

John W. Davis

The N. E. A. Service.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Gentlemen:

I understand from your representative that you are to undertake a campaign to impress upon the voters, without regard to party, their obligation to go to the polls at the coming election. I am in sympathy with every effort which tends to emphasize the fact that the right to vote is a duty as well as a privilege, and I am glad that you intend to bring this forcibly to the attention of your readers.

Very truly yours,

John W. Davis

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.,
Cleveland, Ohio.

United States Senate

Newspaper Enterprise Association,
1200 West Third Street,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Gentlemen:

The right to vote is conferred upon every citizen. It is a precious right. Its exercise is a sacred duty. Every citizen should vote on Election day. The mere casting of a ballot, however, does not fully discharge this duty. Voters should scrutinize the records of candidates, study the issues, and vote in the light of that knowledge. Through intelligent voting, the American people can win peace, liberty and economic freedom for themselves and their children. Progressives wish every citizen to vote, because it is the cardinal principle of their faith that this Government belongs to the people.

Sincerely yours,

CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—With President Coolidge presiding and delivering the open address, hundreds of chapter delegates from all parts of the country were here today for the first sessions at Memorial Continental hall of the fourth annual convention of the American Red Cross. The convention will continue through Thursday.

Red Cross service problems in the general field as well as its work relating particularly to disabled war veterans form the subject of addresses at the morning session by John Barton Payne, president of the society; Director Hines of the Veterans' Bureau, and Colonel D. H. Pond, chairman of the Home Service section of the Cleveland (Ohio) chapter. The afternoon program was devoted to round table discussion under the subjects of public health nursing, first aid, war service, home hygiene and care of the sick.

GAVE LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

A lecture on Christian Science was given at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, yesterday by Algernon Harvey-Bathurst, C. S. B., of London, England, who also is a member of the board of trusteeship of the Mother church at Boston. The lecturer spoke in part as follows: "Let me say at the outset that, as its name indicates, Christian Science is pre-eminently Christian and scientific, and it is most interesting to note that the best informed thinkers and students of today are admitting that, after all, Christianity must be scientific, and that science and Christianity are not words quite incompatible, as so many have been in the habit of affirming. "That which is scientific must be capable of proof or demonstration, and I feel confident that we shall see how we can each commence, without further delay, to avail ourselves of the peace, the health, the freedom, joy and satisfaction which await every honest student of this great subject; how we can demonstrate the truth regarding man, and, therefore, regarding ourselves. "Christian Science gives assurance of salvation from any and all erroneous concepts of God, man, and the universe. In other words, Christian Science has given us again the true idea of God, has revealed God again, the same God of whom Jesus spoke when He said: 'But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship Him.' "As Christians, we acknowledge Jesus as the wayshower. If, however, we take note of the vast variety of interpretations placed upon his teachings by the many different sects and churches, we find the few of them are in complete accord, and still fewer maintain the all-important part of his teaching, namely, the healing of the sick as well as the reformation of the sinner. "Christian Science teaches that the healing of sickness and the destruction of sin are both brought about in the same way, and are as necessarily proof of the understanding of teaching of the Master today as they were admitted to be during the early part of the first century A. D., at the dawn of the Christian era. 'Whether it is easier,' the Master said, 'to say, thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, arise, and walk?' "The Christian Science movement is what it is today because it heals and heals permanently, and because it also destroys the desire or ability to sin."

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN HOLD RALLY IN MEMORIAL HALL

Attitude of President Coolidge Towards Industrial Workers Attacked by Chairman of Democratic State Committee—Policies of Democratic Party Are Upheld

At a stirring rally of the democratic women's organization of this city in Memorial hall yesterday, the attitude of President Coolidge toward industrial workers was attacked by Charles H. McGuire, chairman of the Democratic state committee. Democratic policies were upheld by this speaker and also by Mrs. Collin W. Macdonald of Boston, vice-chairman of the democratic state committee. Humphrey O'Sullivan, democratic nominee for congressman in the fifth district; Cornelius Cronin, chairman of the democratic city committee and Miss Katherine F. McCarthy, chairman of the local democratic women's organization here, also participated in the meeting and, following the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the audience, urged the democratic women to register for the state election November 4. She also remarked that at the present time there is only one practical official and said this would not be the case if the women came forth and carried on in politics as they should. She said in part as follows:

"We are the people and it is for us to take interest in the people. As those women were pioneers in bringing about women's rights, you women today the planer women in voting. There will come the time later when women will regard voting as a duty, for such it is. Now I urge you women to register and see that other women register, then see that they vote; and not only do I urge you to vote, but to vote right."

"There are many reasons why women should vote; acts of legislation that women should take a stand in. There is the child labor amendment to the Constitution coming up. This bill has its good points and has its bad points. It is a good bill, it would be harmful to a great many. As it is now it should be voted down. A new bill should then be presented in which the bad features of the present bill are eliminated. As the bill now stands a man would not be able to take his child out of the factory and send it to a certain age. Of course there are cases where children are worked unreasonably, and the bill would operate for their good. But here in Massachusetts, we have sufficient legislation covering child labor, and do not need any more."

A majority of 150,000 for Senator David I. Walsh and Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, was prophesied by Mr. McGuire in his address, and a sweeping victory for other democratic candidates would follow. In the national election, he said, from the national defense board during Gov. McCall's administration, and was first president of the League of Catholic Women. She spoke of the necessity of women registering for the election and to live up to their duties as citizens by voting. She said in part:

"I have heard the president of President Coolidge the guise of a farmer, but he is not a farmer. In 25 years he has held 11 different political offices. If he had been with the people this would not have been possible. "Speaking about our democratic candidate for president, do you realize that he has been said by judges of the supreme court to be one of the greatest lawyers in the country? "We are the common people up here, and we should take a great deal more pride in ourselves. I do not think that we should take second place. We ought to be the men of a party like ours which has been a refuge. The republicans are going to lose on their past record."

"It is not the thing to put your faith in a man, or you will be disappointed; but it is far better to place your faith in the principles of the party and particularly the principles for which the democratic party stands."

Humphrey O'Sullivan was the final speaker of the rally, and after adding his approval to the statements of the preceding speakers, said:

"The thing about which I would like to say a word to you today is rotation in office. The office of representative in congress from this district has now been held for 12 years by the same gentleman, and as far as any indications are that we can see, he has no intention of leaving it around. If he had accomplished some constructive things for the district during his twelve years, and if some of them were in a period of development, it might be argued for him that he should be given an opportunity to finish his constructive program. It is possible that there is no such program in evidence and therefore no basis for an argument that he be given another term to round it out, the only conclusion one can arrive at is that he intends to inflict himself upon this district indefinitely.

Assuming that he has got the voters of this district locked in, there is no other conclusion to be reached except that the voters of this district are entirely satisfied with his lack of interest and achievement in their behalf, or they are apathetic, hopeless and helpless about the labor conditions and the industrial conditions in Lowell and the entire district.

"What the men and women voters of this district should do and do at once is to wake up and say, 'We have stood this condition of things long enough. We have problems in this district that demand action and we want some one in congress who will make an honest effort to find a solution for our problems.' Unless that is done, I have serious misgivings about the future of Lowell."

"I am offering myself as a candidate in this instance to serve for one term only, with the distinct understanding that I am in the contest to break down this barrier and open the way for men and women who are competent and willing to represent this district in congress in a manner that will restore confidence to the many interests involved."

"This is to be a campaign of cooperation in every sense of the word and it is up to the voters to rally on this occasion as they never did before because this congressman claims he is 'unbeatable'; that he is entrenched and it is beyond your power to remove him."

"I invite you therefore, and all those who are, not here, while there is yet time to see to registration, to get your friends interested in the vote on election day, and to do everything in your power to bring about a change in the representation of this district, and show the congressman that he is mistaken."

CHINESE ATTACK MRS. DECKER

American Woman Subjected to Rough Handling and Detained in Cell

Two Chinese Policemen Drag American Woman From Auto at Gun Point

HONG KONG, Oct. 5 (By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Harvey Decker, an American and wife of the manager of the Canton City Transportation company Saturday was subjected to rough handling, jostling and jarring and finally to detention in a police station cell by 20 Chinese policemen, according to word received here today.

Mrs. Decker, who is in delicate health, had gone to a police station in connection with a demand for payment of a police tax alleged to be due from her husband on the ground that he is engaged in business in Canton. Mrs. Decker was arguing that she and her husband should be exempt from the police tax because the Canton City Transportation company is a foreign company when some of the police thrust a revolver against her side, dragged her out of her motor car and carried her into a barred cell.

Mrs. Decker endeavored to communicate with the American consul general, but was prevented by the police. Until, after nearly two hours of molestation, her husband was informed of her predicament and invoked the assistance of the American consul who went to the police station and obtained her release.

JOSEPH TOSTA FRATUS DIES SUDDENLY

Joseph Tosta Fratus, 55, an employee of the picker room of the Hamilton mill for the past two years, died suddenly while at work this morning and died in the first aid room before medical assistance could be rendered.

Deceased made his home at 712 Gorham street, and was apparently in good health when he left home this morning. It is believed that he was overcome with heart trouble while at work.

Besides his wife, Emilio, he is survived by two daughters, Mary and Margaret Fratus; four sons, Charles, John, Joseph and Frank; three brothers, Frank, Manuel and Antonio, and one sister, Mrs. Frank B. Avila. He was a prominent member of the Portuguese Benevolent society. The body was removed to the funeral home of M. H. McDonough Sons, and will be taken to his home in Gorham street this evening.

MAN AND WIFE ARE FOUND DEAD

SOMERVILLE, Oct. 5.—Martin Stenger, an aged resident of this city, and his wife were found dead in their home on Oak street today. The medical examiner pronounced death due to accidental gas poisoning. Gas was found escaping from a stove in the kitchen.

MICHAEL COLLINS DEAD

Father of Dr. William M. Collins of This City Passed Away Yesterday

Deceased Was Head of Lawrence Water Works and Well Known Here

Michael P. Collins, one of the best known residents of Lawrence and father of Dr. William M. Collins of this city, died at his home, 263 South Broadway, Lawrence, yesterday at the age of 74 years.

He was born in London, England, of Irish parents, on Sept. 24, 1850. When a child he came to this country with his family and settled in Dover, N. H. After a few years' residence in the New Hampshire city, the family moved to Lowell, and it was in this city that deceased received his education.

In 1870 he moved to Lawrence and took an active part in the political life of ward 5, in which section he lived until his death. During his many years' residence in the town he held office in the common council, as chief of the fire department, assistant chief of the same department, foreman of the Spicket river improvements, superintendent of streets, chairman of the Lawrence cyclone relief committee in 1890, and in 1892 was named foreman of the city filtration plant. A year later he was made superintendent of the water works and up to the time of his death was prominently identified with water works activities.

In 1873 he married Ellen Newman of South Lawrence, who died in 1916. He is survived by four sons, Dr. John T. Whitman; Dr. William M. of Lowell; Fred N. and Thomas A. of Lawrence; two daughters, Julia N. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Hannon of Andover; six grandchildren and two brothers, Cornelius E. and Thomas W. of Lowell.

Deceased was a member of the American Water Works association, New England Water Works association, the United Federal Societies, Massachusetts Fire Chiefs club, the Bricklayers' union, Lawrence lodge of Elks and Fourth degree assembly of Lawrence council, Knights of Columbus.

Funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's church, Lawrence, Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

FORMER PUBLISHER DEAD
PITTSFIELD, Oct. 5.—Robert Edwin Bonner, 70, formerly publisher of the New York Ledger, died at his summer home in Lenox this morning. He was president of the Princeton class of 1876 and prominent in athletics there. He succeeded his father at the helm of the Ledger.

AUTO INJURIES FATAL
MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 6.—Injuries sustained by 8-year-old James Barber when he was struck by an automobile driven by Carl Gray of Barre yesterday afternoon resulted in his death at a hospital here last night. OVER 20 YEARS OF SUCCESS

LOWELL'S FIRE LOSS FOR 1924 WILL REACH $1,000,000 MARK

Total Loss of the Associate Building Fire in April
Was Approximately $518,000—Figures Taken From Statistics Furnished by Insurance Companies

Lowell's fire loss for 1924 will in all probability be a million dollars, or an increase of nearly 40 per cent over last year's loss of $642,261.44.

This opinion is based on the fact that the total loss of the Associate building fire in April of this year was nearly $100,000 greater than the most severe fire of the preceding year, which was the Fluke block fire, with a loss of $113,000.

The total loss incurred by the Associate building fire, according to figures in possession of Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders, is slightly less than $518,000. These figures are compiled from statistics furnished the fire department by insurance companies which carried insurance on the damaged buildings and their contents.

A comparison of fire losses from 1912 to 1923 shows that there was an increase of approximately $440,000 in the decade. The lowest loss for a year during this ten-year loss for a year when the total was only $141,571.51. The number of alarms during the same period shows an increase of nearly 500, there being 882 recorded in 1912 and 1407 in 1923.

With the exception of the Associate fire, the losses for this year are about the same as last year's without the loss incurred by the Fluke block fire. The total for 1923 with only the latter was $221,251.44 and if this year's loss is approximately the same with the exception of the Associate fire, it will reach a total of over a million dollars with the latter fire loss included.

Mr. Clark is making a flying tour through the clubs, meeting with the apartment clubs and explaining the new plan. Never before has any matter been received so enthusiastically as the entire body of apartment. The reason is that it affects the fireman and gunner alike—the fox hunter, just as strong for it as the duck, grouse or rabbit hunter, and the fisherman, game warden and sportsman.

The Lowell club will be one of the first to hear Mr. Clark and because he is dated up for practically every night during the next six weeks, the club is exceedingly fortunate in having him at this meeting on Oct. 7.

This will be of the greatest interest to every hunter and fisherman, and the club members are expected to attend this meeting to all who are interested in having more hunting and fishing.

PLAN TO PROVIDE MORE HUNTING AND FISHING

A plan that will positively supply more hunting and fishing for Lowell as well as for all other parts of the state will be explained by Arthur L. Clark, secretary of the Massachusetts Fish and Game Protective association at the meeting of the local club tomorrow (Tuesday), Oct. 7, in Odd Fellows building, at 8 p. m.

Mr. Clark states that this is an entirely new plan which will be put in operation on Oct. 20 and thereafter by the 72 clubs affiliated with that organization representing more than 10,000 persons, that the plan is being received with the greatest enthusiasm and that it is sweeping through the state.

M'ADOO TO UNDERGO AN OPERATION

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 5.—William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of treasury, came to Johns Hopkins hospital yesterday to undergo an operation for the removal of gravel from the bladder. It was planned to put him on the operating table today.

Dr. Hugh H. Young, clinical professor of urology at the Hopkins Medical center, said that Mr. McAdoo's physical condition was good and that the operation was not dangerous. Mr. McAdoo probably will be laid up a week, Dr. Young said.

Before coming to Baltimore, Mr. McAdoo advised John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, of his plans and arranged with Mr. Davis and his campaign manager to make several campaign speeches as soon after leaving the hospital as attending physicians thought proper.

MINOR CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Three men were fined $20 each, and 15 others, $5 each in district court this morning when they were found guilty of being present where gaming implements were being used.

Being second offenders, John Dallas, Thomas Katsis and Emanuel Jermel, were fined $20 each, while the following first offenders were fined $5 each: Peter Ferris of 58 Fenwick st., John Davis of 52 Market st., John Davis of 23 Franklin st., Poules Cost of 338 Suffolk st., Thomas Kites of 418 Market st., Peter Kates of 528 Market st., Nicholas George of 52 Cabot st., Charles Arvanopoulos of 95 Jefferson st., Peter Parnas of 508 Market st., Charles King of 512 Merrimack st., John Poules of 136 Cross st., James Pappas of 74 Kimball st., Peter Vilas of 62 Cabot st., Kimball Moultons of 312 Market st., Peter Kates of 528 Market st.

The appearance of the men in court was conducted early yesterday morning in a gambling club in Hanover street, Sergeant Winn and Officers Conroy and Moore taking the cases.

John P. Tansley and Maurice Beaudette, both charged with drunkenness, were continued until tomorrow.

Timothy J. Toomey was found guilty of drunkenness, and was placed in care of the probation officer for one month.

Edward J. Sheridan, drunkenness, was given a suspended sentence of five months in the house of correction.

Mike Sojick was fined $15 for drunkenness. Patrolman Patrick Connolly stated he found the man under a bed in a Gorham street house. He had been through an open window, he said.

Walter Karkota, drunkenness, was continued until tomorrow.

Andrew J. Witzcavitch, drunkenness, and operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, was continued to Oct. 11.

Edmund E. Scotch, operating a machine without a license or registration, was fined $5 on each count.

Fred G. Field of Boston, unlawfully using an auto and operating without a license, was continued to Oct. 14.

Samuel S. Parent, non support, was placed on probation with the understanding that he contribute $10 weekly to his wife's support.

Philas Kotofollas, larceny, was continued to Oct. 11.

ZBYSZKO ABUSED BY 100-POUND WIFE GRANTED DIVORCE

ALBANY, Me., Oct. 6.—Wladek Zbyszko, the wrestler, has been granted a divorce from his wife, Amelia Zbyszko, on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

Action for divorce was entered at the supreme court over a year ago, but was put off from term to term, finally being given a hearing in Chambers at the present time. Mrs. Zbyszko did not contest the charges.

Zbyszko is a resident of Old Orchard.

Zbyszko in his libel alleged cruel and abusive treatment. He is a giant in size and one of the greatest wrestlers in the country, while his wife is under five feet and weighs a little over 100 pounds.

The maiden name of Mrs. Zbyszko is Amelia Diaz. She is now only 22 years of age. She was married to Zbyszko in Havana, Aug. 26, 1921.

TWO WOMEN, FIVE MEN MURDERED

Overtaken Engine and Sacked Train — Three Young Women Carried Off

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 6.—Five soldiers and two women, one the mother of four children, were killed by bandits who yesterday derailed and attacked a passenger train on the Isthmus line between Joachim and Piedras Negras.

Commanded by Jose Lagunas, Pedro Gonzalez and Cayetano Acar, the last named a Turk, the bandits overturned the engine and sacked the train after killing the soldiers and taking prisoner the remaining escort of 18 men.

The passengers were forced to strip to their underclothing. The bandits carried off 16,000 pesos from the express and also took with them three young women from among the passengers.

Colonel Zuniga with troops started in pursuit four hours later, when the passengers reached Piedras Negras and told their story.

Formal Approval of Mayor Given to Requisition Made
Two Months Ago by Chief Saunders—Purchasing
Agent Authorized to Buy for Immediate Delivery

Purchasing Agent Edward J. Donnelly today received from the mayor's office an approved requisition for a triple combination pumping engine for the fire department, same to have a pumping capacity of 1000 gallons per minute and to be driven by a 6-cylinder motor with piston pump and hoister. The requisition was presented by Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders and is dated Aug. 13, and calls for immediate delivery. The date of approval is Oct. 4. Purchasing Agent Donnelly will probably advertise a call for bids tomorrow. Since the disastrous Association building fire of several months ago there has been an agitation for the purchase of a 1000-gallon pump. Pumps with this capacity have been

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The Washington Senators invaded the stronghold of the New York Giants here this afternoon intent on smiting the proud champions of the National league, hip and thigh, and making them like it. The brilliant victory of the American leaguers yesterday at the national capital had made them a host of friends in the alien Polo grounds, and today though each club has captured a game in the world's series struggle, New Yorkers have made the Washington club a favorite in the betting.

Some forty-five thousand spectators swarmed into the concrete reaches of the historic ball yard this afternoon to cheer the Senators and the Giants. Another clear and warm day was furnished for the sport and the groundskeepers had the inner and outer gardens of the playing field in fine condition.

The Giants took the diamond for their batting practice shortly after 1 o'clock with Virgil Barnes pitching them up to the batters and Nick Altrock, Washington baseball comedian, on first base. Al Schacht was busy leading the band which had been blowing itself since 11:30 o'clock. The Washington team went in for its batting practice with Zahniser, a right hander, pitching them over. Harry Faghting (that McGraw has exhausted) led his copy of effective left handers, and will throw a right hander in the person of Hugh McQuillan at them today.

Waller Johnson was late in coming on the field, but the bleacherites and the slowly filling stands recognized him and gave him a big hand.

The Batteries
Marberry and Ruel was the battery for Washington and McQuillan and Gowdy for the Giants.

5000 VOTERS HEAR WALSH FLAY
G. O. P. FROM CITY HALL STEPS

Junior U. S. Senator Holds Enthusiastic Audience
Spellbound, Scoring Coolidge, Gillett, and Republican Party Record—Talks Again Tonight at Liberty Hall

United States Senator David I. Walsh held 5000 men and women voters spellbound for a full half hour in front of city hall this noon, while he exposed the record of the present republican administration in Washington, denounced his opponent as a tool of the interests and champion of predatory wealth, and reviewed in a honest, straightforward manner his own record of accomplishment. He was greeted with cheers when introduced by James E. Markham and time and again in the course of his magnificent speech was obliged to halt until the spontaneous and continuous outbursts of wild applause subsided.

ASSESSORS' VALUATION UPHELD IN BURGESS-LANG PROTEST CASE

Opinion by Judge Sanderson in Middlesex Superior Court Denies and Dismisses Petition for Abatement—Trustees of Property Claimed Valuation Too High

The Middlesex county superior court has dismissed and denied the petition of the Lowell building trust for the abatement of 1923 taxes on the Burgess-Lang building in Middlesex street, notified to this effect, having today been received by Patrick Reynolds, city solicitor. The decision is that of Judge Sanderson, recently elevated by Gov. Cox to the supreme bench, and is one of the first cases of this nature to be brought to trial in several years.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 18

Suddenly Jack felt himself being lifted upwards. "I guess our rhinoceros has reached shallow water," said the captain. And sure enough, the animal walked right up on the shores of Elephant Island. As soon as Jack and the captain slid off the animal's back, it went back into the water.

"Wonder where he's going now?" said Jack. "And I also wonder how Flip, Flop and the rest of the party are going to get over here." And while he and the captain watched the rhinoceros, they heard a loud noise just back of them. It came from a deep forest.

"What was that?" whispered Jack. "Sounds to me like an elephant—or maybe several of them," replied the captain. Then the old man suggested that they climb a tree for safety's sake until the rest of the party reached the island. Jack thought it a good idea. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

SO THE TWINS JUMPED ON BEHIND SNOODLE, WHO SAID "GIDDAP!" AND THE WHITE NIGHT-MARE BOUNDED OFF OVER THE MILKY WAY IN THE DIRECTION OF MARS.

Nancy and Nick went around and turned all the town clocks back an hour. And the sand man went to the moon and asked the moon man to hold the moon back an hour. All because they needed a few more minutes till bedtime. Tweekanose having stolen the magic sand again and made off with it. The Sand Man was quite pleased when Mister Peerbout, the moon man, said quite obligingly, "Certainly, sir! Anything to oblige you, sir," and put his foot on the brake to keep the moon from going quite so fast. Then looking at his speedometer, Mr. Peerbout said, "The moon is now going only five thousand miles an hour. We will be an hour late to-night."

"Thank you kindly," said the sand man. "If the twins come, please tell them that I have been to the dream maker's at the edge of the golden forest on the ice mountain." So away he went to the dream maker's man's where he lived with his three sons, Snoodle and Snuggie and Snore. The dream maker and his three sons were just waking after a long day's sleep, for they did most of their work at night. "Hey hum!" said the dream maker man stretching. "I hope none of the children were allowed to eat candy today, except one piece after dinner. When they get stomach ache they never sleep soundly enough for me to get near with my nice dreams of birds and summer and pretty things. Wake up, Snoodle! Get Snuggie! Shame on you, Snore!" "I hope I'm not intruding," said the sand man just then, stepping in at the door. "But there's no time to lose. And he told me all about the racial, Tweekanose, stealing his sand." "Well, that's news!" cried the dream maker man. "Boys, come here. We'll have to help the sand man and the twins to get the sleep and back. Snore, jump on the white night-mare and go to Mars. Snuggie, jump on the black night-mare and go to Venus, and Snore, jump on the black and white night-mare and go to Jupiter. Get the sand back at any cost. Mr. Sand Man, do you know any magic words?" "Just say 'Immy Jiminy,'" said the sand man. "If you say that the magic sand will jump right to you."

"May we go along?" asked the twins arriving just then. "Certainly," said the dream maker man. "But you cannot be three places at once. Get on behind Snoodle on the white night-mare. He's going to Mars first." So the twins jumped on behind Snoodle, who said "Giddap!" and the white night-mare bounded off over the Milky Way in the direction of Mars.

PROF. WALL DISCUSSES THE "DEATH RAY"

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Discussion of the subject of the "death ray" has broken out anew with the declaration by Professor T. P. Wall of the electrical research department of the University of Sheffield, that he believes he will be able soon to break up the atom and control its energy. In a work of such importance, Professor Wall explains, one has to proceed with the greatest caution and progress is necessarily slow. The experiment he is now trying results in the release of atomic energy, the question of the possibility of directing such energy in any desired way would become of supreme importance, he added. Professor Wall has been employed in his researches for the past four months. They originated out of an investigation into the death ray and its possibilities, which he carried out earlier in the year. His work has been exciting, exciting and dangerous. Professor A. M. Low, famous physicist, commenting on the attempt to release atomic energy, said: "It is a thing that is not impossible, but it takes time as being not a little way in advance of human knowledge as it stands at present."

PRESIDENT BACK AT HIS DESK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—President Coolidge went to his desk today refreshed by a week-end cruise on the presidential yacht Mayflower. The trip, on which the President and Mrs. Coolidge were accompanied by a few intimates, including Speaker Gillett, and the house, was extended to a run of about twenty miles outside the Virginia Capes yesterday, the yacht heading back into Chesapeake Bay late in the afternoon.

BARNEY OLDFIELD HELD

Arrested for Driving Auto White Drunk—Was Going 87 Miles an Hour

CALEXICO, Calif., Oct. 6.—Barney Oldfield, veteran automobile race driver, was at liberty under $500 bond today pending arraignment in police court on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. According to the arresting officer, Oldfield was going 87 miles an hour between Calexico and El Centro late last night. Three state motorcycle officers attempted to overtake the racing driver, but only one was successful. The other two caught up with the procession after helping turn Oldfield over to the city health officers, who pronounced him intoxicated, and passed him on to the Calexico police.

FOUND BODY OF MISSING MAN IN CEMETERY

The body of Michael M. Kane, who was missing from his home, 34 South Highland street, for nearly six weeks, was found yesterday afternoon in a secluded spot in the Lowell cemetery by a group of boys. The body was badly decomposed and it is believed that death occurred shortly after his disappearance from home. Death, according to Medical Examiner Marshall L. Alling, was evidently due to natural causes. Boys playing in the cemetery found the body about 40 feet from the boundary line on the Fort Hill park side. They notified Officer John J. McNamee, who, after viewing the body, notified police headquarters and Medical Examiner Alling. Partial identification was made from clothing on the body and complete identification was made by relatives. The man's disappearance, it was reported, caused no concern as he was in the habit of leaving the city for work and would often remain away for weeks. Mr. Kane was aged 54 years, and is survived by one brother, Joseph; one sister, Mrs. Bridget Heffernan; and one daughter, Miss Rose. The body was removed to the funeral home of M. H. McDonough Sons at 14 Highland street.

LECTURE TOMORROW AT HIGH SCHOOL

The first lecture in the Harvard-Rosston university extension course for teachers will be given tomorrow afternoon at 4.15 o'clock in room 137 of the high school by Professor Bancroft Beatty of the Harvard Graduate School of Education. The subject of the lecture will be "Principles of Teaching in Junior and Senior High Schools." The course is given in this city under the auspices of the Lowell Teachers' Organization and is open to teachers of this city and surrounding towns. The course embraces a series of 15 lectures, for which a nominal fee will be charged.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatre's Own Press Agents
RIALTO THEATRE
To regular patrons of the moving picture theatres there can be no doubt as to the relation of music to the motion picture and the value of the former to the latter. That is just the reason why all Griffith pictures are the success they usually turn out to be. Anyone will tell you that the music scores of both "The Birth of a Nation" and "Way Down East" increased the value of the pictures at least 50 per cent. And this is all due to perfect synchronization—that is—that the music is timed to fit the picture right to the second! And no picture can be a decided hit without the proper music! It is a well known fact that good music can make a good picture great and can make a mediocre picture good. So, in keeping with their custom of giving local theatregoers not only the mass of their money, but also giving them anything that may help them in seeking real entertainment, the Rialto management has secured the services of Mr. John Kehoe, a local boy, who is rapidly making a name for himself in musical circles. Mr. Kehoe is a splendid organist and he is already making a big hit on the Rialto. With his organ, he plays both afternoon and evening. At the evening performances there are two additional players, Miss May Breen, violinist, and Mr. Joseph Ginty, clarinet and saxophone player. Miss Breen is formerly of Faudette's ladies' orchestra of Boston, where she played first violin and she has many friends here. While Mr. Ginty is late of the famous Six Brown Brothers. The trio have already won the plaudits of local movie goers for the manner in which they interpreted "Judgment of the Storm," which was shown at the Rialto the past week. "His Forgotten Wife" which opens at Loew's Rialto today is the third big Palmer photoplay, the first two are the mer to be forgotten pictures, "The White Sin" and "Judgment of the Storm," both of which packed the Rialto to capacity when they were shown. "His Forgotten Wife" is said to be equal to those two big successes. Two women and a man, and they Continued on Page 13

ARMISTICE DAY, NOV. 11

"Mobilization Day for World Justice and World Peace" To Be Observed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Responses received from church pastors and communities to the call of the federal council of churches for observance of Armistice day, Nov. 11, as "mobilization day for world justice and world peace," indicate wide co-operation in the movement, it was announced today by Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, secretary of the council's commission on international justice and good will. Entire communities will take part in the observance, he said, and city church federations are making extensive plans to give it the significance and meaning sought.

DAWES OFF ON LONG SPEAKING TOUR

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (By the Associated Press).—Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential nominee, set forth today on his longest and most strenuous speaking tour. Leaving on a special train early this morning, he began a trip that will take him into Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming, Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio and Illinois and will last about 11 days. Reports of republican national headquarters here have told of pronounced La Follette sentiment in certain sections of those states and the tour began today was planned by republican campaign managers with a view to counteracting it. The route crosses and recrosses the trail of Senator Wheeler, Senator La Follette's running mate, and tonight the republican nominees will speak at Duluth, Minn., where his independent opponent spoke about ten days ago.

COMMISSION HEARS CHELMSFORD CASE

As a result of a raid made by federal and state officers at a farm in West Chelmsford on Sept. 19, Paul, Joseph and Thomas Roark, Jr., went before U.S. Commissioner Richard B. Walsh at a session of his court this forenoon for hearing. After hearing evidence for raiding officers, the commissioner continued the cases until Oct. 27 for disposition.

Paul Roark is charged with forcibly restraining, opposing, hindering and interfering with federal officers on duty. Joseph Roark is charged with illegal possession and manufacture of liquor and an attempt to transport same and also with interference with officers. Thomas Roark, Jr., is charged with illegal manufacture and possession of distilled spirits.

Agent Sullivan told the story of the raid and said that 43 gallons of colored alcohol were seized, along with test tubes, 18 mash barrels, sugar, lemons and other articles, said to be used in the manufacture of moonshine.

At the time of the raid Paul Roark was placed under arrest by Officer Ralph Adams of Chelmsford on a charge of carrying a dangerous weapon and in Lowell district court was fined $100 on a finding of guilty.

The raiding party was made up of Federal Agents Sullivan, Hall, Canola, Bowditch, Tremblay and Newell; Officers Keegan, Aldrich and Kilroy of the Lowell department and Officers Reynolds and Belleville of Chelmsford. Of this number only Aldrich, Canola and Adams gave testimony at the hearing, which was conducted for the government by Assistant U. S. District Attorney William J. White, Jr. Atty. Daniel J. Donahue represented the defendants.

Officer Adams of Chelmsford testified that he arrested Paul Roark for carrying a fully loaded revolver without a permit, but said he did not see Roark take it out of his pocket at any time, or make any attempt to use it.

Agent Hall testified that Joseph Roark refused to get down from the seat of an automobile truck seized by the officers after finding a milk can of distilled spirits in it and said three officers had to use force to take him from the driver's position.

The defense offered no witnesses and the commissioner said he desired to take time to go over the evidence in which was not clear in his mind in certain phases and continued the defendants to Oct. 27 for disposition.

Was Fatally Injured

mandant of the naval hospital in the Philippine Islands to Mr. and Mrs. Bukowski of 247 Fayette street, parents of the dead sailor, bearing this information, was received late yesterday.

The letter is dated Sept. 3 and states that the sailor sustained a fractured skull on board the "Chaumont" while somewhere in the Pacific ocean and was rushed to the base hospital in the Islands. Upon arrival at the hospital it was felt that the injury was fatal but an operation was performed. He failed to rally after the operation and died on the morning of the 5th. No other information is given in the letter other than the instructions concerning the disposal of the body upon its arrival in the United States.

Bukowski enlisted at the local navy recruiting station through Chief R. R. Fredericks on May 1 of this year and was sent to the navy training station at Newport, R. I. After completing his course there he received the rating of seaman, third class, and went aboard one of the ships of the Atlantic fleet. Some time ago he was ordered to the U.S.S. Chaumont, a navy transport, which was going to the Philippines to protect Americans in the Chinese war zone.

It is the opinion of his mother that he was on his first trip across the Pacific when the accident happened. It is possible that he had already been transported and was on his way back to the Philippine Islands when the accident occurred. Further particulars concerning the accident will very likely accompany the body.

LYNN UNIONS VOTE ON RECORD REGISTRATION IN NEW CONSTITUTION EVENING SCHOOLS

LYNN, Oct. 6.—All local unions of the Amalgamated Shoe Workers of America were today polling a referendum vote to decide whether the union should accept a new constitution. Should this constitution be accepted it would abolish the general office, a district council consisting of two delegates from each local union and a district agent to be chosen as the union's governing body. The change would become effective Jan. 1, 1924. The Amalgamated Shoe Workers of America is a national shoe workers' organization and virtually becoming a Lynn union as a result. The result of the balloting may not become known for several days.

A. E. Little company today signed the new peace agreement with the Amalgamated, which runs until April 30 next, providing for Saturday morning work until its expiration and for seven firms, including C. M. Leighton firm, have now signed peace agreements with the Amalgamated and Lynn's shoe industry is showing every evidence of prosperity.

The public high, vocational and elementary evening schools will open this evening with what is expected to be a record registration.

At the high school, the registration is already well over 500 and is expected to reach the thousand mark before the completion of the first week. Regular high school courses are offered in the evening school and, in addition, two graduate courses, in accounting and secretarial training, are offered to students who have completed the day or evening high school course of the same rank.

The men's vocational school report a very low registration this year and this is believed to be due to lack of employment. Registrants for the various trade courses offered are required to be engaged in the line of work which they undertake at the school, and Principal Fisher is of the opinion that the school's registration will increase as employment in the many industries in the city increases.

The vocational school for women offers courses not only in the vocational school in the high school annex, but also in a number of elementary schools throughout the city. Among the courses offered are millinery, dressmaking, embroidery, home nursing and cooking.

Classes in elementary subjects will be conducted in the Butler, Colburn, Lincoln, Green, Greenhough, Edison, Lincoln and Adams schools. The subjects taught will be similar to those taught in day schools.

The falling off in registration in the men's vocational school will be more than offset by an increase in the women's vocational school, and it is also believed that the elementary evening school registration will show a decided increase over last year.

5000 Voters Hear

They are republican! Think of it! Eighty-two or eighty-six newspapers in this state beseeching the voters to elect Gifford, because he is Coolidge's friend? I want to go to the polls again and as in the past wearing no man's collar. I won't want to be the friend of any president. I always have been and always will be the friend of those who have been my friends—the great common people. I want to be with Coolidge when he's right. I always will be with Coolidge when he's wrong. My friends, when he is wrong I shall denounce him.

"He was wrong when he vetoed the soldiers' bonus bill. He was wrong when he vetoed the National Industrial Recovery bill and took from the poor man's pocket a part of that great Civil War victory increase in the monthly amount doled to them by this great rich government. He was wrong when he turned down a man who was a better carrier. He has been consistently wrong in many measures and I have denounced him for mis-step, for each mis-statement, and please God, I shall continue to do so. I believe right and to champion what I believe right—that which is best for you—not some of you—but all of you.

Parliamentary Administration

"The cry is that this republican administration has been one of economy. It has not. Parsimony is the word. It has been an administration of parsimony and one devoted to the interests of the trusts, of big business and predatory wealth.

"I want to put a little sunshine into the lives of these workers, the great majority of the commonwealth, whose only advocate I am. I want to continue to denounce those who exploit you, those who exploit the great toiling millions of this country, and I have every confidence that you will send me back there to continue to do so.

"I appeal to the voters of Massachusetts, to you voters of Lowell, to send to the senate a republican as a substitute for a progressive. All my efforts, all my thoughts, and all my votes while in Washington have been directed toward the thought of what was best for the great mass of the people—the common everyday working man, his wife and his family.

"I challenge my opponent or any one to name one man who has done more for the soldiers or for the soldiers' dependents than I have. The junior senator from Massachusetts," he said, "these people gave their money that these men and their dependents might have the best of care, yet it was impossible for a doctor or a nurse to be given without first stating what their politics were and having them of the approved brand."

"Let me say now that when I, a democratic member of the senate, with the majority of that body republican, could force investigation and put the facts before you that the war warranted—it was because I had a conscience. The abuses were so notorious, the neglect was so appalling that they could not be hidden. I refused to let the facts bore out that the war warranted—the second one which followed for or against me."

"In almost six years—it will be six years in November—what has been accomplished in caring for the veterans and their dependents. Two hospitals here in New England—millions upon millions of your dollars—gone—and neither of them yet fully completed. I was in Rutland only the other day where the tuberculosis-afflicted veterans were cared for and they had but 136 patients. The great majority of that expensive structure given over to doctors and doctors and such, instead of veterans. Why? Because no plans were made to care for the office and staff. They just built a hospital that's all. Was it to take care of itself?

Worst Crime of All

"As bad as was the Teapot Dome—as bad as was the Danvers scandals and the disgrace of the department of justice the worst crime of all is the way those helpless veterans and their dependents were abused, mistreated, neglected—forgotten if you will. We have also forgotten the old men and women who were in the army and navy for years—years—years—we have also forgotten them. These are but a few of the many things which this administration hasn't answered for and can't answer for. I look to the people to give their answer and I appeal to you to give your answer to the senate because I am the one who is responsible that is available for you to use to rebuke these selfish, avaricious, careless indifferent methods that have characterized the work of the republicans from their leader and standard bearer down."

"I am submitting my record of activities as senator to the people of Massachusetts. Each day I shall discuss a new topic. Today, I am presenting my views upon the coal problem. Have the people of Massachusetts forgotten the coal famine of the winter of 1922?

"Are you satisfied with the fact that the present administration in Washington, after spending nearly a million dollars to investigate the coal situation, has not enacted a law or taken a single step to prevent a recurrence of the future? Are you content that the extortionate and exorbitant prices charged by the anthracite coal operators in Pennsylvania shall go on unchecked?

"I foresee, indeed everyone in Washington who wanted to, realized in June, more than six months before the coal famine reached its height in Massachusetts, the awful consequences of the prolonged coal strike and the inability of the government to enforce a settlement. So persistently did I seek to expose the cause of the coal consumers in seeking to obtain governmental action that one of the leading newspapers of Massachusetts said during the summer period that if the election of a senator took place that winter, Senator Walsh would be re-elected by over 150,000 votes.

"But let the record speak for itself. I submit it with the assurance that it indicates that the congressional record in this crisis for the people of Massachusetts than the combined activities of all other senators in Washington. The Congressional Record contains speech after speech and resolutions repeatedly presented by me demanding action. Here it is day by day open to the inspections of all.

"June 2, 1922. Introduced senate resolution which was adopted, requesting specific information on the coal supply, extent of production, and the full needs of the country and what action had been taken by the government to prevent a recurrence of the future.

Washington to The Sun office in addition to a large radio set, both operated by experts, and the magnavox performing to perfection the crowd got the results accurately and expeditiously.

Judging from the attitude of the crowd the majority were Washington rollers. A run, rally and cheer usually drew forth a vigorous cheer. The Giants, however, had some supporters and when the National leaguers staged their two run rally in the ninth inning, the crowd roared and the Senators when Roger Pennington slashed out a double to score Judge with the winning run, to place the team on even terms in the series, sent them away happy. On Saturday a good sized crowd heard the returns of the first game. Each announced last week, The Sun will give service on all games of the series. Today the scene of battle shifts to the grounds, New York. Hence the specific victory was transferred to the grounds.

The Sun baseball extra, issued after each game, carries a complete account of the game. Saturday's extra was on the street a few minutes after the final play was announced. As usual it was the first to reach the fans waiting in the square.

CONDITIONS IN POLAND NEAR NORMAL, SAYS DR. DZIURA

Centralville Physician Back After Three Months' Tour of Old Country Finds Industries Have Solid Footing

—Farmers Optimistic and Poverty on Wane

Dr. John J. Dziura of 44 Fifth street returned last week from an extensive three months' tour of Poland, including a visit to his mother at her home in the central part of Galicia. It was the first visit of the Lowell physician to his old home in sixteen years and he found the country rapidly getting on a stable footing with little poverty save in the most remote and backward areas. Conditions in general fast returning to normal that was enjoyed before the World war.

The doctor sailed to Danzig from New York on June 19 and went thence into Poland, stopping for several days each in Warsaw, Crakow, and Lemberg, going as far as the Russian boundary in Ukraine or eastern Galicia. The industries of the country are undergoing the final stages of complete and stable reorganization, he says, and for the first time in history Poland is rebuilding itself on a new basis. The country is now always been dependent upon American factories to supply the rolling stock for their rails.

Oil and illuminating gas developing enormous pressure is being taken in Galicia and the progress of the industry in the homes throughout the country is progressing and expanding with prevent exorbitant prices. Pages 1438 of the Congressional Record.

CONDITIONS IN POLAND NEAR NORMAL, SAYS DR. DZIURA

—Farmers Optimistic and Poverty on Wane

Dr. John J. Dziura of 44 Fifth street returned last week from an extensive three months' tour of Poland, including a visit to his mother at her home in the central part of Galicia. It was the first visit of the Lowell physician to his old home in sixteen years and he found the country rapidly getting on a stable footing with little poverty save in the most remote and backward areas. Conditions in general fast returning to normal that was enjoyed before the World war.

The doctor sailed to Danzig from New York on June 19 and went thence into Poland, stopping for several days each in Warsaw, Crakow, and Lemberg, going as far as the Russian boundary in Ukraine or eastern Galicia. The industries of the country are undergoing the final stages of complete and stable reorganization, he says, and for the first time in history Poland is rebuilding itself on a new basis. The country is now always been dependent upon American factories to supply the rolling stock for their rails.

Oil and illuminating gas developing enormous pressure is being taken in Galicia and the progress of the industry in the homes throughout the country is progressing and expanding with prevent exorbitant prices. Pages 143

ACCEPTS CALL TO LOCAL PASTORATE

From the pulpit of the First Baptist church yesterday, Rev. G. D. Feagan, who has been acting as pastor for some time past, announced his definite decision to accept the call to the pastorate, made a fortnight ago. Rev. Mr. Feagan preached two splendid sermons yesterday, in the morning taking for his subject, "The New Testament Church," and in the evening concluding his remarks under the theme, "The Culmination of Ages."

The services were well attended, the members of the church showing in this manner their readiness to support the new pastor in his work here. Mr. Feagan expressed himself as highly

WILL ADDRESS POST AND AUXILIARY

James P. McCready, returned delegate from the national convention of the American Legion, will tonight address a joint meeting of Lowell post, No. 87 and its auxiliary, telling of his experiences and explaining new legislation passed by the body at Minneapolis. Mr. McCready will also report on the session of the Middlesex county council held last Saturday and at which he represented Lowell post. The post ball committee is to report tonight and other matters of importance are scheduled to be taken up.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

Feast of the Holy Rosary Observed Yesterday With Special Services

Yesterday the feast of the Holy Rosary was observed in all the Catholic churches of the city with special services. In the evening, Saturday night, will be the feast of the Blessed Virgin and in nearly every church masses will be sung at 8 o'clock. Holy Rosary devotions will be held in the churches every evening during the week and will continue through the month.

Last evening at 8 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception church a procession was held in honor of the feast of the Holy Rosary. The Holy Rosary societies participated in the procession. The Holy Rosary society received holy communion at the 8 o'clock mass yesterday morning.

On Friday afternoon at St. Patrick's church there will be confessions for the boys of the parish. On Saturday morning at 7:45 o'clock a special mass will be celebrated for the community. Holy Hour devotions will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Holy Name society and the members of the C.N.M.L. will receive holy communion at the 8:30 o'clock mass next Sunday. Meetings of the Married Ladies' society and the Immaculate Conception sodality will be omitted during the month.

The Blessed Virgin sodality of St. Rita's church received holy communion at the 7 o'clock mass yesterday morning. A meeting of the sodality will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The forty hours devotion will be held, beginning Friday morning at 7:30 o'clock at which time a high mass will be celebrated. A solemn high mass to be sung at 11 o'clock next Sunday will bring the devotion to a close. The Holy Name society will receive holy communion at the 7 o'clock mass next Sunday.

A meeting of St. Peter's Cadets will be held tomorrow evening at which all companies will report. The Married Ladies' sodality will meet Wednesday evening after the rosary devotions. A meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality will be held Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The Holy Name society will receive communion next Sunday. The prize drill of St. Peter's Cadets will be held a week from tomorrow in the Cadet room.

The Holy Rosary society of St. Michael's parish received communion at the 8 o'clock mass yesterday morning. A procession in honor of the feast of the Holy Rosary, which will be also celebrated tomorrow, was held at 8 o'clock in the afternoon and was followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. There will be a meeting of the guild tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Bishop Dolan's General Assembly Fourth degree, I. C. of C. will receive holy communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass next Sunday.

The members of the Immaculate Conception sodality of St. Joseph's parish received holy communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass at St. Joseph's church yesterday morning. Following the vesper services held at 8 o'clock in the afternoon, a meeting of the sodality was held.

Rheumatic Pains Go Swollen Joints Vanish

Twisted, swollen, unlighty joints are rapidly freed from pain and brought back to normal with Rheuma. Lame people walk without aid; sleep comes to those who have been unable to lie in bed; hands that were helpless because of terrible rheumatism are now able to do their share for the support of the family.

Rheuma is a wonderful remedy for rheumatism, gout, neuritis, lumbago and neuralgia.

It is a wonder-worker; it never fails, never gives up until every vestige of poison is expelled from the body.

Rheuma acts on stomach, liver, kidneys and bladder. It not only and quickly brings long prayed for comfort to distressed sufferers. Green's Drug Store and all good druggists sell it with guarantee of money back if it isn't satisfactory.—Adv.

GIRL SCOUTS GIVE RALLY DAY PROGRAM

The Girl Scouts of the First Congregational church gave an entertaining program last evening in observance of Rally Day. The program which was to bring before the members of the church the scope of work being done by the Girl Scouts was most interesting and was attended by a large audience. The entertainment was brought to a close by the sounding of "Taps" by Miss Ruth Burrage of Reading, champion Girl Scout bugler of Massachusetts in 1922 and 1923.

The cast of characters in last evening's program was as follows: Gwendolyn Cash as the "Spirit of Chivalry," the Misses Ruby Cookerline, Ruth Morse and Ruth Ball as the "Knights of Charlemagne," the Misses Mildred Coombs, Ruth Benson and Pauline Bonerville as the "Knights of King Arthur's Round Table," and the Misses Greta Russell, Edith Pulitzer and Edith Gilman as the "Knights of Robin Hood." The exemplification of the Girl Scout principle was given under the direction of Capt. Irene Kershaw and Lie. Dorothy Ellis and Hazel Raymond.

Preceding the program the pastor, Rev. Percy R. Thomas gave an inspiring sermon on "Are You Cynical?" based on the 19th chapter of the first book of Kings, "What Doeth the First Here, Elijah?"

RALLY DAY CELEBRATION
An excellent program was given at the Lawrence Street Primitive Methodist church yesterday, in celebration of rally day. An appropriate address was delivered at the morning service by the pastor of the church and in the evening a concert was given under direction of Misses Marion Morris, Irene Teal and Elizabeth Richards.

THREE INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

An automobile collision on the Pawtucket boulevard at 9 o'clock last evening, resulted in three persons receiving minor injuries and both machines involved being badly damaged. The accident occurred near the pumping station when Marcel Lafrance of Nashua, driving a light coupe, swung onto the left side of the roadway to pass a parked machine and collided head-on with a roadster driven by Bernard J. Ready, Jr., of 45 Court street, this city.

Ready and his companion sustained minor lacerations and Lafrance suffered a painful bruise on the forehead. The machines were put out of commission by the impact and were towed to garages for repairs.

PUT AWAY THAT PESKY BUZZER

Somewhere within the confines of this city someone is using a buzzer with a radio set that is causing interference to radio broadcast listeners. Every evening last week this buzzer was pounding in all over the broadcast wave-length scale and spoiled radio fans. On Friday evening the interference was very bad, and fans in the district in which the "buzzer" is located were unable to enjoy any programs. These fans are up in arms and in a communication to The Sun, one says that if the interference isn't stopped the matter will be taken up with the radio supervisor at the custom house in Boston.

GAVE ENTERTAINMENT IN COLONIAL HALL

The members of the local Greek community greatly enjoyed a real old-fashioned puppet show in Colonial hall last evening, when Constantine Theodoropoulos of New York, Chicago, Canada and Greece kept his large audience in spasms of laughter as he gave numerous sketches and songs. The difference between the show last evening and the performances given in the European countries was that the puppets were behind a screen, strong electric lights showing their profile against the transparency.

Between the acts an orchestra composed of D. Tzannes, I. Ranas and N. Zahara rendered numerous Greek selections which were pleasing to the ear. The affair last evening was for the benefit of the Greek church in Jefferson street and was under the direction of the following officers of the Greek community: D. Sakellarios, president; A. Anagnostopoulos, secretary; James Glavis, treasurer; M. Boukouvoulas, vice president; board of directors, Harry Houpis, C. Yorgiopoulos, N. Kasanias, A. Androustopoulos, James Lianaris, Theodore Sarantis, Stephen Stephanopoulos and Theodore Gavriel.

IN NEW YORK

BY STEPHEN HANNIGAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Sophisticated New York pauses to be entertained at a medicine show.

Billed in a vacant store room on Eighth avenue, just a few steps from Times Square, the 9th degree in show places, a traveling band of snake oil and salve vendors, go through their age-old hallyhoon each afternoon and night.

And business is good.

On the walls are advertising posters and pictures. In the front window is the come-on exhibition of wild, vicious rattlesnakes, their poisonous fangs wagging as vigorously as the hawk's tongue and their constant, warning rattling drowned in an interesting speech of welcome.

In the rear of the room is an improvised stage, made of store boxes and rolled hunting. On it are the typical medicine show "props."

There is the ventriloquist's dark-complexioned dummy, from whose mechanically operated mouth flows joke hook bromides that bring fire crackers; the magician's deck of cards, the glass of water, the mother-wit rabbit that appears from a denuded plug hat.

After the short, snappy show is completed, the "doctor" dives into his lecture on the benefits of his famous compound. Cappers work through the audience selling, selling.

It may be memories of childhood in some small town, where medicine men parked their wagons and in the flickering light of a kerosene lamp extolled in glorified terms the wonders of their preparations, that brings men and women in evening dress into this quaint show in the heart of New York—and again it may be only curiosity.

But still they come.

Speeding New York steps a pace faster in the crisp, fall air. The gray east of overhanging clouds, casting shadows of its approaching winter, is evident in the demeanor of the crowds.

The bubbling enthusiasms and care-free antics caused by a warm, friendly summer sun are chilling in the sweeping winds that whistle through canyons of huge buildings.

Now York is vital.

AT THE CALVARY
BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Wallace C. Sampson, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, in his sermon yesterday on "Religion and Politics," said in part:

"Religion can better be expressed at the ballot box than in the prayer meeting. The prayer meeting, I admit, is the place to receive spiritual nourishment and power but that power can be best utilized in doing our civic duties as Christian people and in a Christian way. We certainly would not want to see Baptists, or Catholics, or Episcopalians or members of any sect dictating what kind of a government we should have, but if all Christians as citizens of Christ's kingdom, the corruption that haunts itself in national and municipal politics would soon die. We are prone to let things go, and let the other fellow do our thinking and our voting for us."

TO CEMETERY

The annual pilgrimage to St. Joseph's cemetery by the members of the C.M.A.C. was held yesterday afternoon with about 350 members in line, including about 100 World War veterans in uniform.

The line of march was formed at the clubrooms in Pawtucket street about 1 o'clock and the procession proceeded to St. Joseph's church where, at 1:30 o'clock, a Libera was sung. Rev. Lucien Braesard, O.M.I., of Notre Dame de Lourdes church, officiating.

Following the church services the members went to St. Joseph's cemetery where, upon arrival, prayers were recited by Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I. A Libera was then sung by members of St. Joseph's choir under the direction of Telephore Malo, after which Rev. J. Drapeau, O.M.I., delivered a stirring sermon and paid a beautiful tribute to the C.M.A.C. dead. Fr. Drapeau mentioned the ideals upheld by the beloved dead and asked the living to cherish the memory of their departed by banding together and continuing the work begun by the deceased members. He reminded those present that for them also the autumn of life would bring with it a call from

but health is vital

Growing girls should realize elimination is necessary; constipation dangerous. Mothers, urge use of Dr. Caldwell's Pepsin Syrup

THE world is broadening and there is less excuse for prudery today than ever before. Parents and school teachers are helping by telling their children the fundamental facts of life.

The growing girl, therefore, who neglects the important function of elimination is living in a past age. She should realize that when days go by and there is no passage the general health is impaired, the monthly function is interfered with and fatal illness may result.

Mothers would do well to watch adolescent daughters for they, more than young boys, are prudish in this regard. Elimination should occur once a day, and if it does not, a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should be given. You will thus prevent intestinal poisoning and constipation and their train of disorders, sallow skin, pimples, lassitude, bad breath, headache and so forth.

Mrs. Jesse Maxey, 106 Third street, Aurora, Ind., and Mrs. Pat McCullough, Tampa, Fla., regularly use Syrup Pepsin in their households, and as a result their families are free from sickness.

It is not without reason that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is today the most widely used liquid laxative in the world.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, pin their name and address to it, and send it to the Pepsin Syrup Co., 516 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them promptly by mail. Do not inclose postage. It is free.

Hustle and Edward W. Merrill of Pinchurst, who was riding with him, received cuts and bruises about the head and Constantineau and his sister also received slight injuries. They were treated by Drs. M. A. Buck, E. A. Allen and G. S. Marshall and later went to their homes.

All three machines were badly smashed up and the highway was partially blocked for a considerable length

DISTRIBUTE SUNDAY SCHOOL CERTIFICATES

Certificates were presented to 13 students of the Sunday school classes of the Highland Congregational church yesterday morning, including the junior and senior departments. A program was given by the beginners' department under the supervision of Mrs. Lillian Caswell. The graduates are as follows: Beginners' department: Fay Young, Elizabeth Daly, Margaret Gould, Robert Stronach, Bessie Stronach; primary department: Helen Cushing, Barbara Preston, Walker French, Parker Brownell, Everett Reed, Charles Milgate, Janet Moody, Arthur Davis, Junior department: Florence E. Chippendale, Florence L. Rawlings, Thomas Davenport, George P. Silva, Harold A. Sutcliffe.

Rev. Richard Peters, pastor, preached on "The Religion in Co-operation," while the choir rendered an excellent musical program. There will be a church supper Thursday evening at which time the members of Woman's guild will be the hostesses.

EVENING COURSES

To make the most rapid and thorough progress in an Evening Course demands a method of teaching whereby the pupil is in close personal touch with the teacher. The success of our Evening Courses is due entirely to our Personal, Individualized Teaching for Each Pupil. There are hundreds of young people in this city who have incomplete business training and consequently are unable to give satisfaction. Our Evening School offers them an opportunity to increase their value both to themselves and to their employers.

CITIES CAN'T LIMIT RADIO, IS OPINION

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Attempts of various cities to regulate the use of radio within their limits have been construed as unconstitutional by government officials in the capital.

This opinion, which was anticipated by Secretary of Commerce Hoover at the radio conference in this city in March of 1922, when he stated specifically that "the government owns the ether," is the outcome of a peculiar legal entanglement that threatened at one time to set local, city and state authorities at variance with the federal government. It was finally made clear to those interested that no lower regulatory body can govern any subject already regulated by congress.

Last year, when the radio season was in full swing, one state was on the point of creating the office of "state radio inspector," and a number of cities were giving serious consideration to the matter of prescribing how and when the ether should be used. The only authority for so doing was the so-called "police power," which state charters confer on them for the abatement of nuisances that endanger the health, morals or prosperity of a community.

That this special authority should be interpreted as covering the subject of radio communication was regarded by the legally informed as being little short of humorous, and practically all cities where such agitation had cropped out hastily pulled in their horns and ruled out proposed ordinances of this nature.

Probably no city in the country outside of Atlantic City, actually passed an ordinance of the kind. This was worded so indirectly that it was not regarded as encroaching in a literal sense upon the recognized and undisputed federal powers. It applied more particularly to indefinite "electrical disturbances."

UNDERWEAR FOR LOUD SPEAKERS

By N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Underwear manufacturers are going into the radio business.

They're manufacturing loud speakers. With the same material they have been using to make winter underwear.

According to one manufacturer whose mill, one of several in the same game, has been turned over almost completely to this new business, orders are on his books for 1,500,000 pairs. These alone could keep his plant busy up to July of next year.

One distributor of such horns has sold 300,000 since last October.

The horns are made of the same material as "fleece-lined" underwear. The fabric is cut and sewed at the mill in the shape of the desired loud speaker. A special seam is used to prevent its being unduly prominent in the finished product.

The shaped fabric is then pulled over an aluminum form, a filler is applied, the form hardened and baked, then painted and finished. The horns are finished in a wide variety of colors, to suit various tastes.

Advantages claimed for this form of loud speaker are its mellowness of tone, elimination of vibration and relative flexibility.

"UNCLE DAVE" CORY COMING TO WBZ

David Cory, the little Jack Rabbit Man, and his exciting stories of the battles of wits with the defenceless little Jack Rabbit has with his arctic enemies, Jack Rabbit, Mr. Wicked Wolf, Old Man Wicket and Hungry Hawk, coming to Westinghouse station at Springfield, Mass., Mr. Cory, whose entire efforts are now devoted to sharing again that spirit of camaraderie with children, has consented to come to the Hotel Kimball studio of the Westinghouse station Thursday night, October 9, and relate to the thousands of kiddies in WBZ's large audience the fanciful little tales which have made him famous.

The "Little Jack Rabbit Man," as he is known, will bring with him from New York all his characters of the animal kingdom. Even his own agency will be carried to the Springfield radio studio in the Hotel Kimball. The Sunny Meadow, the Old Bramble Patch, Jack Rabbit himself, the Rabbit Mother, Danny Fox, the Wicked Wolf, Old Man Wicket and the Hungry Hawk—all will be with Mr. Cory and all will be introduced for the first time to the kiddies of WBZ Thursday night. Mr. Cory will be presented at 7:30 o'clock and immediately following he, in person, will relate the stories which send the little ones off to bed smiling and happy.

Mr. Cory's life story is novel-like in its course. He was once a Wall Street broker. He cast aside the affairs of counting house and Wall Street, however, to share with all the children the magic that was in him, and he adopted for his own all the little ones of America. He began life at the start again and wrote the first of his "Jack Rabbit" stories. Today there are more than a score of his books in print and thousands of children everywhere wait each day for Uncle David and his story.

Uncle Dave is brimming with personality. Content and happiness beams from his eyes and he knows how to communicate that cheer to all who meet him or hear him. Throngs of kiddies who but read his delightful stories will Thursday night have the privilege of hearing Uncle Dave and all but seeing and talking to him.

RADIO CONFERENCE OPENS TONIGHT

The third National Radio conference opens in Washington, D. C., this evening. The sessions will be held in the Department of Commerce building. The proceedings will be public and all persons who have suggestions regarding radio betterment will be heard. It is expected the conference will last about three weeks.

Poland soon will issue broadcasting licenses to scientific, educational and manufacturing organizations.

RADIO ENDS DREARINESS OF ARCTIC MORE RANGE FROM LOW WAVELENGTHS

By N.E.A. Service
WISCONSIN, Me., Oct. 6.—Radio has added another scalp to its belt. It has conquered the monotony of a winter on icebergs.

During the long winter months when their 58-foot schooner, the Bowdoin, lay trapped in frozen waters, the crew of Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, had plenty of time to reflect over their lives. The Bowdoin has just put back into this port after 14 months in the north regions.

"I can tell you this, that the faces and talk of six other men, closely quartered, get mighty monotonous," MacMillan says good-naturedly.

"But we had radio because that's the way we had to keep in touch with the world," he says.

"We heard concerts from Chicago, from Omaha, Los Angeles, Catalina, San Francisco and Prince Rupert Island. Every day our radio operator, Donald Mix, posted a news bulletin for us. He was able to hear press reports from stations in England and Germany. Particularly POZ in Germany."

Consul Interests
"It is interesting to note that we were never able to get stations along the Atlantic, probably because their broadcasting would have to come to us along a seaboard. Scientists say radio doesn't travel along a coast line."

"I can tell you," MacMillan adds, "it was a real thrill for us, isolated in the seemingly endless ice regions, to hear our relatives' voices when they broadcast from Chicago."

During the summer months, when there is no darkness of night, MacMillan explained that there was little or no satisfaction in the radio.

"Just as it is here at home, the radio is more effective at night, than during the sunny days," he says.

"But during the winter we depended on the radio to divert us and give us something to talk about."

Native Unmoved
The Eskimos didn't get nearly as excited over the Bowdoin's radio as they did over its movies.

"Not being acquainted with other parts of the world it did not strike the Eskimo as much of a marvel to hear voices and music and noise come through a loud-speaker horn. But when we set out mainland for a movie screen and projected news pictures, they were driven to convulsed laughter."

"When we showed them pictures of Eskimos, which we had taken on our previous trip, they were dumbfounded, for among the pictured men some had died. Seeing a dead man move around on the screen was quite more than the Eskimo could comprehend."

"But if the radio did not particularly impress the Eskimo, it did impress us. We went back to the north that June happy with the knowledge of what it can do for us while we are there," MacMillan declares.

FOOTBALL GAMES TO GO ON AIR

Broadcasting stations throughout the country are laying plans to broadcast important football games direct from the fields.

The important eastern games will be broadcast from Station WEAF, New York. Those played away from the city will have a direct line running from the field to the transmitting room.

Graham McNamee, who made himself famous with his announcements from the political conventions, will describe each game.

RADIO NOTES

The first aerial was constructed by Marconi in 1896.

The WD-12 tube should not be lighted above a dull red color.

Keep the antenna lead-in well away from the walls of the building.

Transformer ratios are low to avoid distortion from high voltages.

Three thousand radio patents have already been granted in this country.

France is offering prizes for the best non-technical essays describing the principle of radio.

Station WGY, Schenectady, transmits simultaneously on 350, 107 and 15.85 meters.

All radio users in Montclair, N. J., must get official approval of their installation before it can be used.

Selection results will be announced from the National Radio Exposition in New York, November 3 to 8.

A condenser in series with the antenna or ground reduces the natural frequency or wavelength.

The Times of India, an Anglo-Indian daily at Bombay, has started broadcasting.

Fifty-six per cent. of the music dealers in this country are handling radio also.

Possibility for relaying a single broadcast program almost around the world is seen in a chain of stations stretching from Hastings, Neb., to Berlin, Germany.

Station WDKA and KFKX have been known to rebroadcast regular programs, picking up the original on a low wave-length and sending it off on a regular broadcast wavelength. KDKA also has been endeavoring to reach London with its broadcast, a feat which is expected soon to become a daily event.

In such case, with Berlin picking up London broadcasts, we may hear of Station KFKX, or even KGO in Oakland, Calif., being heard in eastern Europe.

NO TUBE BLOWOUTS
A fuse has been manufactured for the prevention of tube blowouts. It slips over the filament terminals of any standard vacuum tube.

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Successful experiments with transmitting on the lower band of wavelengths may point the way to a solution of the broadcasting problem.

Engineers in the U. S. Bureau of Standards here, together with commercial engineers throughout the country, have been working on just this phase of the radio problem. In less than a year they have been able to transmit long distances on low wavelengths, and now they are almost ready to turn the results of their experiments over for actual practice.

Stations WGY in Schenectady and KDKA in East Pittsburgh have been known to be working on short wave transmission. They have been broadcasting across the continent and the Atlantic, and have been relaying to other stations on wavelengths below 100 meters.

Now comes the word from government engineers that the extremely low wavelength may be a boon to broadcasters. For by this means, they believe, hundreds of broadcasters may be allotted wavelengths all of different length—although varying by only fractions of an inch. Thus, no matter how many stations on the air, they could not interfere with one another.

This depends on further perfection of the transmitting and receiving apparatus, so that the finest tuning might prevail. This may be expected within reasonable time.

The way short waves would be allotted under such conditions would be by frequencies rather than wavelengths. One meter of the very low wavelength is equal to several thousand kilocycles, which could be apportioned among several hundred broadcasters.

For instance, 4 meters equal 75,000 kilocycles and 5 meters are equivalent to 60,000 kilocycles, showing a difference of 15,000 kilocycles for one meter. With stations differing in frequencies by about 20 or 30 kilocycles, we may have from 500 to 750 broadcasters allotted frequencies covering only a total difference of one meter in wavelength.

This is quite possible, engineers say.

INTERNATIONAL WEEK
More than 100 broadcasters will participate in the trans-Atlantic tests to be conducted during International Radio Week, November 24 to 30. European broadcasters also are ready to co-operate.

PIGEONS AFFECTED

Pigeons flying over a radio station at Paterna, Spain, were found to have been affected by the wave transmitted from that station. When they flew over the aerial they were seen to hesitate in their course.

RADIO CONCERT HALL
A large hall has been opened in Geneva, Switzerland, for the public reception of European radio concerts. The admission fee is 50 centimes a person, about 10 cents.

RALLY DAY OBSERVED AT ST. ANNE'S CHURCH

Rally day was auspiciously observed at St. Anne's Episcopal church yesterday, both at the morning and the evening services, the latter being the first of the season. The pastor, Rev. Appleton Francis, delivered an inspiring sermon at the evening service and urged the members to "carry on" in the coming year as in the past.

An excellent musical program was the feature of the service. W. C. Heller, organist; Alessandro Niccoli, violinist, and Mrs. Bertha Chapman Huse, pianist, gave the following program: "Kamalan Ostraw," by Rubenstein, piano and organ; aria by Tenaglia, 1840 A.D., violin solo; "Andante," by Widor, organ and piano; aria, by Schumann, violin solo; "Toccata," by DuBois, organ solo; "Largo," from the "New World Symphony," by Dvorak, violin solo.

The church choir, composed of 60 voices, rendered several vocal numbers, and added much to the excellency of the program.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO RED CROSS

Pleads for Civilized World Where Cost of Armament, Etc. Are Not Required

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Thanking the American Red Cross for its accomplishments for "practical and inspired charity," President Coolidge, in an address opening the annual meeting of the society here today, pleaded for a "truly civilized world where the cost of armament, of pensions, of fortifications, were not required to be borne."

"Where resources could be used," the president said, "to promote, not to destroy happiness—in such a world what mighty works could be accomplished under the leadership of the Red Cross spirit? Poverty, ignorance, prejudice, and all uncharitableness might be completely relieved and remedied."

Toward such an ideal, Mr. Coolidge declared, the race is making progress. It will achieve, he asserted, "not by some magic formula in some inspired moment," but because men and women were more and more demanding it. In the Red Cross, the president said, the nation has its opportunity "to capitalize and direct the finest, the most appealing attribute of our human nature—charity." It is a strong support, he said, of the government and a real guarantee of the progress of civilization, showing the way "to a more complete realization of truth and justice through mercy."

Emphasizing its "practical idealism," Mr. Coolidge recalled the accomplishments of the Red Cross in relieving the distress resulting a year ago from the earthquake in Japan. "The Red Cross," he continued, "had the organization capable of turning this great overflowing of the sympathy of the nation to the best account. It insured a maximum of relief at the minimum of outlay. The gratitude of a great nation, disclosed in manifold forms more than repaid the splendid response of our people directed through this organization. Philosophers and historians may record this as marking a new era in the relationship between nations."

Describing the Red Cross as the only organization he knew which accomplished any deed "by looking for trouble," the president declared it had a definite, comprehensive and practical program for helping those who need help "when they need it and where they need it."

"It knows," he said, "no creed, no party, no politics, no classes, or groups. It is proof that materialism is not the dominant motive of the people of the United States. The Red Cross idea will develop as mankind develops. The ideals underlying civilization are the ideals of brotherly love, of tolerance, of kindness, of charity. The better the life is, the more whatever destiny awaits, trusting one another, helping one another."

Mr. Coolidge welcomed the convention as the meeting of an organization "able to translate into results our deep regard for the interests of humanity."

MATRIMONIAL

Hanson—Chenevert

Mr. John Hanson and Miss Dorothy Chenevert, two popular local residents, were united in marriage Saturday evening at the home of Rev. Mr. Setzer, 142 Princeton street. Mr. Arthur Hardy and Miss Doris Wakefield attended the couple. The bride was attired in Canton crepe. She wore a veil held in place with orange blossoms and carried a shower of bride's roses. The bridegroom wore yellow crepe de chine and carried carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will make their home at 22 Barker street this city after an extended wedding tour. Present at the reception which followed the ceremony were guests from Plymouth, Dorchester, Haverhill and this city.

Rouse—Hall

Mr. Royal W. Rouse and Miss Grace M. Hall, two popular local residents, were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hall in Burr street, by Rev. Appleton Gramma, pastor of St. Anna's church. The bride wore a gown of white tulle trimmed with silver lace and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Mrs. William R. MacVicker, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore peach colored georgette and carried tea roses. Mr. Thomas W. Hall, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride's gift to the matron of honor was a white gold bracelet, while the best man received a gold penknife from the bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Rouse will make their home at 27 Burr street.

Riles—Adams

Mr. Warriner G. Riles of Warren and Miss Edith H. Adams of Chelmsford were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the parsonage of the Unitarian church by Rev. L. L. Greene. Miss Dorothy P. Hall and Mr. Adalbert R. Adams, brother of the bridegroom, attended the bride party. The bride was attired in dark blue satin, and carried bride's roses. The bridegroom wore brown silk crepe and carried pink roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Lowell road. Mr. and Mrs. Riles who were the recipients of numerous gifts left on an extended wedding trip through the western part of the state and upon their return they will make their home in Warren.

Secrets of Beauty

BY MARIAN HALE.
Pictures Posed by Ruth Maccomson,
(Miss America)

The exercises we do for grace and symmetry should be a part of our daily beauty program, but we should also know of the exercises that promote health and banish minor ailments. Whenever you feel a cold fastening itself upon you, practice deep breathing and get as much fresh air into your lungs as possible. If you feel that you have abused your stomach or that your liver is "laying down" on the job, try this several times: place your hand over your diaphragm and breathe very forced breaths. As deep as you can, resisting the swelling of your diaphragm with your hand. The sort of a headache that steals on you from being in a close, smoky room or from severe nerve strain may often be cured by deep breathing combined with a walk in the fresh air. Another way to banish a headache is to relax completely and allow the neck to become as limp as possible.

Then describe slow circles with the head trying to relieve the tension from the back of the neck.

An exercise that is excellent for the liver and the internal organs is to lie on your back with your hands behind your head, then bend the knees alternately, bringing them over your chest as far as possible.

Don't neglect your beauty sleep. Plenty of sleep is absolutely essential to the woman who wishes to look young and fresh.

A nap in the afternoon, if you have been out very late the night before, will freshen you immeasurably, even though you sleep but half an hour.

A hot bath when you are very tired is as restful as sleep and will do much to calm nerves that have been ruffled and to bring on the relaxation that smooths out your lines and banishes the strained look.

By keeping fit you not only keep yourself younger and more beautiful but you get the habit of being healthy so that you think twice before you overeat or overexert yourself in any way.

FIRE IN SPRINGFIELD AMERICAN MURDERED AT TOMO, MEXICO

Firemen Fought $100,000
Blaze Under Bombardment of Shotgun Ammunition

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 5.—Firemen wearily today fought a $100,000 blaze in the six-story warehouse of the Carlisle Hardware company under bombardment of salvos of exploding shotgun ammunition ignited by the fire. The fire, of unknown origin, gutted the upper three stories. On the top story were 40 cases of shotgun shells and the greater part of these were set off. Many of them popped through the windows into the adjoining alleys but without doing damage. Sincere work was necessary to confine the fire to the building. Water damage was heavy in the lower three stories.

SQUARE CROWNS
The square crown is replacing the rounder one in hats and height is being implied by trimming as well as by actual inches.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The murder of William B. Massey, an American citizen at Tomo, Mexico, was reported to the state department today by James B. Stewart, American consul at Tampico. Massey's home is in Muskogee, Okla., and he is survived by a widow and two children. He was terminal superintendent of the Metropolitan Oil company. The report said the Mexican local authorities had arrested Joaquin Saenz, a Mexican, for the murder.

SCARF COLLAR
The scarf collar is liked on all types of frocks this season from fragile chiffons to the heaviest of wools.

DECORATIVE SLEEVES
Very wide sleeves gathered into a tight, narrow cuff are very decorative, particularly when they are embroidered or trimmed lavishly.

REPLACING SCARF
Furs tied about the throat like cravats are very swapper and are taking the place of the silk scarf.

"BABY" PLANE RACE ENTRY
A baby airplane, which weighs but 228 pounds, has been entered in the race for light planes to be held during the International Air Races at Dayton, O. It has a wing spread of 12 feet and is propelled by a 61 cubic inch displacement motorcycle engine. Bert Mix, an airplane mechanic of Dayton, built the machine, which can make about 75 miles an hour.

...OPENING...

FOR OUR OPENING DAYS we offer no elaborate Fashion Show—but an infinite variety of the accepted modes for Fall and Winter 1924. To see these beautiful garments is to know the correct trend of fashion, also that a very small expenditure will purchase apparel of style and character.

FALL FASHIONS—SECOND FLOOR

The New Dresses

Beautiful simplicity is the striking keynote of Fall Dresses. Straight lines are enriched by the lavish use of furs, also by trimmings of buttons and smart leather belts. Sleeves, too, show entirely new departures. Hundreds of charming models to select from.

SECOND FLOOR

The New Fabrics

Fabrics are unusually rich for fall. The color tones vie with the wind kissed Autumn foliage. Wool Charmeen, mohair crepe, wool jersey, twill sheen, satin crepes, faille, brocaded velvets and charmeuse satin are particularly fashionable, also fur fabrics of which we have a splendid line.

afternoon. A full membership of both branches attended. James J. Byrne of Dorchester, subsidiary high chief ranger, and his staff, carried out the installation exercises with due ceremony. Following are the officers installed:

Branch O'Neill Crowley
Chief ranger, Thomas J. Nevin; sub chief ranger, John J. Carney; treasurer, Joseph E. Sullivan; financial secretary, Joseph L. Handley; recording secretary, Hugh A. McQuade; senior woodward, John Lenox; junior woodward, James McCreedy; senior headle, Michael Nugent; junior headle, Patrick Sheridan; board of trustees, Patrick W. Moran, Thomas Costello, Michael Sullivan; branch physician, Dr. T. B. Delaney.

Branch St. Elizabeth
Chief ranger, Ellen A. Howard; sub chief ranger, Theresa Reilly; treasurer, Elizabeth McGuinness; financial secretary, Mary A. Dillon; recording secretary, Mary Pelletier; senior woodward, Annie Shaughnessy; junior woodward, Mary McGovern; senior headle, Margaret O'Grady; junior headle, Katherine Mullin; board of trustees, Marie J. Markham, Elizabeth Maloney, Alice O'Connell.

High Chief Ranger Byrne congratulated the officers of the two branches and urged the members to co-operate and assist them in every undertaking. He also discussed the progress of the organization, stating that in all parts of New England, it is enjoying great prosperity.

Each of the new officers was called upon. All promised to do everything possible to continue the splendid work accomplished by past officers of the branches. A fine entertainment was carried out and a buffet luncheon served. During an intermission in the program Joseph L. Handley arose and in

WOMAN BADLY BEATEN

Was Released From That Institution Six Weeks Ago—Wife in Hospital

Costas Doulis of Flood's alley, who was arrested yesterday morning after he had kicked and beaten his wife so brutally as to cause her removal to the Lowell Corporation hospital, was taken to Worcester State hospital this morning to be examined as to his mentality. At 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning the police received call that an assault was taking place in Flood's alley. Capt. Alexander Duncan, assisted by Officers William Eiston, John Leshey and Sergeant Philip Dwyer, to investigate, and they found Mrs. Doulis was suffering intense pain as the result of a beating administered by her husband. The officers summoned the ambulance and the woman was removed to the hospital. Her condition is not regarded as serious.

OPEN THIRD NATIONAL RADIO CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Representatives of all branches of the industry were gathered here today for the opening session tonight of the third national radio conference called by Secretary Hoover to consider the numerous problems of radio development in the United States.

Arrangements have been made for broadcasting the opening address of Secretary Hoover and others to follow. The program tonight through a system of sixteen stations that will give the widest air-spread for any program since that of defense day. In addition to the secretary's address, beginning at 8:15 p. m., others will be delivered by C. P. Edwards, of the Canadian department of marine and fisheries, and Pedro P. Torres, of the Cuban Radio Service.

General sessions of the conference Tuesday will be open to the public to give opportunity for presentation of suggestions and proposals to the conference committee which later will be divided into sub-committees charged with detailed study of problems discussed in the various fields.

A neat speech presented, on behalf of Branch St. Elizabeth, a handsome wrist watch to Margaret McInnes, retiring chief ranger. Miss McInnes, though greatly surprised at the presentation, was equal to the occasion, and expressed her thanks to the members for the beautiful gift, one she said, that would always be treasured as a pleasant reminder of the occasion. She thanked all for their assistance during her term as head of the branch and said that what ever success was enjoyed was due to the co-operation and efforts of the rank and file of the organization.

The following entertained with songs: James J. McCreedy, John McInnes, Annie Shaughnessy and Anna McGovern.

Walter Johnson, after 18 years of wonderful pitching for the Washington team, pitches his first ball in a world series while the thousands packed inside the ball park and outside roar their applause. The man at bat is Fred Lindstrom who wasn't even one year old when Johnson started to pitch for Washington. With two balls and one strike pitched, Lindstrom, the Giant third baseman, bled to McNeely, Washington centerfielder, for an easy out. Thus ended the big moment for the veteran and the novice. Muddy Ruel is seen catching for Washington, with Umpire Connolly behind the plate to call balls and strikes.

GARRISON FINISH GIVES SENATORS SECOND GAME OF SERIES

Peckinpaugh's Double Toppled Giants After Two-Run Rally in Ninth Had Tied Score—Home Runs by Goelin and Harris—Score 4 to 3

In a contest chock full of thrills, the Emeralds lost to the Pawtucket Blues yesterday afternoon on the Woodward avenue grounds by a score of 10 to 3. This contest was the last game of the regular Junior Twilight league schedule. The game was witnessed by the largest crowd seen at any of the league contests this season. The mayor pitched the first ball of the game. Vergados, who started the game for the Emeralds, was not in his usual form and he lost the game for the boys from the Acre in the first two innings. Norman, effective, but the damage done in the first two innings could not be denied, and the Emeralds lost. Sullivan, who pitched for the Blues, was not so fairly effective, but the wildness of brilliant plays were turned in by the outfielders, including Cote and Furey. Normandin was the star of the game, and the bat, but when J. Furey, the regular Emerald catcher, appeared on the field, Normandin's batting statistics and Normandin took up the burden of pitching the game which was the last of his season. The star colored slugger of the Emeralds, Normandin, for the longest hit of the game, when he mated out a long three-bagger to the outfield. Normandin's batting statistics have been made into a home run by any other player on the Emerald line-up. Normandin is a very strong pitcher, known as the slugger of the team. He is also well known as the slowest man on the team. Cregg of the Emeralds played how the Emeralds played.

FOOTBALL NOTES

All Riverside A. A. players are asked to report for practice on the Textile campus Wednesday night, at 6.30. They will play the Young Cadets in Sunday. The team is composed of Enn, Brunello, Molcan, Allard, Rault, Cote, Walker, Tycil, Trudel, Bissonette, Prescott, Couture, Fadden and Martel.

The Tigers and the Wanderers battled to a scoreless tie on the North campus yesterday afternoon. Red Burke of the Tigers, says his team will now go after the O.M.I. Cadets.

The Franklin A. C. has reorganized and are prepared to meet any 135-140 pound team in the city. For games call 5556-W and ask for Walter.

The Acire Athletics defeated the Powers R. X. on the North commons Saturday. The score of 12 to 3. This was the season's first game for the Acire team. Coach McKenzie expects to develop a championship team in the near future and discontinue all other games. All interested parties will be accepted through this paper or by seeing the manager at Cross and Fletcher streets any night between 6:30 and 7:30 o'clock.

They Won Pennant for Washington Back in 1885

Washington once idolized these men as it does "Buck" Harris and his boys today. They, too, won a pennant for it—the capital's first, and its only one until the Senators came home from Boston this year with the American league flag. But that was back in 1885 when the great national pastime was still in its infancy. They called the team the "National Base Ball Club" in those days. From left to right, in the front row are: Hoover, of; Gladmon, 3b; Scanlon, manager; Barr, p; Burch, 1b; and O'Day, p. Back row, left to right, are: Cook, c; Fulmer, c; Powell, rf; Baker, lb; Knowles, 2b and White, ss.

VISITORS DEFEAT

TEXTILE SCHOOL

Fumbling at critical moments defeated Lowell Textile in a game with St. Michael's college of Winooski, Vt. on the local campus Saturday afternoon. In an attempt to receive a pass from his center behind Textile's goal line, Walker allowed the pigskin to get away from him and Burns fell on it for a score. Mangan then scored the point after touchdown on an end run. The second score went to St. Michael's on a forward pass to O'Hara, while Textile's lone tally was made by Bentley on a plunge through the opposing line after a series of dashes by the local backs down the field.

It was an uninteresting game from the start. Textile, heavier than the visitors, seemed to lack the necessary punch to put the ball across. Repeated fumbling marred several chances. Bill Brosnan, a Lowell boy, played a brilliant game. Jimmy Corbett, another local boy weighing about 115 pounds, got into the game at quarterback and performed creditably. The lineups: TEXTILES: McGuire, Guld, Brosnan, Connerton, Skinner, Ruppert, Gladwin, Smith, Bentley, Mungrava, Peterson, Tully, Smith, Maguire, Le. ST. MICHAEL'S: Burns, Doyle, Ruppert, Gladwin, Smith, Bentley, Mungrava, Peterson, Tully, Smith, Maguire, Le.

REFERENCE TO WILSON CHEERED IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Prolonged cheering interrupted a reference by Paul Loebe, former president of the Reichstag, to the late President Wilson as "the father of the League of Nations" at a memorial meeting for the war dead held in the Reichstag building yesterday under the auspices of the world peace congress. Loebe termed President Wilson an idealist, a far-sighted statesman and the initiator of a new era.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen of Norway, just arrived from the Geneva meeting, declared that the dawn of Europe is beginning as the outgrowth of the work accomplished by the League of Nations meeting.

The German audience also was unusually generous in its applause of the Belgian senator, Henri de Fontaine, who pleaded for the removal of the tariff barriers to supplement the League of Nations' disarmament plans, and the French senator, Ferdinand Buisson, who paid tribute to the war dead of all nations as dying in the belief that their country was right.

The German contributions to the Pilsence peace prize contest have failed to measure up to the expectations of the German judges, who announce a division of the first prize money and a distribution of the winning amount in small allotments. The winners will be announced during the present week. The prize committee meanwhile is publishing excerpts from the prize winning plan.

There were 4100 contributions in the German contest.

JOHN W. DAVIS BEGINS TOUR OF N. Y. STATE

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—In harness again and somewhat rested by the Sunday holiday spent at his home in Locust Valley, John W. Davis, started out today to carry the campaign issues to the voters of New York state and appeal for their support of both the national and state democratic tickets, headed respectively by himself and Governor Alfred E. Smith.

A strenuous three-day speaking program faced the presidential nominee. He was first listed to address a gathering of workers in Schenectady industrial establishments late today, going from there to Albany for an evening address and remaining overnight as a guest at the executive mansion of Governor and Mrs. Smith. In response to an invitation extended by them, Tuesday and Wednesday were given over to a series of four speeches in Utica, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo.

BATTLED TO A SCORELESS TIE

In an exciting game at Shedd park yesterday, the Kenwood Rovers of the O.M.U. battled to a scoreless tie. Both eleven battled hard during the four periods of play, but great defensive work kept the goal lines from being crossed. The lineups were:

(JOHN W. DAVIS)

Dear Sirs:

I cannot too heartily commend your effort to have all eligible voters exercise their prerogative of citizenship.

A campaign to impress this upon every American citizen will have the unwavering cooperation of the Democratic Party of the United States.

Yours sincerely,

John W. Davis

The N. E. A. Service.

WASHINGTON

I understand from your representative that you are to undertake a campaign to impress upon the voters, without regard to party, their obligation to go to the polls at the coming election. I am in sympathy with every effort which tends to emphasize the fact that the right to vote is a duty as well as a privilege, and I am glad that you intend to bring this forcibly to the attention of your readers.

Very truly yours,

John W. Davis

(Newspaper Enterprise Assoc., Cleveland, Ohio.)

United States Bureau

Newspaper Enterprise Association, 1800 West Third Street, Cleveland, Ohio.

The right to vote be conferred upon every citizen. It is a precious right. Its exercise is a sacred duty. Every citizen should vote upon election day. The mere casting of a ballot, however, does not fully discharge this duty. Voters should scrutinize the records of candidates, study the issues, and vote in the light of their knowledge. Through intelligent voting, the American people can win peace, liberty and economic freedom for themselves and their children. Progressives wish every citizen to vote, because it is the cardinal principle of their faith that this Government belongs to the people.

Sincerely yours,

AMERICAN RED CROSS CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—With President Coolidge presiding and delivering the open address, hundreds of chapter delegates from all parts of the country were here today for the first sessions at Memorial Continental ball of the fourth annual convention of the American Red Cross. The convention will continue through Thursday.

Red Cross service problems in the general field as well as its work relating particularly to disabled war veterans form the subject of addresses at the morning session by John Barton Payne, president of the society; Director Hines of the Veterans' Bureau, and Colonel D. H. Pond, chairman of the Home Service section of the Cleveland (Ohio) chapter. The afternoon program was devoted to round table discussion under the subjects of public health nursing, first aid, war service, home hygiene and care of the sick.

GAVE LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

A lecture on Christian Science was given at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, yesterday by Algernon Harvey-Bathurst, C. S. B., of London, England, who also is a member of the board of lecturers of the Mother Church at Boston. The lecturer spoke in part as follows: "Let me say at the outset that, as its name indicates, Christian Science is pre-eminently Christian and scientific, and it is most interesting to note that the best informed thinkers and students of today are admitting that, after all, 'Christianity must be scientific, and that science and Christianity are not words quite incompatible, as so many have been in the habit of affirming. 'That which is scientific must be capable of proof or demonstration, and I feel confident that we shall see how we can each commence, without further delay, to avail ourselves of the peace, the health, the freedom, joy and satisfaction which await every honest student of this great subject; how we can demonstrate the truth regarding man, and, therefore, regarding ourselves. Christian Science gives assurance of salvation from any and all erroneous concepts of God, man, and the universe. In other words, Christian Science has given us again the true idea of God, has revealed God again, the same God of whom Jesus spoke when He said: 'But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him.' 'As Christians, we acknowledge Jesus as the wayshower. If, however, we take out of the vast variety of interpretations placed upon his teachings by the many different sects and churches, all claiming to be his followers, and find the few of them are in complete accord and still fewer maintain the all-important part of his teaching, namely, the healing of the sick as well as the reformation of the sinner. 'Christian Science teaches that the healing of sickness and the destruction of sin are both brought about in the same way, and are as necessarily proof of the understanding of the teaching of the Master today as they were admitted to be during the early part of the first century A. D. at the dawn of the Christian era. 'Whether in earlier times the Master said, 'to say, his sins be forgiven thee; or to say, arise, and walk.' 'The Christian Science movement is what it is today because it heals and heals permanently, and because it also destroys the desire or ability to sin.'"
